More spice and ginger was added to the campaign by the addition of a red hot reply and retort by Senator Foraker to the charge of Hearst and the counter charge of the president. The senator was in good form, and answered his defamers in the characteristic Foraker style. There is evidently more to follow and before the campaign progresses much further, more dirty linen will find its way to the political laundry, which will likely be working overtime before election day. It is expected that the campaign contributions of four years ago, will play an important part, and Alton B. Parker will have his inning. In fact every one has a show this year, and as a result the public will know much that has heretofore been mysteriously talked about in parables.

Foraker seems to be the victim of circumstances. The Republican words are still left full of Standard Oil "attorneys," both in and out of congress, of sugar ring "attorneys," of steel trust "attorneys," posing as statesmen. What is Cannon but a trust "attorney?" What else is Aldrich? They have syndicated the government. Why balk at Foraker? Through forty years the Republican party has been the "attorney" of every ring and ringster, of every job and jobber, which has appeared at Washington having a graft big enough to tempt the steering committee of the senate; the rules committee of the house, from high tariff, always at the front, to high finance, seeing monopoly in every known commodity—sugar, steel, iron—enriching Republican statesmen and making a mockery of popular interests. The senate is crowded with trust attorneys. It is too late for the Republicans to make a scapegoat of Foraker.—Henry Watterson, in Louisville Courier-Journal.

Charles G. Dawes was comptroller of the currency under Mr. McKinley. Since 1902 he has been president of the Central Trust company of Chicago. Writing in The Public, Louis F. Post calls attention to the fact that several years ago Mr. Dawes wrote a book entitled "The Banking System of the United States." The following is taken from Mr. Post's article: In describing in that book the "present need of our national banking system," Mr. Dawes distinctly argues for the insurance idea that Bryan advocated in congress and upon which his campaign is now advancing in the west. Referring to a proposed law, advocated by Bryan in congress, which would have levied a tax upon national banks for the purpose of creating a fund for the insurance of deposits, Mr. Dawes wrote: "National banking statistics show that a fund of the necessary amount would soon be created by a comparatively small tax upon each national bank. It must certainly be admitted that the establishment of such a fund would have a tendency to prevent the mad rushes of small and large depositors during times of panic, for money which they hoard away in safety deposit boxes or other hiding places. * * If the effect of such a law would be to render bank deposits more stable under all conditions, as in our judgment would be the case, no law could be of more value and importance to the debtor, or to the creditor, or to the community at large. * * Besides the great importance of the law, as related to the general prosperity of the country, it is meritorious as preventing the keen suffering in those localities where bank failures occur, and where the hard-earned savings of the community, under our present laws, are often swept away. By such a law, losses are distributed as by insurance, the beneficial effects of which need no argument. To the passage of such a law in proper form, we trust the efforts of congress will be directed."

THIRD DISCOURSE

Dr. Wilcox Will Lecture on "Our Mother Eve and the Lost Atlantis"

TOMORROW EVENING

The Third of the Series of Bible Lectures—Excellent Musical Program

The third of the series of the most interesting Bible lectures being given by Dr. C. B. Wilcox will be delivered tomorrow evening and inasmuch as the discourse gives promise of even eclipsing the two former lectures, it is assured that the spacious auditorium and lecture room will be comfortably occupied by the largest audience of the year. The theme itself "Our Mother Eve and the Lost Atlantis" is indicative of an interesting service, and the able minister will go back 12,000 years in history, depicting interesting thoughts and incidents which will bear upon the all important theme. As a historian Dr. Wilcox has but few peers in this section, and his knowledge of ancient history employed cleverly in his themes, has made him very popular as a lecturer. Besides the lecture, an unusually good musical program will be rendered consisting of the following: Two organ numbers by Mrs. E. B. Bell, "Gloria" from Farmer's twelfth mass, and "Communion" by George Hamer. Men's chorus, "For God So Loved the World." Ladies' quartet, "Unerring Guide." Anthem "O Come and Let us Sing Unto the Lord." The public is cordially invited to enjoy the program.

