A PUBLIC SALE

Our lease with Uncle Sam having practically expired and having decided to quit the business and retire to private life, we, the undersigned, will offer at Public Sale, at our residence at the Capitol in Washington, D. C., commencing on the fourth day of November, 1908, the following described property, to-wit:

One elephant about forty-five years old; one financial panic, old enough to wean, sired by the gold bugs and damned by everybody; one republican platform, as good as new, but somewhat moss worn; one big stick, slightly impaired by overwork; one republican machine, the same being somewhat out of repair; one financial system, well supplied with clearing house certificates and a little cash; 5,000,000 Teddy Bears; old dinner pails and other articles too numerous to mention.

Everybody, regardless of past party affiliations or previous political servitude, is invited to attend this sale. It is expected that most of the articles herein mentioned will be bid on by the Stand Patters, but everything will be on the square and all articles will be sold. There will be no by-bidders. Possession of property will be given March 4, 1909.

Roast Crow will be served on the grounds by the Young Men's Republican Club. The sale will positively take place on the date mentioned regardless of the weather.

OURS

THE ONLY

Probably ours is the only government in the world, certainly the only civilized government, that would deliberately increase expenditures in the face of an obviously declining revenue. We have spent $66,000,000 more this year than last. And there is no suggestion from any responsible source that we ought to economize in any direction. On the contrary, there was an insistent demand from the president that we spend $40,000,000 at the very least, for four great battleships, an amount almost one-third as large as our present total naval expenditures even on the present inflated basis. Of course it is true that, under our present system, no one knows, or can know, much of what is going on. In a recent utterance Mr. Cortelyou, secretary of the treasury, expressed regret that the law compelled him to make estimates, which he said, "are, for the most part, problematical." How problematical they were in this case will be clear when we remember that Mr. Cortelyou figured that there would be a surplus for this year, the year ending with June, of $42,000,000. As we now see the deficit is likely to be considerably in excess of $60,000,000. As most of our revenue is derived from taxes on consumption, and as consumption depends on the condition of business, it is manifest that any estimates of the secretary of the treasury must be "largely problematical." No private business that was conducted in accordance with such principles could hope to avoid bankruptcy.—Indianapolis News.

The inability of the Indianapolis, Terre Haute and Muncie Stars to meet their obligations is not a surprise to newspaper men who understand the ins and outs of a daily newspaper plant. No business requires more careful and painstaking management than a daily newspaper, to make both ends meet. It is extremely doubtful whether a corporation-owned newspaper, conducted wholly by employed help, can be made to pay in any of the towns or cities of Indiana. The city of Indianapolis might possibly be an exception, but only after the paper had been built up by individual effort.—South Bend Times.

HAIR SLAUGHTER.
Many Men and Women Kill Healthy Hair by Negligence.

Hair must have nourishment or die. If it does not have proper nourishment it will lose its vitality, grow weak, and become an easy prey to the ravages of the vicious and destructive germs of dandruff.

Parisian Sage is a hair nourisher; it is the result of sincere study and experiment by one of the world's leading scientists.

It should be used regularly as a hair dressing by every one with healthy hair, because it never fails to prevent dandruff, falling hair, or any disease of the scalp or hair. But Parisian Sage is not only a preventive it is a certain cure for dandruff; it stops itching of the scalp instantly; it makes hair grow thick and luxuriant. It is especially in demand by ladies, because it makes the hair beautiful, soft and fluffy. Holthouse Drug Co. sells it under a positive guarantee to do all that is claimed for it, or money back. 50 cents for a generous bottle at Holthouse Drug Co., or by express, charges prepaid, by the American makers, the Giroux Mfg. Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

A great many people imagine they have heart trouble when the fact is that the whole trouble lies in the stomach. The pains in the side around the region of the heart are not necessarily heart trouble. We suggest that you start with the stomach and whenever you feel a depression after eating or whenever your food seems to nauseate take Kodol. It will not be very long until all these "heart pains" will disappear. Take Kodol now and until you know you are right again. There isn't any doubt about what it will do and you will find the truth of this statement verified after you have used Kodol for a few weeks. It is sold here by B. Doolittle.

WAS A GREAT GAME

The Local Ball Team Was Defeated in a Well Played Game

SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Robison Did Splendid Work in the Box and Support Was Good

The small crowd that wended their way to the ball park yesterday afternoon saw one of the snappiest games of ball ever witnessed on the diamond, when the locals and the Fort Wayne Greys engaged in a nine inning battle for honors. Cal Robison, the old reliable was on the firing line for the locals, Clifford Bales held down the third sack and his brother gracefully occupied the initial cushion, which in connection with the fast work of the remaining players, kept interest at high tension throughout the game. Chamberlain, a veteran southpaw, decorated the center mound for the visitors and let the locals down with one hit, which accounts for their defeat, to the tune of three to nothing. Robison pitched a phenomenal game, and was also stingy with his hits, the hard hitting Fort Wayne boys securing but five off his delivery. It was Cal's first game of the season, and he handed up an assortment of shorts and benders that made his opponents turn sideways. Curley Elles acquitted himself grandly on the second bag. He gathered several fast ones from the weeds without having a single error chalked against him. Peterson, France, Coffee and the Bales boys did good work and with the same lineup Captain Pennington can make most the independent clubs in this section of the state bite the dust. The locals will play at Muncie next Sunday.

