THE CAMPAIGN DRAWS TO A CLOSE

The campaign is growing to a close, and as it closes a Democratic victory in the nation and the state becomes more assured. It has been a game fight by the Democrats against a campaign of vilification and misrepresentation. Issues have been falsely drawn and character assassination has marked their attacks against Democratic candidates. Congressman Adair has perhaps borne more of this disgraceful calumny than has any other candidate, and he comes out of it with his traducers run to, cover. Beginning with the Sulloway letters down to the expert examination of his official record as clerk of Jay county, and he comes out from under the slander without a scratch. The expert who made the examination and false report has left the country a fugitive from justice. All voters, no matter of what party, will vote for John Adair in order to place their stamp of disapproval upon such methods as were inaugurated by "Uncle Nate," just in order to boost himself into office. John Adair's plurality will equal if not excel that of two years ago, when he carried the district by 4200. His friends in Adams county will help him attain this glorious victory.

Thomas R. Marshall is another Democratic candidate who has met the tongue of slander, met it in the open and proven false the malicious accusations. Mr. Marshall is perhaps the most independent candidate for office that ever canvassed Indiana. If elected he will owe favors to no man, Democrat or Republican, and will be free to fill the high place of chief executive without taking orders from any one. He is clean, temperate in his habits and will reflect honor upon the state and her people.

Democrats in every precinct in Adams county are working for a large vote next Tuesday. They will get it, too. The Democrats in Adams county are the best workers on the face of the earth, a fact they will fully demonstrate next Tuesday.

James P. Hornaday, special correspondent to the Indianapolis News, writing from New York, says 200,000 laboring men are idle in that state at the present time. They are the victims of the republican panic. These men were told by Taft that he could see by looking into their faces they did not want a change. Hornaday says there are 5,000 families in New York City right now that are being supported by public charity. Talk about your soup houses of the past! What do you think of the situation as pictured by this correspondent right at the onset of winter?

When Governor Hanly was an attorney at law he happened to be employed as a counsel for a man who was arrested for running a "blind tiger." Now a "blind tiger" is a den in which liquors are sold in violation of the law. So Mr. Hanly was the attorney for a law-breaker. He has been very severe in his denunciation of Marshall because he was connected with saloon cases through his firm. But in fact, Mr. Marshall never looked after that part of the business personally. Now let the good Hanly explain how he came to be defender of a "blind tiger" keeper.

David B. Hill presided over the Bryan meeting at Albany Wednesday night. According to reports it was a great demonstration—a political reunion would perhaps be a more expressive term. Hill complimented Bryan and in turn the latter spoke in endearing terms of the hero of many hard fought political battles. In his speech Mr. Bryan again referred to the charge that his election to the presidency would result in disaster by saying that the only panic likely to follow that result would be an office-holders panic. Great enthusiasm characterized the Albany demonstration.

The appearance of James E. Watson in the "Who's Who" article in this week's Saturday Post is significant principally for the reason that it was written by Sam Blythe, a close personal friend of Senator Beveridge. Blythe has been touring Indiana this week on the "Beveridge Special." His article about Watson declares that the latter looks upon the governorship as a stepping stone to the senate. As Watson is identified with the Fairbanks-Hemenway-Goodrich machine it is taken by Beveridge's friends that it is not Hemenway's but Beveridge's seat in the senate that Watson has his eyes on. This fact may account for the coldness of some of the Beveridge supporters toward Watson's present candidacy. It seems to be clear that while the Beveridge people are whooping it up for all they are worth for Taft they don't care what happens to the head of the state ticket. And it seems just as clear that Watson does not care what happens to Taft and Beveridge.

In one of his speeches Monday, in this state, John W. Kern said: "Republicans say that a panic will follow the election of Bryan. How could times be any worse than they are now in many cities? If these republicans can prevent a panic, why in the name of God do they not stop the one that is now on? I saw in New York a few days ago a solid square of men lined up waiting for bread. There are hundreds of thousands of men out of work all over the country. They cannot tell these men that there is no panic in this country now. I appeal to you, free men, on next Tuesday, to say by your ballots that you are not afraid of these men who threaten you every four years, and at the polls bring about a change that will insure that there will be no more panic in this country. Every trust in the country, every unlawful combination, every set of men banded together to plunder the people are standing for Taft. These men never divide, they never split into independent parties, they are not socialists; no, indeed, they are all solid for Taft. Let's be brave enough, stand up and defy this gang; let us show these men that they cannot destroy eighty millions of people."

