Governor Hanly is said to have 157

lectures, booked for next year and after the fame of the special legislative session gets out he ought to be able to fill the open dates. And, what is more, the governor insists upon being paid for his talk.

It is certainly time now that the temperance people of the state were paying some attention to the Columbia Club, the Republican blind tiger. At this fashionable party home it is possible to secure intoxicating drinks at any hour of the day or night.

Jim Watson was taken sick while speaking at LaFayette and the physician has ordered him to quit public speaking. Jim always enjoyed excellent health until Tom Marshall began making campaign speeches. Oh, of course, there have been a few times while attending sessions of the Columbia Club that Jim has been unable to speak but he always got better in a day or two.—Portland Sun.

During the special session of the legislature last week James E. Watson, Republican candidate for governor, stayed about the state house lobbying for partisan measures—working hand in glove with the Republican state machine. On the other hand, Thomas R. Marshall, the Democratic candidate for governor, continued his campaign in the state and remained away from Indianapolis. He had advised the Democratic members to vote as the party platform and their consciences dictated. Beyond that he did not go. And the Marshall way is better than the Watson way.

While Mr. Taft was making a speech to the Republican clubs in Cincinnati last week a man in the gallery asked him what he was "going to do with the unemployed." In answer Mr. Taft said:

"I'll tell you what I would do with the unemployed. I would have them vote the Republican ticket this fall and they will get employment."

This is mere assertion. The Republican party is in power, and yet for a year millions of men have been out of employment. If the Republican party can give employment to men who "vote the Republican ticket this fall," why did it take employment away from them.

her no more. The lady had paid fifty cents for a position but the company made no offer to return the 50 cents. Other ladies have received similar treatment. As far as the ladies not being competent is concerned this is a lame excuse because Mrs. McDowell had secured a large number of the best seamstresses in the city.—Bluffton News.

NEED THE MONEY

New York Giving the Republican's Lots of Trouble

TAMMANY IN LINE

They Have the Money to Make a Lively Campaign

New York, Sept. 30.—Chairman Fitchcock did not appear at Republican headquarters yesterday until late. Instead he held an important conference with members of the national committee at his hotel. The financial crisis of the campaign was under consideration. The Republican committee enjoys excellent credit, but this year it is called on to help the state committee make the New York fight. The state committee has shown small disposition to raise funds for a fight in which it has no enthusiasm. Against this, and causing the Republicans the most concern, is the fact that Tammany is to handle the fight for the Democrats, and Tammany is "heeled" this year. It always has a comfortable campaign chest; it can get workers cheaper than ever because so many of its people are out of employment, and it does not want Hughes to win. In short, the Democrats are suddenly turning up as the only crowd in any shape to make a real fight for New York. The apparent move of the Democrats to center fire largely in New York for the rest of the campaign is naturally calculated in these circumstances to cause alarm. Bryan will be drafted into the really pivotal states of New York, Indiana and Maryland, according to present plans for most of the time he still has unassigned. Both committees are trying desperately to get accurate reports on conditions in Indiana as affected by the passage of the county option liquor law, and neither has decided what the effect will be. Ohio counties are reported going more and more against the saloons and the Republicans have been receiving discouraging reports about the disposition of the German vote all over the country to break away on the liquor issue. A national Republican committeeman said that of 200 German papers of significance, just one is supporting Taft. An investigation is being made by the Democratic national committee into the corporation connections of George R. Sheldon, treasurer of the Republican national committee, and representatives of the Democratic national committee have been sent into the financial district to inquire into Mr. Sheldon's affiliations and his early financial career. It is understood that any material that may be developed from this investigation will be forwarded to Mr. Bryan, to be used as subject matter of future speeches by the candidate, in which he is expected to assail the treasurer of the Republican committee.

He was called home on account of the rather serious illness of one of the children and will not return unless requested to do so, which he does not expect, as he thinks adjournment will occur within a day or two.
