Now that the snow has disappeared the farmers welcome the rain we are getting.

Fred Brown, of Berne, attended the horse sale today and has returned to his home.

There is a large amount of sickness on account of the changeable weather.

Most of the Decatur merchants have completed their invoicing, and they are glad of it.

Frank Richards still remains away from Decatur, and leaves his wife to support his children.

Carrie Botthoff will leave tomorrow for Indianapolis, where for some time she will be the guest of friends.

The ice is again a thing of the past and the skating loving people must resort to some other amusement.

A. B. Bailey, of Monroe, who a few days ago was painfully injured in this city, is yet suffering much pain.

A letter mailed from the Kendallville News office November 23, made the circuit of the world in 57 days.

County Superintendent Wetherow, at Peru, is seeking to establish annual training schools in that country.

H. B. France has resumed duties at the Decatur Steam laundry after being detained for some time on account of illness.

The police courts were idle today and in fact the violators of law and order seem to decrease in number each week. Let's keep it up.

A. P. Beatty and Judge D. D. Heller returned from Portland last night, they being there as interested lawyers in the Paille damage case.

The dry goods store of Herman Zeese, at Michigan City, was robbed early Wednesday morning by four men, who carried off $1,000 worth of silks.

M. F. Rice returned yesterday afternoon from a business trip to Berne. He was there in the interest of the Adams County Lumber company.

E. D. Moffett left today for his home at Hartford City, after a pleasant visit here since last Sunday.

Levi Augsburger of near Berne, was attending the horse sale today and attending to other matters of business.

Mrs. Carrie Thomas-Haubold returned home to Evanston, Illinois, yesterday, after a visit here with her parents.

Orval Harruff was looking after business interests at Berne yesterday and returned to the city last evening.

The present weather resembles that of spring more than January weather but we may still have a siege of the blasts of a severe winter.

Mrs. E. E. Snow and daughter Elmore went to Anderson yesterday, where they will spend some time the guests of Mrs. C. C. Miller and family.

The restaurants did a land office business today as a consequence of the big horse sale held at the First street stables. Many out-of-town buyers were here.

Work in the construction of the new Schaefer building is progressing nicely and within a few weeks the structure will be ready for occupancy. It will be modern in every respect and a credit to the city.

"A Cowpuncher" scheduled for the Bosse opera house Tuesday night is said to be a clever show. It is one of those interesting western plays that always please. No doubt a large audience will greet the company.

A large number of horse buyers were in the city today in attendance at the auction held by the Decatur Horse company and the animals found new homes readily. There is no question about these sales being the best held in this section.

Large crowds visited the Grand last night and were well pleased with the performance. The song "Decatur" was well rendered by Miss Verena Niblick with True R. Fristoe as accompanist, and the slides showing familiar views in the city were well appreciated by all who saw them.

In his usual clever manner Squire James H. Stone solemnized a wedding ceremony at his home last evening at six o'clock; the principal parties being Leonard W. Schnepp and Miss Nora Drake, both of Union township. The contracting parties are well and favorably known in this vicinity and their many friends wish for their success on their matrimonial career.

The body of Mrs. Kathryn Krill and the funeral party in attendance will arrive in this city from Danville, Ill., this evening at 7:33 over the Clover Leaf. After they have come the funeral arrangements will be made. Mrs. John Weishaupt, Mrs. Eli Christ, of Decatur, her sisters, and Mrs. Pen Robinson, a daughter, arrived today and will remain for the services.—Bluffton Banner.

Elmer Gay, a rural mail carrier at Valparaiso, lost two horses and his mail wagon by fire Wednesday morning.

Harry Lowenstein, of Fort Wayne, was in the city today attending the horse sale. He bought several animals.

Final plans for the new city hall will be submitted to the council at their next session and it is quite probable that this body will at once advertise for bids for the construction of the building.

Hon. George W. Miles, of Syracuse, is being boomed by his friends for fish commissioner to succeed Rev. Z. T. Sweeney, of Columbus. Mr. Miles is president of the Wawasee Protective association.

Frank Landgraf, of Albion, lost his pocketbook containing $165 in currency and two certificates of deposit in a field where his herd of cattle were kept. When the loss was discovered the cattle had chewed the cash into fragments.

A part of the fixtures of every barber shop in Bluffton is a Bible, the gift of some unknown person. It is said that now the barbers there are asking for an instructor, as they are somewhat lame on the real meaning of most of the important passages.

Messrs. F. V. Millis, A. H. Sellemyer, Robert Case, Charles Hower and D. M. Niblick returned last evening from Indianapolis, where they were in attendance at the state meeting of the Retail Merchants' association. They report an elegant time.

Miss Hazel Phillips, aged 15, residing three miles north of Warsaw, found a tramp in the haymow of her father's barn smoking a pipe. She ordered him out and when he threatened her the plucky girl attacked him with a pitchfork, driving the fellow from the place.

Joseph Gerber says that if the subsidies on the Bluffton, Berne & Celina Traction line are voted, a construction company is ready to at once begin the work of grading, and that the line will be pushed to completion. Those interested along the line are very much in earnest and have great hopes as to the future of the company.

Representative J. H. Merriman, of Wells county, made his maiden speech in the house of representatives in seconding the nomination of Hon. Benjamin F. Shively in the joint session held Wednesday. He is said to have covered himself all over with glory and opened the way for future opportunities before the legislature adjourns.

Mrs. Anna Miser, of Auburn, while visiting at Elkhart, left her wraps on the river bank together with a note stating that she was tired of life and that it would be useless to search for her. Friends at first believed she had ended her life in the river, but later she was found wandering aimlessly about the city. Mrs. Miser is believed to have been demented.

The Rev. Earle Naftzger has tendered his resignation as pastor of Grace M. E. church at Hartford City, and it is probable that he will be transferred to a pastorate in Washington in about a month. Mr. Naftzger has been at Hartford City about three years and has shown much enthusiasm in church work, but has never entirely regained his health following an attack of typho-malarial fever last summer.

The business men from Geneva, who were here yesterday for the purpose of investigating the chances of the interurban line between this city and Celina being built through Geneva left with the statement that they were not going to permit the Berne people to get the line without a struggle. The men from Geneva stated that they did not know what course might be pursued by them but that one thing was certain and that was that the line would be built that way if possible. Nothing definite was done at the meeting yesterday.—Bluffton Banner.
