J. H. HELLER, Manager.

Congressman Shively, of South Bend, is of the opinion that Roosevelt will be the republican candidate for president on the republican ticket next year. He says that he would be willing to lay a nice sum that if the president were caught and searched plans and specifications for securing the nomination would be found in his pockets. Shively believes the candidacy of Taft is a scheme to make easy the nomination of Roosevelt, as the fight in Ohio between Taft and Foraker will prevent the convention from nominating him and start the tide Rooseveltward with such momentum as to be irresistible.—Columbia City Post.

Judge Erwin, of Decatur, has announced his intention of becoming a candidate for governor of Indiana subject to the will of the democratic party. The judge is well known and is one of the best democrats in the state. He is in the same district as Congressman Adair, who is also looking with longing eyes upon the gubernatorial nomination. But the avowed candidacy of Erwin will no doubt settle the matter with him. The 12th district expects to have a man in the race also—one for whose services there is an urgent demand in many parts of the state.—Columbia City Post.

When oats were 32 cents the Berne Grain and Hay company had an advertisement in this paper warning the farmers not to contract their crops. Those who red the ad. and governed themselves accordingly can now pat themselves on the back for having followed the advice, for oats is now 43 cents. It pays to read the ads. as well as anything else in a newspaper.—Berne Witness.

STATEMENT OF FIRST NATIONAL

They Publish a Statement of Their Resources and Liabilities.

Now comes the First National bank and in conformity to a call from the treasury department, publishes a statement of the condition of this well known banking house. LEHNE, The Jeweler

Richmond has opened a hard series of three games with Van Wert at Van Wert. The Buckeyes have recently been strengthened by new material and at the present time are playing the most consistent ball of any team in the league, with the possible exception of Decatur—Richmond Palladium.

CARD OF THANKS.

We desire to extend our heartfelt thanks for the sympathy, help and kind offices of our friends and neighbors during the death and burial of our son and brother, Richard C. Andrews. We wish especially to thank the Monroe Camp M. W. of A. the Pocahontas Lodge and the ladies of Decatur for their beautiful floral offerings.

Before a mere handful of fans and knockers Bluffton went down in defeat before the champions by a score of eight to four, and as a result the ball players of that city have not a person whom they can term their friend and the city of "asphalt pavement" is cast in gloom. In the eyes of the Bluffton management and players, Decatur was to be the pivot upon which they were going to show their reversal of form and at our expense they were expecting to steadily climb to the top of the percentage column. But hard was the blow, and instead of climbing up they were forced farther down in the cellar position, the place they expect to hold the remainder of the season. For three innings the Blufftonites looked as if they were going to make their threat good as they fell onto Laxon without any apparent trouble and registered four runs that looked mighty good to the fans. Captain Behringer, however, showed his base ball judgment and ordered "Biddy" Burns to warm up and show the Wells countyites what kind of stuff he was made of. Burns started in to do his deadly work in the third inning, and never ceased until the last man was out. During his short stay in the center of the diamond he made monkeys out of the "Giants" and did not permit a man to get as far as third. Behind such magnificent pitching the locals buckled down to business and in the fourth scored their first run and started on the road to victory. In the fifth we secured two more and finished up the job in the sixth by falling on Carmichael, the big curly haired pitcher, for four hits and five runs. It was a great battle to win and demonstrated the kind of stuff the locals are made. They never gave up even with a score of four to nothing staring them in the face. The feature of the game was the marvelous fielding of Behringer, Wallace and Weber and the hitting of third baseman Cullen. For Bluffton Vogel, their big catcher, was the whole cheese. The Bluffton aggregation is demoralized and the locals should experience no trouble in taking all four games from them. The handful of rooters that accompanied the team to Bluffton yelled themselves hoarse much to the discomfort of the Bluffton fans, many of whom left before the game was over. The same teams are playing again today. The score.

Behringer made a stop and threw in the eighth inning that caused every spectator to stand up and cheer. He was playing close to second and the ball was hit near first. Cap started after it, fell down, but grabbed the ball and retired his man. It certainly was a heady piece of work.

Johnson, the Bluffton outcast, did his share in yesterday's victory by securing two hits and two runs and also by putting up a star game in the outfield. Guess Johnson will do.

