J. H. HELLER, Manager.

Hon Frank Herring, of South Bend, is the latest aspirant for United States senator. Every day apparently brings out a new one.

Even the Indianapolis Star is repentant: "The things that turned the tide was Mr. Marshall's irreproachable and amiable personality. There is an element of justice and right in this result that should give heart to every man who is trying to lead a life of rectitude and honor. It shows that devotion to duty and to the higher ideals of life will build up for a man a reputation and a good name among his fellow men that the vicissitudes and mutations of politics cannot take away."

Certain republican politicians attempted during the past campaign to tell those to whom they talked that the tariff did not affect the individual, and that the steel trust, if it hurt anybody, merely robbed another trust. This was supposed to indicate that while the republicans endorsed the tariff because it protected American labor, they also befriended it because it enabled one corporation to rob another. The average man believes that when he pays the freight on an article hauled over steel rails which the tariff makes very expensive he is helping to pay the extra tax to the steel trust. He knows that when he goes to buy wire nails he is paying a part of that $3.50 tribute the tariff enables a steel magnate to filch from the pockets of the consumer. The republican revisionist wants to revise the tariff so as to guarantee to the trust a "reasonable profit;" the democratic revisionist believes in revising the tariff so as to guarantee to the consumer a reasonable price. The twelfth district and ten other Indiana districts have the latter sort of men and that very fact indicates what the people of the state are demanding.—Columbia City Post.

Miss Fanny Cole to Entertain this Evening—K. P. Lodge Meeting

THE THIMBLE CLUB

Mrs. F. V. Mills Entertains the Euterpean Club—Other Items

The party to be given by Miss Fannie Cole tonight will be delightful. It will probably be one of the most brilliant social events of the week and those who have been fortunate in receiving invitations are expecting the time of their life.

The regular meeting of the K. P. lodge last evening was interesting. The K. P.'s are anxiously awaiting the coming of spring, when work on the construction of their new home on First street will be begun.

Mrs. Fanny Cole entertained the Thimble Club yesterday afternoon. Several outside guests were present and the event was of course, delightful.

The Euterpean Club was entertained at the home of Mrs. Fred V. Mills last evening and an interesting session was enjoyed by the members of this popular club. Miss Carrie Craig had charge of the program.

No meeting was held by the Y. L. E. Club this week, but Miss Amelia Weber will entertain for the members some time next week.

The Bachelor Maids' Club was entertained at the home of Miss Mayme Conter last evening. The event was dispatched to the complete satisfaction of all. Progressive euchre furnished the principal entertainment for the evening in which Misses Bertha Vogelewe and Clara Terveer captured the prizes. Refreshments were served.

The Pastime Club held their second meeting of the season at the home of Miss Clara Lang last evening. A candidate was initiated into the first and second degrees and a great time was had, including the serving of refreshments. Miss Edna Crawford will entertain the club next week.

The W. R. C. Social Club will be entertained by Mrs. Pronefield one week from next Wednesday, when an interesting session is promised.

W. H. Wiley has received a telegram from John Gerhart, president of the Indiana division T. P. A. stating that he cannot be here tomorrow hence the doings which were to come off tomorrow have been postponed until two weeks from tomorrow.

At 7:00 last evening occurred the quiet wedding of Harry E. Jackson to Louisa A. Drake, at the bride's home, five miles east of Decatur. Because of the sickness of the bride's mother, it was impossible to consummate previous plans for a big wedding, and to the sorrow of the bride and groom and their parents the many would-be guests were denied the long-looked-for wedding festivities. Consequently only the bride's home folks, the groom's parents and Miss Clara Shell were present. The marriage ceremony was performed by the Rev. D. O. Wise, of Decatur, pastor of the young wedded couple. An elaborate wedding supper followed the ceremony. The groom is a handsome young man of excellent character, a gentleman in every particular and any parents should be proud of such a young man. He is employed by the Pennsylvania railroad of Fort Wayne. He was dressed in the regulation black. The bride is a fine young lady of a noble christian character. She is of a cheerful disposition and makes friends wherever she goes. She was dressed in white. Both the bride and groom are members of the Calvary church, five miles east of Decatur, and each stands high in not only the church, but also in the community in which they lived. They expect to make their future home in Fort Wayne. May a happy future be theirs.

Thursday, November 12, brought an event into the life of Fred Warner which he will not soon forget. It being the anniversary of his 17th birthday, the friends and neighbors, more than thirty in number, arrived early in the evening and all took part in celebrating the happy event. Games, music and dancing with refreshments furnished prominent features. Those present were Val Shell and family, Will Loshe and family, Dal Grim and family, Charley Grim and family, of Ossian; Grandma Grim, Miss Hattie Faurot, Miss Pearl Diehl and Miss Libbie Walker, of Decatur; Frank Loshe, Fred and Albert Roath, Fred Hess, Julia Bright, George Gerber, Jason Essex, Joe Faurot, Harry Wagner, Mary Wagner, N. H. Wagner and family. All departed at a late hour wishing Mr. Wagner many more such happy events.

