THEY HAVE LEARNED THE LESSON

Now that the Bulletin and News have consolidated, Anderson has two newspapers, an evening publication and a morning issue. Some years ago, in this state and elsewhere, there was a boom in the newspaper business. The result was a novel supply of journals. In smaller, growing towns, especially, there was a tendency to crowd the field. As a result, little or no money was to be made by any competing paper. The Spanish-American war made new and large demands on these papers. Competition was fierce. They exerted themselves unduly in keeping a fast pace. They called it progressiveness. They proposed to keep up with the times, and to give their patrons the best in the market, no matter what the cost. The thing was overdone. Many newspapers assumed burdens and expenses during the war that they were not able to drop afterwards. Competition, a false pride and an effort to put on a metropolitan front, continued to sap the vitality of papers in several limited fields. Common sense is taking hold in various cities. The days of boom growth are over, and the newspapers are fitting into their places on a basis of profit and business judgment. Richmond, Muncie, and now Anderson, have learned the lesson. Experience has taught that two papers are sufficient in a city of 25,000 people.—Indianapolis Sun.

"All's well, that Ends Well" is the title of one of the prettiest picture stories ever shown at the electric theater and which will be given this evening and tomorrow. It tells the old, sweet story of loves faithfulness, the happy young couple's wedding, banishment from the bride's home by a stern father and how the little son finally won his grandfather to forgiveness.

HOW THEY AVERAGE

The Batting and Fielding Percentages

JOHNSON LEADS THE BUNCH

Locals Lost an Exhibition Game at Geneva—Kokomo Here this Afternoon.

Through the courtesy of official scorer Fred Vaughn, we herewith publish the batting and fielding averages of the respective members of the team up to and including Sunday's game. The official scorer gives the real credit to Johnson, our center fielder, who is now plugging the ball at a .338 clip. The dope shows that we have five men over the three hundred mark and several others who are crowding the mark closely. Winger still leads in the fielding average, he having made but one error in twenty-one games. The remainder of the team are closely bunched in their fielding averages and all have clean and respective records. The following dope tells the tale.

THE BEST OF ALL.

In a list of a thousand plays, which might be submitted to the American public to choose from in voting for the ten of the greatest popularity, "Monte Cristo" would be likely to get the most votes. The kinds of plays that can be written, the romantic drama and the melodrama. In both respects this great play is pre-eminent. The production which is to be seen at the Bosse Opera House, Decatur, Ind., Saturday, September 14th, has the authority of one of the most thoroughly trained and accomplished leading actors on the English or American stage, Eugene Moore, who through presentations of the play in all the leading cities and during several entire seasons has brought his part of Dantes and the play to a finely complete and finished condition. Mr. Moore, who is a scholar as well as actor and stage director, has provided a production of "Monte Cristo" which may well be expected to reveal the full power that made it famous.

A Personal Matter

WHEN WE sell you a vehicle we make it a personal matter. We sell you the best your money can buy. We stay right here where you can find us as long as the vehicle is in use, and we are just as interested in the wear and satisfaction it gives as you can possibly be. We have about 100 different styles and finishes, which can be found in our well-stocked repository. We have some wonderful values in all grades of work. In other words we can give you just what you want at the price you ought to pay. The man who is attracted by the delusive price of catalog houses pays dearly for his supposed economy. Our stock includes all grades of buggies, surreys, runabouts, stanhopes and Concords, all worthy of our personal backing. We want your patronage and believe we are entitled to it by the divine right of superior goods. Come in any time and look—looks are free.

Don't forget our Harness Department.

We are making the effort of our life in this department. Look it over.