As the head of the administration that has squandered the state's money and increased the burdens of the taxpayers, Governor Hanly has been traveling over the state abusing his betters, denouncing his own virtues. There was at first, it is said, a general disposition not to pay much attention to Hanly in this campaign, for it was believed that the people already understood what sort of a man he is. But when he took charge of the Republican campaign and began to abuse Mr. Marshall and other Democrats it became necessary to again call attention to the fact that he is not a credible witness. Among the other things Hanly has been saying is that Mr. Marshall's law firm had had some liquor sellers for clients. As a matter of fact there are few lawyers in general practice who have not had liquor dealers for clients. Hanly himself never hesitated to take such cases when there was a fee in sight. He even defended the keeper of a "blind tiger" and attempted in defending him to overthrow a material part of the Nicholson law, as will be seen by referring to the case of the State vs. Mathis as reported in the Eighteenth Appellate Court Report.

WILL NOT RECOVER

Mother of Mrs. John Coffee
87 Years Old Sustained
Broken Hip

FELL TO GROUND

And There is No Hope
Whatever for Her Recovery—The Details

Grandmother Wians, mother of Mrs. John Coffee, of Tenth street, is lying at her home hovering between life and death as the result of a broken hip she sustained recently by falling forcibly to the sidewalk. Eighty-seven years of age, she was walking to the rear of the lot when she lost her balance and her tottering form was hurled to the ground. She was carried to the house where an examination disclosed the fact that her hip was broken. The aged lady is gradually growing weaker, and there is no chance whatever for her recovery. In fact, her demise is momentarily expected. The aged lady, who is also the mother of Mrs. Matthias Schafel of this city, was born and raised in Germany. She has, however, made her home with Mrs. Coffee for many years, and is probably the oldest citizen of the county. Her husband died many years ago, and it is but a question of time until she will also pass into eternity.

ONE MILLION DOLLARS FOR A GOOD STOMACH.

This Offer Should Be a Warning to Every Man and Woman.

The newspapers and medical journals recently have had much to say relative to a famous millionaire's offer of a million dollars for a new stomach.

This great multi-millionaire was too busy to worry about the condition of his stomach. He allowed his dyspepsia to run from bad to worse until in the end it became incurable.

His misfortune serves as a warning to others.

Everyone who suffers with dyspepsia for a few years will give everything he owns for a new stomach.

Dyspepsia is caused by an abnormal state of the gastric fluids. They lose their power to digest food.

We are now able to supply the missing element—to restore to the gastric juices their digestive power, and to make the stomach strong and well.

We know that Revall Dyspepsia Tablets will positively and permanently cure disordered stomachs, indigestion and dyspepsia.

We want you to try them and will return your money if you are not more than satisfied with the result.

Price 25 cents. Only at our store, or by mail. The Smith, Yager and Falk Drug Co., Decatur, Ind.

A FAREWELL PARTY

Other Society Items of Interest Picked Up Here and There

A merry crowd of young people drove to the Alphonse Kohne farm south of town last evening and enjoyed an old-fashioned Halloween party. The members of the Y. L. E. had arranged the affair and invited their gentlemen friends. The crowd met at the home of Miss Ida Kohne, and went out in a large hack. Several of the young ladies went out in the afternoon and arranged the house and prepared a big supper. The house looked very pretty decorated with pumpkins, corn stalks and Japanese lanterns. Various Halloween games were played, and part of the time was spent in dancing. Music was furnished by Fred Schurger. Late in the evening the guests were called into the dining room where they beheld the table laden with everything to eat imaginable, to which all did justice. The boys all had a chance to see how their future wife could cook. At a late hour they returned to the city, every one voting the girls entertainers of the first class, as the affair was carried out in great style. Those present were the Misses Stella Bremerkamp, Edna Ehinger, Louisa Brake, Ida and Bertha Kohne, Margaret Conter, Ode and Lettie Fullenkamp, Amelia Weber and Rose Vogelewe, Messrs Ed. Gus, Willie and Frank Johns, Chas. Loe, Geo. Cramer, Frank Sanders, Lawrence Kleinhenz, Fred Fullenkamp, Fred Schurger, Otto Wemhoff and Frank Schurger, of Delphos, Ohio.