LIKES THE COUNTRY

Amos Foreman Writes About His Prosperity in Washington

WEATHER IS FINE

He Will Get to See and Visit the Evans Big Pacific Fleet

A letter received today from Amos Foreman formerly of this city, who now owns a meat market at Puyallup, Washington, conveys the welcome news that he is enjoying prosperity and good health in that far off state. He states that business is on the boom and the weather has been warm and pleasant and that sprinkling wagons have been in operation there for more than four weeks, the dust was so thick. It was not cold enough there to freeze potatoes any time during the winter months and fruit has been in bloom for some time. Mr. Foreman also states that he and family will get to see and visit the Bob Evans big Pacific fleet at Tacoma the last of this month as they live but eight miles from Tacoma. It is indeed good news to Decatur people to hear that Mr. Foreman is doing so well, and likes the climate so much. He asks us to remember him to his many friends and says that he hears from them through the Democrat.

He is resting easy and hopes for his recovery are stronger than for several weeks.

IT REACHED THE SPOT.

Mr. E. Humphrey, who owns a large general store at Omega, O., and is president of the Adams County Telephone Co., as well as of the Home Telephone Co., of Pike county, O., says of Dr. King's New Discovery: "It saved my life once. At least I think it did. It seemed to reach the spot—the seat of my cough—when everything else failed." Dr. King's New Discovery not only reaches the cough spot; it heals the sore spots and the weak spots in throat, lungs and chest. Sold under guarantee at all dealers. 50c and $1.00. IT IS STILL UNSETTLED.

Harry Grove Raised the Edge and Now Wants $250.

V. D. Bell, of Craigville, was in town this morning and he reported that the French Township Insurance Company controversy, due to a disagreement with Ed Zimmerman, who has had charge of the books of the secretary since the departure of Harry Grove for Texas, is still unsettled. Zimmerman still has the books in his charge and refuses to turn them over and the company has not yet started any proceedings to replevin them, although this will likely be done if a settlement cannot be reached otherwise. Part of the trouble in the matter was due to the fact that the company had refused to allow a claim of $175 for transferring names of policy holders into a new book. Instead of helping matters in this respect Mr. Bell said this morning that Grove had written a letter in which he now asks an additional $75 or a total of $250.—Bluffton News.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Hawk, of Fulton, Ind., who visited over Sunday with Joseph Hooser south of town, returned home this morning.

A WONDERFUL SIRE

From Him Two-Thirds of the Harness Speeders Trace Their Descent

ON TRACK BUT ONCE

Monarch of the Stud Produced 1,869 Foals and Earned Large Fortune

Detroit, Mich., May 4.—In the history of all nations there are certain epochs resplendent with the deeds of some statesman, general, or monarch, so that they seem as milestones by which we count the progress of events. So, in the history of the turf, there have been periods when prominence of certain horses has been so marked that to mention the years in which they flourished is but to recall their names.

The name of Rysdyk's Hambletonian "10" has for many years been a household word. No horse ever foaled except, perhaps, his grandson, Messenger, has ever had the prestige as a sire that Hambletonian "10" has had. Hambletonian's light will never fade away. The light harness horse in this country certainly owes its greenness and perfection to a great extent, to that bay stallion. He stands at the highest pinnacle of fame. His influence in the stud has marked an era in trotting horse history, and in the future he will be looked back to as one of the greatest representative horses of the age.

His Only Record Was 2:48.

Whether or not development is necessary in order to enable animals which have a speed inheritance to transmit speed to their offspring is an interesting question to breeders of trotting stock. That inheritance has always been a more potent factor than development, in imparting speed ability, is susceptible of easy and emphatic demonstration by the stud book. The fastest trotters have never yet been produced by the mating of the fastest of trotting mares with the trotting stallions which have made the fastest records. No horse that has ever had the world's champion record for trotting stallions has yet sired a world's champion. The case of Hambletonian demonstrates the fact that inheritance is a more potent factor than development in producing speed ability. Hambletonian was never trained for speed. He was never hitched to a sulky, and he was never on a track but once in his life. He was never speeded a mile but once; when he was 3 years old he was harnessed in a mile in 2:48, hitched to a wagon. Sold for $125.

Hambletonian was foaled May 5, 1849, the property of Jonas Seely, of Goshen, Orange county, N. Y. When but a few weeks old he was purchased with his dam by William Rysdyk of the neighboring town of Chester, the price being $125 for mare and foal. At that time Mr. Rysdyk was a poor man and gave his note for the dam and foal. Hambletonian was sired by Abdallah, he by Mambrino, he by Imported Messenger. Hambletonian's dam was the Charles Kent mare, bred by Imported Bellfounder. Her dam was One Eye, by Bishop's Hambletonian, he by Imported Messenger.

Hambletonian was a deep rich mahogany colored bay horse, fifteen and one-half hands high, with black legs, mane and tail. His head was rather large and bony, with a deep jowl and a large, prominent eye. His nostril was very large and expansive, neck rather short, but clean; his mane and foretop were rather sparse, but he had a large flowing tail. His legs had broad feet and clean, with one white ankle. He was a heavy boned horse, with well formed knees and hocks. No sculptor ever carved from marble or fashioned in bronze a finer modeled limb or foot.

Descendant of Messenger.

Hambletonian affords an instance of triple inbreeding to the great Messenger that crossed the Atlantic in 1788, whose name was a talisman for trotting value, yet never so great as when derived through Rysdyk's Hambletonian. Hambletonian was broke when two years old. He was always exercised on the road. At two years of age he was bred to five mares at a service fee of $10. The first mare he ever served was Katy Darling, who produced the great sire, Alexander's Abdallah, that lives in history as the sire of Goldsmith Maid, 2:14, the greatest trotter ever on the turf. She was on the turf sixteen years and trotted 332 heats in 2:30 to 2:14, and she won $325,000 in matches and purses. At three years of age Hambletonian served thirty mares at a service fee of $15. From three years to five years his service fee was $25, from five
