Tomorrow is Christmas Saturday, meaning, of course, the last Saturday before the great holiday, and on this occasion the trading is always brisk. Decatur merchants are preparing for the biggest day of the year in the number of sales if not the amount.

Pupils in the Poneto schools Tuesday undertook the old-time prank of locking the teachers out of the building. Principal Garwick and the two teachers, Miss Double and Miss Kizer, collaborated in dealing with the situation, and seventeen of the pupils were given a lively "tanning."

Only four more days for Christmas shopping, but they are the big ones. If you get anything now you will have to get in the push. The only way we know to save you trouble and annoyance is to read the advertisements in the Daily Democrat and thus know just what you want when you start out.

With the grouping of counties in the new federal court division the first district is composed of the counties of Elkhart, Allen, DeKalb, Steuben, LaGrange, Noble, Kosciusko, Wabash, Miami, Huntington, Whitley, Wells, Adams, Blackford and Jay. The court of this division will be held at Fort Wayne.

Riley Ferguson, in jail two months at Columbia City for contempt of court in his failure to pay $2 a week for the support of his two children, the custody of whom was awarded to his divorced wife, has been released. Judge Wrigley gave him the admonition to go to work and earn the money necessary to pay the amount.

One of the oldest hotel buildings in northern Indiana, erected half a century ago at Fairfield Center, DeKalb county, has just been torn down. The hotel was built of hewed timber, lined with fine yellow poplar plank, and was erected at a time when Fairfield Center promised to be a metropolis of northern Indiana.

On his way down to dinner this afternoon John W. Terrell, confined in the jail, got on the war path and kicked out two of the windows in the jail corridor. He was coming down the corridor when, without any warning, he suddenly shoved his foot through two panes of the glass. Sheriff Lipkey heard the racket and rushing up to the man forced him back to his cell.—Bluffton Banner.

Charming Grace Cameron comes to the Bosse on Tuesday, Dec. 22, in what is promised to be the musical hit of the season. It is called "Little Dolly Dimples" and affords Miss Cameron more scope to display her ability than any company in which she has yet been seen. She is surrounded by a company of sixty well known comedians, singers and musicians. This is the second year of this successful attraction.

The last word received from Charles Quick, who is an inmate of the Plymouth sanitarium is to the effect that he is in good health and is well satisfied with his treatment. He wrote his son-in-law Godfrey Ashbaucher to that effect this morning. Mr. Ashbaucher also received a letter recently from the authorities at the sanitarium to the effect that Mr. Quick was able to take a long walk within the past few days and that he experienced very little fatigue as a result of his exertions.—Bluffton News.

State Agent Cromer, of the Home Insurance company, was here today calling on his local agent, L. C. Helm.

F. P. Parmin, of Fort Wayne, the traveling passenger agent for the Nickel Plate, was in the city today looking after business for his company, which is one of the great railroads of the country. Mr. Parmin has just recently acquired his present position, and as he is a railroad man of long standing and experience, will fill the place all over.

Mrs. F. V. Mills has received word that her mother arrived at Asheville, South Carolina, with no ill effects from the long and tiresome journey. She will spend the winter there with her daughter, Mrs. Reynolds, and it is thought that the change in climate will prove beneficial to her health, which has not been the best during the last few months.

The Red Cross stamp will be on sale here within a day or two and each person in Decatur should buy one or more. They are only one cent each, no one makes a cent of profit except the society and the money is used to fight the tuberculosis plague. The stamps are appropriate for Christmas packages, letters and post cards and you should do your share.

Don't pay unnecessary and wasteful expenses of old system dealers. Try the new. See Charles Hendricks, Decatur, Ind. Phone 580.
