we should clean up and clean out all the dirt and filth. The society is ready for action and all that is necessary for a little accomplishment along this line, is for a few willing people to begin the agitation. Mr. D. M. Hensley is president of the organization, and one business firm in the city have signified a willingness to furnish a team and wagon for a solid week, if necessary, in order to clean out the bad smelling places. Let's get busy and make this the best year ever in the history of Decatur. Let's make her bloom like a red rose, and let's make her clean and good to look at.

ABOUT 300 HORSES

Will Be Disposed of by the Decatur Horse Company

ON NEXT FRIDAY

Largest Consignment Ever Offered in the County

The First street stables are again well filled with excellent animals, which will be sold to the highest bidder next Friday when another of the popular sales will be held by the Decatur Horse company. About two hundred horses have already been quartered at the barn and one of the promoters of the concern informed us this morning that there would be at least two hundred head on hands by the time for the sale to open, with a possibility of having three hundred. Should they have the latter number, it would be the most ever disposed of in a single day in the county. The Decatur Horse company is doing a lucrative business this year. By dealing honestly with their patrons, they have made Decatur spoken of as the best horse market in the middle west for excellency of horses and fair dealings as well. The buyers take in a large scope of territory in securing the animals and they buy none but the very best. The farmers who are desirous of buying good farm mares or work horses cannot afford to miss this sale. The company has horses that will suit the fancy of all classes of people. Mr. McNabb, of Ashland, Ohio, will auctioneer the sale. Remember the date, Friday, March 5th.

While the Democrat believes that the cause of local option will be better served by discouraging any attempt to interfere with those who were granted licenses by the commissioners on Monday, we also believe that those who secured the licenses as well as all those engaged in the saloon business, can greatly strengthen their own case by strictly obeying the law. This, we imagine, will be one of the essentials for the next ninety days, and the organization of saloonkeepers should see to it, that for their own protection the laws are obeyed.

To the beginner in life's struggle I offer this little piece of advice: Save one dollar out of every ten you earn. It may come hard to do this at times, but the results will justify the struggle. Put your little capital in a savings bank and watch it grow gradually, but surely. The first one hundred dollars may take a long time to accumulate, but when your hoard reaches that amount you will begin to realize that you are a capitalist, and probably will be doing so well in your business life that you can begin to put away two dollars out of every ten of your earnings.—Henry Clews.

The time is now ripe for the revival of the Decatur Civic League, an organization that in times past, made Decatur shine like a pewter dollar in a mud hole. The time has arrived for a similar action, when the terms of their franchise they are granted ninety days in which to complete the same. The matter of granting this franchise has caused the council considerable trouble and much valuable time has been consumed in hearing arguments and debates over various questions and by last night's actions those who have grievances and will be damaged will be compelled to take their recourse through the senate.

Miss Emily Murray, of Detroit, Michigan, gave a reading in the assembly room at the Decatur high school this morning entitled "Siras Marner" which is one of the best writings from the pen of George Eliot. Miss Murray recited the piece cleverly, and won the admiration of her every auditor. One hour and twenty minutes was required in the reading. Miss Murray is traveling with a concert company, and as a side issue delivers this reading. "Siras Marner" is taught in the Decatur school, and it was of unusual interest to the students. The lady went to Bluffton this morning, where she will repeat the famous masterpiece of Eliot.

The Y. P. C. U. members who are endeavoring to win the most members for the blue side will be entertained by Miss Pansy Ball, at her home on Eleventh street Thursday night.

The Yeomen will organize a drill team at the meeting Monday night. All belonging to the order are requested to attend.

Mrs. Henry Roenamen, Mrs. Will Zwick and family went north on the interurban this morning, where they will attend a birthday and reunion party on the farm of the former's father, John Wishmeyer. The relatives and friends will enjoy a pleasant afternoon together. A sumptuous supper will be served this evening.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE

Shakespeare Ladies Meet this Afternoon—Other Notes

The Missionary Society of the U. S. church will meet at the church Thursday evening. Business will be transacted, after which the time will be spent socially.

The Evangelical Missionary Society will be entertained tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. Sol Linn.

The Entre Nous Club was entertained by Miss Electa Glancy Wednesday evening. Selections from the best music was rendered by several of the guests.

