J. H. HELLER, Manager.

It is said to be a historical fact that no candidate for president, who took the stump for himself, has ever been elected. If this precedent holds good in this campaign, the only candidate with a chance for election is the nominee of the Socialist-Labor ticket—he being in the Montana state prison, can't get out to make speeches.—South Bend Times.

The recent Republican platform is a bugle call to every beneficiary of special privilege, to enlist again under the Republican banner, and when the election is over and the Republican committee publishes the list of contributors—too late to make the information valuable—it will be found that the Republican party has again so obligated itself to the protected interests as to be unable to make a revision of the tariff in the interest of the consumers.—W. J. Bryan at Des Moines, Iowa.

The Republican campaign committee has already begun the fat-frying process. The Indianapolis News, an independent Republican paper, says that "the Republican organization is made up of trust magnates, of the speaker acting through agents, of one of the speaker's representatives in dealing with the trusts, and of the rules committee which controls the action of the house. No man who gives money needs do so without and everybody in Jay county know it knowing exactly what he is to get for it, or without the assurances that he will get it.

Mr. Herman Ridder, of New York, editor of the Staats Zeitung, who has recently visited Mr. Bryan, is quoted as saying: "From careful observation I am now convinced that the Democratic national ticket will be elected this fall. I told Mr. Bryan so. This opinion is not based on wild hopes, neither does desire sway me in forming it, but it is the result of a careful canvass made by myself and many friends since the Denver convention adjourned. There will be many surprises when the result of the vote is known. I have found in every section of the country bitter resentment against Republicans, among members of their own party, because of the attitude of leaders on the tariff question."

Senator Hawkins, who is running for congress against Mr. Adair, flooded Bluffton with printed letters yesterday, telling the voters what a wonderful fellow he is, has been and will be if they will just elect him to congress. The senator has one paragraph in his letter that is absolutely funny: "I will not indulge in any campaign mud slinging but will leave that to my opponents. For the past eight months the partisan press of my opponent has misrepresented and maligned me personally, but as yet have not been able to point to any defects in my public or private life or record." Holy smoke, senator, what do you call maligned? What did you call it when you hired Rev. McCarty to write the letter he did for the Muncie Star? What did you call it when you caused the Sulloway letters to be printed when you knew they were false? What did you call it when you hired Bert Patterson to go over Adair's books at $8 per day to make a report such as should suit your purpose? You know of this report is not true and is being so proven every day. What do you call it when you tell people over the district that Adair is a grafter, when you gives money needs do so without is not so? What do you call it when you hire men to go over the district telling soldiers that Adair's father was a member of the Knights of the Golden Circle during the war and that Mr. Adair himself says mean and vicious things about the old soldiers? What was your purpose in bringing suit against the supposed drug trust in Portland and have Mr. Adair's name appear as the principal defendant when you know he is not actively engaged in the drug business? How about the thousand and one things you and your son, Morton, have printed in such papers as the Redkey Times at so much per line; things you know are not true?

Now, the trouble with you, senator, is that there is not a republican paper in the district that is for you and you have no chance to exploit your nastiness except among a few of the boys that need the money and take yours, knowing it will do you no good. What the democratic papers have said about you is pretty nearly correct and your dog-in-the-manger tactics will not win. Why don't the Portland Review, your republican paper, come to your rescue? Haven't even mentioned your name as a candidate so far.—Bluffton Banner.

The Wedding Anniversaries of Evans and Rice families Celebrated

Miss Frances Merryman gave a linen shower last evening in honor of Miss Marie Beery, a September bride-to-be. The guests were entertained by a darning contest, Mrs. Jesse Dailey winning the prize, which she presented to the bride. As each guest arrived she placed her gift in a large paper bag and the bag was then suspended from the grill work in the doorway. The guest of honor was seated under the bag and as a string was pulled, the gifts were showered upon her. At six o'clock the guests found their places in the dining room by descriptive place cards, the bride being seated at the head of the table in a chair beautifully decorated in white with a huge bouquet of white asters tied with white ribbons and a three-course luncheon was served. The guests were Misses Pansy Bell, Lucile Hale, Edna Huffman, Fanny Frisinger, Winnifred Johnson and Mesdames D. W. Beery, Jesse Dailey, Dyke Frisinger and Dan R. Vail.

