A traveling salesman died very suddenly. His relatives telegraphed the undertaker to make a wreath, the ribbon to be extra wide, with the inscription "Rest in Peace" on both sides and (if room) "We Shall Meet in Heaven." The undertaker was out of town, the story goes, and his new assistant handled the job. It was a startling floral piece which turned up at the funeral. The ribbon was extra wide and bore the inscription: "Rest in Peace on Both Sides and if There is Room We Shall Meet in Heaven."

TO OVERFLOWING CROWD

Congressman John A. M. Adair was at Walnut Corner, Friday night, where he addressed the people of that vicinity on the issues of the campaign, taking up his record in congress. The meeting was held in the school house, the most available building in that section of the county but owing to the small amount of room it was impossible for the large crowd of voters present to gain admittance. People affiliated with each of the three leading political parties made up the large concourse present which is only another sample of the manner in which Mr. Adair has been greeted by his constituents in all parts of the district where he has gone before the people and delivered speeches making his platform clear in every respect, thereby gaining the renewed confidence of the masses. His strenuous campaign will terminate tonight (Saturday) at Bluff Point.—Portland Sun.

POLICE IN ROGUE'S GALLERY.

New York, Nov. 1.—Sergt. Peter J. Bird and Patrolman Patrick J. Reid of the police department were arraigned in Center Street court on charges of grafting growing out of the investigation of the license bureau. They had been held all night in a cell at police headquarters and submitted to the humiliation of having their pictures taken for the rogues' gallery and their Bertillon measurements recorded in the department files. By order of Inspector McCafferty they were lined up with a collection of crooks in the defective bureau for inspection by the sleuths. Both were in citizens' clothes. They stood side by side with downcast eyes as McCafferty stood in front of them and told why they had been arrested. But they came to life when McCafferty ordered them to the rogues' gallery photographer. Bird almost wept. "My God, Inspector," he whispered, "you won't 'mug' us?" "It's the rule to 'mug' all crooks," replied McCafferty, coldly.

Yes Follow the Crowd and Get a Home of Your Own and Quit Paying Rent

Are you expecting a great reduction in values, or a sudden fall in prices? A moment's consideration will convince you that artificial gas, electric lights, paved streets, stoned roads, large manufacturing industries, and new traction lines put in operation, do not reduce the prices of the real estate near them. That good locations will steadily increase in value, no matter who owns them. That you might as well save that increase, as to pay high for it when you buy some years later. Now is the time to invest your money while property is reasonably cheap.

The Snow Agency can fit you out with your choice from a list of about 25,000 acres of good farm lands as can be found in eastern Indiana or from a list of about

One Hundred City Properties

The owners want to sell these properties, not for speculation, at fictitious values, but for a change of investment. Some of them can be exchanged for good farm lands. If your property is for sale at its real cash value, by listing it with us we will advertise it without cost or expense to you, and are nearly sure to find you a buyer in a reasonably short time.
