THE PEOPLE RULE

Washington, D. C., Oct. 22, 1908.
Editor The Democrat, Decatur, Ind.

The political campaign is becoming hot when the Executive Mansion is converted into headquarters for campaign purposes, and the president of the United States becomes a strenuous worker to perpetuate through a "proxy" "my policies," entering into the campaign as vigorously as a regular ward politician does. With all the efforts to announce the battle won, the great masses of people refuse to believe the reports. They have, in days gone by, been misled in supposing that the people have anything to do with selecting a president. That important work, God bless you, is done by the accidental occupant of the "White House." That is one of the essential points in the new order of statesmanship known as "my policy," which very kindly relieves the common herd of the great task of taking any part in matters of government. Let me mention a few items in this new system of government which may not be so thoroughly understood in the west as it is in Washington, the seat of the mysterious affair.

"My policy" otherwise "Rooseveltism," the precious thing which Mr. Taft is pledged to perpetuate through two terms, then to be resumed by the inventor for two more terms and finally to be passed over to Mr. Sherman, vice-presidential candidate, for a like period, if son-in-law "Nick" is to be believed, showed itself in this city in August last when, by direct order from the bear-exterminator, 20,000 innocent, defenseless, harmless dogs were muzzled for six months.

Just this morning I saw a faithful canine rubbing his jaws against a shrub in the park to remove the hated object. Some five years ago all the human dogs in government service were muzzled, not for six months, but during all the time that "my policy" reigned in the "White House." The condition of these bipeds is more galling than that of the twenty thousand quadrupeds, alluded to. They were threatened with summary dismissal from the government service should they take any steps to improve their condition in any respect. This vast herd of officeholders, if they wish to have recognition, must fall in with the strenuous cry "Great is my policy" and long may it continue, even through the twenty-four years mapped out by that "fool" son-in-law "Nick."

The public press has been muzzled. The "true inwardness" of affairs in Washington, and it might be said of the entire country, is kept from the public except as it is revealed by speakers and papers that will not be bought for a mess of potage. I cannot go into details at present. Let me mention, however, a small item that inadvertently leaked out last Friday the 16th inst. A conference meeting of cabinet officials and others was held to prevent a collapse of the campaign that is pronounced so successful for "my policy." According to a report in the Times the paper here of largest circulation, President Roosevelt informed his cabinet and other persons present that financial conditions were not satisfactory. The sensational headlines were: "Increasing deficit bestrides the president. National debt piling up at the rate of $3,000,000 each day."

A little computation will show that at the rate of $3,000,000 per day the national debt will swell at the rate of $90,000,000 per month, or by the close of the present administration on the 4th of March it will have attained the enormous sum of $414,000,000, a very undesirable legacy, the result of "my policies," to bequeath to the next administration.

My opinion is that if the people of this nation could be made acquainted with the true condition of things as administered by the "my policy" system, they would decree a radical change. This they will need to decide on the third of November.

"Shall the People Rule?"
J. Fraise Richard.

Senator Beveridge—"How many of you had money in the bank in 1896: raise your hands." Not a hand went up. The senator again—"How many of you have money in the bank now?" Six hands went up, including two school children. What a wonderful testimonial of twelve years of republican prosperity!—Bluffton Bagner.

The greatest political reception ever given in Decatur was that of last last to the Kern party. One dense enthusiastic throng numbering many thousands, hailed the Democratic candidate for vice president and indicated that they were with him heart and soul, and hoped to see him grace the second highest office within the gift of the American people. The Democrats of Decatur and Adams county are to be congratulated, and by continuing their energy to election day they will sweep the county with the largest majority ever.

There is no doubt at all that the sentiment in favor of Bryan and Kern and Marshall and the whole Democratic state ticket is growing stronger and more definite and likewise more determined. Taft was not a strong candidate to begin with, as is now seen. The manner of his nomination was bad enough, but the kind of a campaign that has been made for him by Roosevelt and the trusts has disgusted all fair-minded persons. And now the steals and scandals that are being disclosed have put on the finishing touches. And as for Watson, he will not get inside the distance flag. Just now a special effort is being made by the Republican state committee to snare a few "temperance Democrats." A letter signed by James P. Godrich, chairman of the Republican state committee, was sent to the Republican precinct committeemen asking them to send to him "by return mail," the names of "from five to ten reliable temperance Democrats." These persons were then to receive a letter ostensibly coming from the anti-saloon league urging them to vote the Republican ticket. These so-called anti-saloon league letters will be signed by an interesting group of Republicans of various vocations, but it has all been carefully arranged by the Republican campaign managers. The fact that it is deemed necessary to resort to this sort of a game shows how desperate Watson's case is.

LETTER FROM A FORTY-NINER.

Here is a simple, interesting and sincere letter from a rugged pioneer of '49, who, braved the dangers and hardships of the overland trail to California. It should appeal to all catarrh victims.

Santa Rosa, Cal., May 5, 1908.
Both's Hyomei Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

Dear Sirs:—I was afflicted with catarrh and tried a number of remedies, but received no relief. I purchased an outfit of Hyomei, and before I had used the bottle I noted a marked relief. I used it for a month or so, and thought I was cured, and stopped using it for a year or so. Thought I was getting catarrh again, and started using it again. I use it every morning, and keep myself clear of catarrh. I consider it the best catarrh medicine that is used. I have often recommended it to my friends. I am 81 years old. I came to California in 1849, and of course am not as vigorous as I was 58 years ago. My address is 841 4th Street. Yours truly, W. Mock.

Hyomei (pronounced High-o-me) is guaranteed by Holthouse Drug Co. not only for catarrh, but for grip, coughs, colds, bronchitis and croup. A complete outfit, including inhaler, costs only $1.00; extra bottles of Hyomei if afterward needed, cost but 50 cents. 255-3mod-w

This part of the program alone will be worth several times the amount of the admission, which remains at the old price, five cents. If you wish to spend an enjoyable hour you should go to the Grand tonight.