HE PLEASED THEM

Congressman Adair is Well Liked at Berne

THROWS NO MUD

He Discussed the Issues and Made Himself Solid

Hon. J. A. M. Adair was in town Wednesday evening and addressed a large gathering on the street on the issues of this congressional district. He made a clear straightforward statement of his record in congress, and cleared himself easily of the charges spread out by a certain Earl Patterson, regarding alleged overcharges he is accused to have made some fifteen to eighteen years ago while clerk of the Jay circuit court. His speech was absolutely non-partisan, having nothing to do whatever with the current issues of the two great parties, except incidentally a brief mention of the tariff on lumber, which he sought to have reduced by congress. He spent considerable time on his efforts in the way of pension legislation in congress and showed several letters which he received from army posts from many different places in the state and the country thanking him for the success of his labors in congress in behalf of soldiers' widows, and he cleared himself of the charges circulated all over this district, which were contained in the so-called Sulloway letters published in Republican newspapers. Not for a moment did he stoop to "sling mud" at his political opponent, but easily defended and cleared himself from just such dirty tactics presumably instigated by his political opponent. He presented a signed statement by the Portland bar, judge and other contemporary county officials from both parties, emphatically denying the charges made by said "accountant," Earl Patterson, of Muncie, presumably employed by Mr. Hawkins, and published in an unsigned pamphlet and scattered broadcast over the district that Mr. Adair while clerk of the Jay circuit court, had robbed the people of the county of many thousand dollars through overcharges of fees during his three years' incumbency of said office some eighteen years ago. He urged the people of Berne to invite his political opponent to come to Berne and in the same clear and open manner present to them his record and what he proposes to do in congress, and he was heartily cheered by the audience for this suggestion. Mr. Adair has certainly strengthened the high esteem of him held by men of all parties in this locality.—Berne Witness.

SPREAD LIKE WILDFIRE.

A few years ago there was introduced into America a cure for dandruff, falling hair and all scalp disease.

This hair renewer did not attract much attention for some months, until a progressive business man, hearing of several almost magical cures, decided to tell the American people of its mighty power to destroy the deadly dandruff germ.

And today, without any sensational or untruthful advertising, Parisian Sage is used extensively in almost every town in America. And what has produced this great demand? Simply this: Parisian Sage does just what we are telling the readers of Decatur it will do.

We claim, and we back our claim with Holthouse Drug Co.'s money back guarantee, that Parisian Sage is the most invigorating and rejuvenating hair tonic. It cures dandruff, stops falling hair and itching scalp; it makes the hair grow strong and vigorous, yet soft and lustrous. It is the only hair dressing that reaches the root bulb of the hair and destroys the dandruff germ.

And to the women who are reading this simple statement of fact, we want to say that Parisian Sage works wonders with women's hair. It will turn dull, harsh and faded hair into beautiful, lustrous hair in a few days, and is the most pleasant and satisfying hair dressing any woman ever used.

"My hair was falling out rapidly when I heard of your guaranteed hair restorer. The first application removed the itching, my hair stopped falling out, and it is soft, glossy and pliable."—Carrie Williams, 844 Clinton Ave. S., Rochester, N. Y.

Holthouse Drug Co. sell Parisian Sage for 50 cents a large bottle, or it can be obtained direct from the makers, Giroux Mfg. Co., Buffalo, N. Y., all charges prepaid.

FUNERAL TOMORROW.

Remains of Mrs. Haggard to Be Laid at Rest.

The funeral of Mrs. John Haggard, of Monroe township, will be held at the Pleasant Valley church tomorrow morning at ten o'clock, the Rev. Hollingsworth officiating. Burial will take place at the Smith Chapel church. The untimely death of this most estimable lady has caused much sorrow. Having just reached the age of thirty-six years, she was in the prime of life, and was enjoying her surroundings as only a happy woman could. The grief stricken relatives are joined by many friends in their hour of bereavement.