Weber played his usual steady game at first and picked up several throws out of the dirt and thus saved errors. Weber is without question the best in the league.

Umpire Gardiner, the newly appointed umps, did his duty in a very proficient manner and aside from two decisions, one of which favored the locals, and the other Bluffton, he experienced no trouble. His decisions on balls and strikes was excellent and not a kick was registered. Gardiner has the nerve and will certainly stick.

Catcher Quinn was in the game from start to finish and it was his terrific drive to the right field in the sixth that started most of the trouble.

Rab Hare jumped Kokomo Monday to join the Sioux City Western league team. The loss of Hare will be severely felt by the Wildcats as Rab has been playing a sensational game for them. Hare will make good with Sioux City as he is a fast, intelligent, hard working player. His pal, John Fisher, is pitching for Sioux City.

MOTT'S THE SPOT

Is the Verdict of Robert D. Beery

HE ARRIVED HOME TODAY

Gives an Account of the Outlook and Wonderful Growth of the Dakota Country.

Robert D. Beery, formerly of this city, but now Auditor of Hettinger county, North Dakota, arrived this morning having been absent for a little better than two years. Mr. Beery first went to North Dakota in 1905 and was so impressed with the country that he decided to make it his home. At that time there were only 300 people in the county. There are now 6,000 people, which will give our readers a pretty fair indication of the progress of this country.

One of the best evidences of progress is the fact that there are nine new school houses in the Mott district alone. This district comprises four townships. These schools are all well attended and will have to be added to in the near future. Mr. Beery has about 80 acres of wheat and oats and says both crops are looking fine. He has about 6 acres in corn, which looks promising. His wheat and oats are all in shock. The wheat will average about 15 bushel per acre and the oats 40 bushels. Mr. Beery says he never saw a more prosperous and contented people, especially in a new country and he is pleased to know that so many of his old Indiana friends have settled in Hettinger county, and he strongly advises more of them to do likewise. About three months ago two enterprising young men from Iowa started the Mott State bank with a capital of $10,000. They have already deposits aggregating nearly $75,000 and their business is increasing at such a rate that they have been obliged to employ additional help.

All lines of business in Mott, which is the county seat of Hettinger county, are thriving and there are many fine openings for business enterprises. The Cannon Ball Telephone Co. has recently been organized to operate from Mott to Richardson. The permanent survey of the Northern Pacific Ry., the southwest branch, has recently been completed and there is now every indication that the road will be built through Mott next year. Mr. Beery declares with all his heart that "Mott's the spot."

Johnson, the Bluffton outcast, did his share in yesterday's victory by securing two hits and two runs and also by putting up a star game in the outfield. Guess Johnson will do.

Hoagland, Ind., August 26.—The Hoagland Switchboard association has elected the following officers for the ensuing year: President, George Shockman; vice president, B. McIntosh; secretary, John T. Tackler; treasurer, F. C. Hubler; directors, William Scheuman, H. Reiter and William Melchiver.

The report of the secretary showed the association to be in an excellent financial condition, with prospects bright for future business and for the addition to the line of new patrons. The association only recently installed a new switchboard of 100-line capacity of the Monarch type, making it possible to multiply the number of patrons.

ATTENTION POST.

The members of Sam Henry post G. A. R. are requested to meet at the hall this evening at 8 o'clock to make arrangements for attending the funeral of Comrade Reckard, Commander.

HOLDS AN EXALTED POSITION.

The important engagement of the near future at the Bosse Opera House Decatur, Indiana, Saturday, September the 14th is that of Fred G. Conrad's company in his own special production of "Monte Cristo." That the greatest of all romantic dramas will receive a presentation fully in keeping with its exalted position among the plays of the English speaking stage, it is reasonable to expect, both from the reputation of Mr. Conrad as a manager and from the fact that he is using the production which is one of the best of modern Dantes arranged for him, Eugene Moore. For several seasons Mr. Moore toured in the play and presented it with great success in all the leading cities. The valuable results of his experience in the play as star and director of the company are evident, Mr. Moore being a scholar and a supporter of the best in the drama. It will be a complete scenic production with a thoroughly capable company.