Ernst Baumgartner, Adams County Boy, Writes Interesting Letter

ON BOARD OF ILLINOS

He Has Seen Much and Has Enjoyed the Long Voyage

U. S. S. Illinois, Macassar, Str.

Three days out of Manila. Dear Brother, Emil—Well, we are nearing Manila now, and I'll try to have a letter ready for each one of you at home. I have wrote to Leah, Lydia and Bertha, and have about seven more to write, but that is of little interest to you. We are now about three days run to Manila. This last run from Albany, West Australia, will be fourteen days in all. If you look on a map you can find just where I was at the time of this writing. Tuesday 29 of Sept., for we are in the Macassar Str., and crossed the equator last night. This makes four times I've crossed that "Royal Domain" but this has been the (hotter of all. Am sweating something awful.

I am well, only I have had an awful sore mouth and nose for the last three weeks. It all came from some kind of gathering in my teeth, was very painful for awhile until it broke, but now it does not hurt any more. This old ship is getting harder every day, but am doing my best to keep up with all rules and regulations. Duty is also very hard, as we have not got enough men in the marine guard any more, some have beat it and there are six of them. Several court martial prisoners for various offenses which, or at least some of which it would be a disgrace to name, but I know is a very light offense. This fellow's name was Hawkins, and he relieved me at 4 p. m., at three post, that's the ship's prison, and a few minutes later, after he relieved me, he gave one of the two men who were doing five days on bread and water, a cigarette, was caught at it, and is now waiting trial. He will probably get two or three years and then to be dishonorably discharged from the service. That's going some, isn't it?

So you see a marine's dangers are not all in time of war, but in everyday life, for his duties are as strong in time of peace as any other time. But I have always got on good, yet with such everyday dangers threatening a person, one cannot tell how long one's record will be a clear one. I shall do the best I can.

Emil, I cannot in detail tell you of the things I've seen and the places I've been to, for that would take more paper and time than I have, but I can only say that I have had a good time everywhere. Honolulu, Auckland, N. Z., and in all the cities of Australia. And at all these places I've learned very much, for which I am thankful. I shall never regret this cruise.

We were at all these places greeted as brothers and cousins. And we sure always did have a time every place we went ashore. In Sydney and Melbourne, the people were so enthusiastic in their efforts to welcome us that they decorated their cities in such a manner that it cost thousands of dollars. One statue I remember in Sydney that was erected especially for this occasion that cost nearly twelve thousand pounds, or fifty thousand dollars. This was a model of the great statue of liberty in New York, which I've seen, and was about sixty feet high, and was indeed a very good imitation.

But this is not the only way they welcomed us. Every time we went ashore we were always to go home with some one for dinner or tea, and sweethearts we had a plenty. You see I used to always think that the people in Australia were black, but to my surprise I never saw over a dozen of them in all my stay. No, the people there are English, all white, have the same costumes we have and have farms far more modern than we have. And their cities are all like our American cities. Although they are under the British crown, the time will come when they will be a nation of their own like we are. And many were the glad hands they gave us and called us brothers. Don't you think with such people we had a good time? Yes, even better than in our own country. And the commonwealth was in all this, too. They presented each man of the fleet with souvenir of Australia, which we could send home free of charge. Those you may see if you go to Leah's.

Well, Emil, I will have to close for it is getting very long. Now write soon, tell me what you are doing, everything about everybody. My address is still the same. I got your last letter in Albany and that item too. That's O. K. Sometime I may write the old people in Berne a letter telling them what their son or "Berne Boy" is really doing. And talking of war, I would say I don't know no more than you do. So, good bye, be good, or at least careful. ERNEST.

GERMS IN HER SYSTEM.

Every Woman Should Read This.

The number of disease peculiar to woman is such that we believe this space would hardly contain a mere mention of their names, and it is a fact that most of these diseases are of a catarrhal nature. A woman cannot be well if there is a trace of the catarrhal germs in her system.

Some women think there is no help for them. We positively declare this to be a mistaken idea. We are so sure of this that we offer to supply medicine absolutely free of all cost in every instance where it fails to give entire satisfaction or does not substantiate our claims. With this understanding, no woman should hesitate to believe our honesty of purpose, or hesitate to put our claims to a test.

There is only one way to cure Catarrh. That way is through the blood. You may use all the snuffs, douches or like remedies for years without getting more than temporary relief at best. Catarrh is caused by a germ. That germ is carried by the blood to the innermost part of the system until the mucous membrane is broken, irritation and inflammation produced, and a flow of mucous results, and you can probably realize how silly it is to attempt to cure such an ailment unless you take a medicine that follows the same course as the germ or parasite.

Rehall Mucu-Tone is scientifically prepared from the prescription of an eminent physician who for thirty years made his specialty Catarrh, and with this medicine he averaged 98 per cent of cures where it was employed. No other remedy is so properly designed for the ailments of woman. It will purify and enrich the blood, stop mucous discharge, destroy all germ matter, remove all impurities from the system, soothe, heal and strengthen the uccus tissues, and bring about a good feeling of health and strength.

We want you to try Rehall Mucu-Tone on our guarantee. If you are not benefitted, or for any reason not satisfied, simply tell us and we will hand back your money. Rehall Mucu-Tone comes in two sizes, 50c. and $1.00. The Smith, Yager & Falk Drug Co., Decatur, Indiana.
