Burning Your Money?

The best way to stop excessive and unwise spending and to lay aside for future hard times, or to be in position to "start for yourself," is to open a savings account here and now.

Your money is safe—you have a reason to save—and the future is a problem definitely settled once you begin.

Old Adams County Bank

The high school glee club met at the high school, where they practiced their music and transacted business.

C. O. France was at Fort Wayne today transacting business in the interest of the Counter Ice Cream company.

Another sudden change in the weather is noted and heavy overcoats are again in order. We are surely getting a variety.

A. A. Kist, representing the Fort Wayne Journal-Gazette, was in the city last night transacting business and has returned to his home.

Judge R. K. Erwin, of Fort Wayne, was in the city for a short time yesterday on a business mission, and in the meantime he met many of his friends.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Jane Ainsworth was held at the county fairgrounds this morning, the Rev. Wilcox officiating. Interment was made at the county farm cemetery.

Frank Brice went to Decatur this morning, where he will spend a few days attending to business matters in the interest of the Extension Fence Brake company—Bluffton Banner.

Rev. W. D. Ziegler has been installed as pastor of the Lutheran church at Columbia City. Rev. W. H. Schrock of Fort Wayne, conducted the installation service Sunday evening.

Edward Landon, the Columbia City saloonkeeper who is fighting the local option election in Whitley county, has asked for a change of venue in his case and Judge Wrigley has sent it to Kosciusko county.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Presbyterian church will give a market tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. C. O. France on Monroe street, and a good attendance is asked by the members.

Another interesting performance was given at the Grand theater last evening. Miss Bertha Nicodemus, the new pianist, making a decided hit with the audiences by her clever playing. The films were fine and appealed to all.

Elias G. Mewitt, one of the very oldest of Huntington business men, died Sunday afternoon. He was a hardware and stove merchant, starting in business at Huntington in 1866, and retired from active business on Jan. 1, last.

The elevator in the court house at Huntington was wrecked in a drop of two stories Monday because it was too heavily loaded. Sixteen passengers were in the car, tested to carry a weight of 2,000 pounds, but none of them were seriously injured.

Lon Ozley, who was stricken with partial paralysis two weeks ago, managed now to get up town almost every day but he presents a pitiful appearance. He goes about to his usual haunts but he moves with difficulty and cannot speak a word so that he can be understood.—Bluffton News.