The Mite Society of the Methodist church will meet at the home of Mrs. Daniel Sprang on Madison street, Friday afternoon.

The Historical Club enjoyed a meeting of Bible study at the home of Mrs. John Fleming.

The Shakespeare Club meets with Mrs. Sprang this afternoon.

Sim Burke and Leo Sprunger of this city were the guests of honor at a six o'clock dinner at the home of Mr. Alpha Bowen in the country.

The Euterpean Club will meet at the home of Mrs. F. M. Schirmeyer on Mercer avenue, Thursday evening. Mrs. Fred Mills and Miss Annette Johnson have charge of the program. Miss Martha Kettler will be a guest. She will render several selections from Brahms.

A delightful and most pleasant surprise was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Wolfe of Blue Creek township in honor of Mrs. Clyde Wolfe, it being her twenty-third birthday anniversary. Although greatly surprised, it is needless to say that Mrs. Wolfe did ample justice to the grand dinner which was wholly prepared when she arrived. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. John Durfin, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Durfin of Pleasant Mills; Mr. and Mrs. Dan Wolfe, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Durfin, Mr. and Mrs. William Durfin, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Burkhardt, Mr. and Mrs. John Rhinehart, Mrs. Robert Gould and son Daniel, the Misses Laura and Virgie Wolfe, Katie Frazier, Lea Porter, Gladys and Bessie Durfin, Mary Rhinehart and Bessie Burkhardt, Messrs. Charlie Ross, George Durfin, Rollie and Clifford Durfin, Arthur, William and John Rhinehart, Harry Durfin, Harry Wolfe, Donald and Gordon Burkhardt. A grand time was enjoyed by all and each guest departed wishing Mrs. Wolfe many more such happy events.

JAY COUNTY VOTING TODAY

Their Campaign Closed Last Night With Big Meetings.

Jay county is today voting under the county local option law, and the day is not calculated to bring out a full vote, but these elections usually bring the people regardless of the weather. The campaign there like the one in Adams county, is reported by the local newspapers as being one of fairness and containing none of the mud slinging elements, that so frequently get into a campaign of this nature. Portland has no saloons now, they being remonstrated out last fall, under the Moore remonstrance law.

Rev. Spetnagle Delivered Interesting Lecture —Banquet

Another most delightful meeting was held by the Men's Club of the Presbyterian church last night, and an elegant time was enjoyed by all present. About forty men gathered to enjoy the festivities of the occasion. The Rev. Spetnagle ably delivered a discourse on the theme "Man's Interdependence" which appealed to all who heard it. The theme was an appropriate one for the occasion, and to those who heard it gave a new inspiration. After the lecture the men repaired to the parlors where a sumptuous luncheon was served to the delight of all. During the course of the banquet several talks were made, including one by Henry Krick, which was very interesting. The Men's Club of the Presbyterian church is an ideal organization. It is promoting interest among men in church work, and this fulfills its mission. The members of the club are noted for their hospitality and the visitors are well taken care of. More meetings will be held in the future at stated times.

the bill, and gave as his reasons that politics were too dirty for women to get into; that their place was at home, etc. Senator Archbold was in favor of passing the bill, and he, too, gave a talk in its defense. He was followed by Senator Graham who was against the measure. A vote was taken which resulted 14 to 12 in favor of the bill. A bill was then read asking that the forests be preserved by a law to be passed by the senate, but it was tabled by a second motion. Senator Watkins then introduced a navy appropriation bill and during the session several others were introduced and acted upon which deeply interested all present. After the business session the boys served delicious refreshments and received the compliments of their friends for their efficiency in conducting the senate.

Think of it. Why pay more when you can get them at such a saving in price. This is our fourth season and every year we sell more. Don't let any one tell you they won't grow, but as your neighbors we sell these in every corner of Adams county also Van Wert and Wells counties. If they weren't what we say, not for a minute would we handle them, thus hurting our honest business. Come in and pick out your supply before they are all gone. Washington, March 3.—About twenty-five thousand bills will die when this congress ends at noon on Thursday. Many of them are measures which have been discussed at great length and which at some time during the two years seemed likely to pass.

Washington, March 3.—Tomorrow there will be a sweeping change in the personnel of the Indiana delegation in congress. Old landmarks in the legislative arena will disappear, some to return later perhaps, and others to remain out of public life forever.