The 11th of September is a date long to be remembered by the families of D. M. Rice and John R. Evans. It being their wedding date, also the latter's birthday. As has been the custom they spent the anniversary together, and this year, while at the Evans' home, quietly indulging in reminiscences the peaceful calm was broken by an unearthly din which proved to be their friends giving them an old-time belling to celebrate their 25th anniversary. The following with their families were present: Mr. and Mrs. S. Fuhrman, W. A. Ponner, S. Magley, L. J. Houk, C. E. Magley, C. D. Kunkle, J. C. Houk, O. E. Fritzingler, Francis Fuhrman, Earl Bennett.

Mrs. H. R. Coverdale entertained at dinner yesterday in honor of Mrs. P. R. Hoagland and Mrs. Smith, of Zanesville, Ohio. Those present besides the honored guests were Mrs. D. D. Clark and Mrs. Fortney of this city.

The Eastern Star chapter met at the Masonic hall last evening and transacted their regular business, after which refreshments were served and a sociable time had by all.

ANOTHER LETTER

miles of statistics, also its cosmopolitan character. The most perfect type of colonial architecture copied from old Virginia, along side those modern in every particular, all however, surrounded by beautiful lawn as green and smooth as velvet, broken only by beds of exquisite flowers. Strange as it may seem, in what thirty-five years ago was considered a bleak uninhabitable country, flowers and vines grow to splendid perfection, Duluth claims the finest high school building in the world. In fact, Minnesota has everywhere the very best school buildings. And well she may. Her school fund is raised by a tax on iron ore. The state gets twenty-five cents for every ton of ore that is mined. This is put into a fund and only the interest used. Eventually Minnesota will be able to give every boy and girl in the state not only a common school education, but a university course as well. A Y. M. C. A. building erected by the women at the cost of $100,000 is one of the finest in the country. Our drive took us over the brow of the hill back of the city. As we drove along swarms of foreign children ran beside the tallyho crying penny, penny. It was great fun to see them grab for the pennies as we threw them to the side of the road. At the highest point we got a bird's-eye view of the city and harbor, which enabled us to appreciate the supremacy Duluth now enjoys and the magnificent future before her. Looking out over the blue waters of Lake Superior, as far as eye can reach vessels of all descriptions coming and going, hundreds of them lying at anchor in the harbor, miles upon miles of railroad track spreading out like a net work to the docks, saw mills as far as one can see along the shore, activity, hustle, hurry everywhere. An awakening to the marvelous resources of the great country to which Duluth is the gateway.

RESOLUTIONS OF GORROW.

The power so much dreaded among men, death, was visited our Aid Society of Mt. Pleasant M. E. church, removing from our circle, Sister Ida Hoagland last Friday morning, Sept. 4th, 1908. She was in her thirty-sixth year of her age. Sister Hoagland leaves a husband, three dear little children and numerous other relatives to mourn their loss. The sisterhood is brought to a timely warning that death is abroad in the land. They deeply sympathize with the mourning ones and look forward to that time when they shall be gathered in the home on high where sorrow and sighing shall flee away forever. At this a regular society meeting, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, In view of the loss we have sustained by the decease of our friend and sister, Mrs. Ida Hoagland, and of the still heavier loss sustained by those who were nearest and dearest to her, therefore be it resolved, That it is but a just tribute to the memory of the departed to say that, in regretting her removal from our midst we mourn for one who was in every way worthy of our respect and regard.

Resolved, That we sincerely condole with the family of the deceased of the dispensation which it has pleased Divine Providence to afflict them, and commend them for consolation to Him who orders all things for the best, and whose chastisements are meant in mercy.

Resolved, That this heartfelt testimony of our sympathy and sorrow be forwarded to the husband of the departed sister by the secretary of this society.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent for publication.
