The lecture to be delivered at the Presbyterian church next Monday night promises to be very interesting and no doubt a large audience will greet Mr. McIntosh. Miss Joyce Keifer returned to Toledo, Ohio, where she has been nursing for some time, after being called here to nurse her mother, who has been very ill, but is improving very nicely now. The people of Washington township are having much to say about the election that is to be held for the purpose of voting $8,000 to the Fort Wayne & Springfield Interurban for its extension to Monroe. It is a project that no one can afford to turn down as it will be a blessing to our community. Michael McGriff, whose livery barn and saloon burned down last week, reports that the insurance on the barn was $800 and on the saloon building and stock there was $750 insurance. He is yet undecided as to whether he will rebuild the building. The McGriff corner now presents a very odd appearance, since the fire.—Geneva Herald.

On last Saturday night a four room house recently bought by John Brown burned down. The house was near the G. R. & I. river bridge, and the fire was doubtless of incendiary origin. Mr. Brown had purchased the house intending to move it on the Long farm which he recently purchased. John Hoffsteter had some farming implements stored in the house and there was no insurance on either the house or contents.—Geneva Herald.

Miss Ella Bell arrived home from Monroe last evening. Father George came home last evening from a business trip. F. D. Annen went to Fort Wayne this morning to transact business. Mrs. Emma Hirschy, of Berne, passed through the city this noon to Fort Wayne to visit a few days with her sister. John Hirschy, of Berne, passed through the city to Fort Wayne to be the guest of his aunt, who lives in that city. Prof. Colvin, the hypnotist, who is doing the stunts for the Pictorial this week, made his blindfolded mad drive at 2:30 this afternoon. Dr. Whitcombe hid a shoe buttoner and the professor drove down Second street a mile or so and returned with the buttoner between his teeth. Several hundred people witnessed the performance. Tuesday and Wednesday the Fort Wayne district Presbyterian Ministerial society will hold its annual session at Ossian. This will be the occasion of the thirty-second anniversary of meetings, and a large attendance is anticipated. There will be fully one hundred and twenty-five delegates present at the gathering, which will be an all day affair. Special pains have been taken for the receiving and entertaining of the visitors, and very interesting programs have been arranged for both the afternoon and evening meetings. A returned missionary from Persia will address the audience at both occasions.