A reception given on Wednesday evening by the Misses Hattie and Blanche Laisure demonstrated that those estimable young ladies know how to entertain. The home was beautifully decorated with streamers of various colors and Japanese lanterns. The young people gathered there about eight o'clock and things were merry from that on until twelve. Various games were played and all present seemed to enjoy themselves. At ten o'clock an elegant two-course luncheon was served, which was voted by all to be just the thing. After luncheon Mr. L. L. Lobenstein, O. V. Graham and Miss Vera Andrews sang some songs that were catchy and pleasing to all. At twelve o'clock all departed, vowing that Misses Hattie and Blanche were fine entertainers.

The meeting of the Shakespeare Club held at the home of Mrs. D. G. M. Trout yesterday was one of the best held this year. Almost every member of the club being present. The paper read by Mrs. Trout on Music in Shakespeare's time was very interesting. The members with their sub-topics all responded with appropriate descriptions of the different pieces of music. A character sketch of "The Three Married Men" was highly appreciated by the guests. Mrs. D. G. M. Trout rendered two fine solos, and also Mrs. J. C. Patterson. Miss Agnes Kintz also sang a solo accompanied by Miss Lettie Kintz. The house was beautifully decorated with carnations and ferns. An elegant two-course luncheon was served. The Misses Marie Patterson and Rose Dunathan assisted in the dining room.

HE IS A PUBLISHER

Charles Peterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Shafer Peterson of Decatur, Prospects

HAS A MAGAZINE

Which is Published at Denver, Colo.—Also Manager of Another Concern

Deeply interested financially in, and business manager of the Twentieth Century Printing and Publishing company, of Denver, Colo., Charles Peterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Shafer Peterson, of this city, has engaged more extensively in the publishing business, his latest venture being the publishing of a magazine known as The Western Land and Investment Journal, which deals with investments in land. The journal is well edited, has an attractive appearance and has every quality necessary to make it a winner. Such entertaining and educating subjects as "Grand Lake, on the Moffat Road," which is beautifully illustrated, are ably discussed by writers of note in this periodical and its value to a community is well worth the consideration of the people. Mr. Peterson, as a business man, has developed into one of the foremost of his vocation. He not only is the sole proprietor of the new magazine the second issue of which has just reached this city, but he possesses the controlling interest in the Twentieth Century Publishing Co., which meant the expenditure of a neat sum of money. Charles, who enjoys the fellowship of a large circle of Decatur friends, is prospering in the west. He is the possessor of a beautiful home, well located, and has accumulated a neat fortune. Decatur people will gladly receive the news of his progress.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

We, the undersigned members of the Jay County Bar, most of whom were engaged in the practice of law at the time the Hon. John A. M. Adair was clerk of the Jay Circuit Court, have carefully examined a printed pamphlet, put in circulation by N. B. Hawkins, charging that during Adair's term of office, as clerk of said court, some fifteen years ago, he over-taxed certain fees in litigated cases and estates.

In justice to Mr. Adair, we would say that no investigation was ordered or made, by any one in authority, but a pretended investigation for political purposes, was made by one Earl Patterson, of Muncie, who was and now is in the employ of said N. B. Hawkins, Republican candidate for Congress.

That we have examined said pamphlet and find the same is false, slanderous and misleading. That the fees taxed by Mr. Adair were within the law, were approved by the court and were satisfactory to both litigants and attorneys. His demeanor and conduct as a county official was gentlemanly, honest and courteous, and we are frank to say that there were no fees illegally taxed or collected by him, as such clerk.
