J. H. HELLER, Manager.

The Democrats in the legislature made an honest effort to enact into law their campaign pledges, but an antagonistic senate would not permit them. The repeal of the metropolitan police law run the gauntlet and is now a law. It brings down to the people the government of their municipal affairs, and is a good law.

Speaker Honan is one of the best that has graced the speaker's chair in the Indiana house for many a day. He is so acknowledged by all members of the house, irrespective of party or politics, and has made a record that will be a credit to him as long as he may live. That the Democratic party in Indiana has so few Tom Honans is the only regret of the Democrat.

As a means of knocking out the saloons, the remonstrance plan is not in it with the secret ballot. That is being demonstrated in every county where an election is held. The remonstrance law is practically relegated to "innocuous desuetude," as Grover Cleveland would put it. That was what the democrats contended in the last campaign, and their position has been abundantly proven to be correct.—Columbia City Post.

Now it is said that powerful influences will oppose confirmation of Charles W. Willer as United States district attorney, and this brings to mind the fact that the Indiana Republicans are no nearer an adjustment of their internal dissensions, than they were when James Eli Watson was laid on the gubernatorial shelf last November. They have a few more cat fights to settle according to Marquis of Queensbury rules, before they will be ready to dwell together in peace and harmony.

We expect to see you at our Suit Opening, 9 and 10. Fullenkamp's.

IT'S THE LAST DAY

The Legislature to Adjourn After Completing the Work of the Session

THE APPROPRIATIONS

It Was Hard Work for Them to Get Together on this Bill

The legislature will adjourn some time today after action has been taken on the general appropriation bills, which by the way have been standing the fire of a conference committee, composed of two members of each legislative branch. This conference committee has been working since some time late Saturday, and during a session on yesterday, they again broke up over the appointment of some political patronage, and for a time it looked as though the great state of Indiana would again suffer from the old time mania of too much politics. Through the efforts of Governor Marshall the appropriations were whittled down to the lowest possible point, and as they will go through and receive the approval of the governor, they will be satisfactory as a whole.

There will be but little business in the legislature today except the passing of the general appropriation bill and the listening to an address by Vice President Fairbanks, who has arrived at his home in Indianapolis, after a public service of many years, the last four of which was spent as vice president of the United States.

Among the bills of interest in this county is the Mendenhall amendment to the three-mile gravel road law. The amendment is simply that the number of petitioners must exceed the number of remonstrators before a road can be built. As remonstrators are an unknown quantity in this county, the amendment is practically a dead letter.

INDIAN MAIDENS.

Once again a treat is in store for the patrons of the opera house. Where Frank B. Carr's Indian Maidens Co. will be the attraction Monday, March 8. A novelty is promised by Mr. Carr who says that his company this year will far excel his previous efforts and the popularity of this show is a fact. A company of thirty artists are seen in the first part, as also in the afterpiece, "The Diamond Palace." These two sketches are credited with being musical comedies in one act, exploiting situations that convulse their audiences with merriment from start to finish. For good clean genuine comedy it cannot be beat, and this fact alone has done a great deal toward the phenomenal success which this attraction has enjoyed all over the country this season. The crowning feature of all the many that the Indian Maidens have to offer is the chorus which it carries. Wardrobe is a point that has received careful consideration. As a consequence it is a gorgousness and flutter that defies description.

SAYS KIND WORDS

Fassett A. Cotton Issues His Last School Bulletin

A NEW OFFICER

Robert J. Aley a Democrat Succeeds Him in Office

Indianapolis, March 8.—In a farewell bulletin issued to the school teachers of Indiana, Fassett A. Cotton, superintendent of the department of public instruction, has kind words to say about Dr. Robert J. Aley, who in a few days will become the head of this department. In alluding to Dr. Aley the superintendent says: "We commend to the teachers and educational forces their new leader, Dr. Robert J. Aley, who will carry forward the work. With his training and solid worth as an educator and as a man there can be but one result in the immediate years to come. With due appreciation of the honors that have come to us and with an abiding faith in the educational future of the state, we transfer the duties of this department to our successors." In his farewell bulletin Mr. Cotton says further: "Indiana has the making of a great school system. In the hundred years or more a good foundation has been laid. In the last six years, we shall want to believe some progress has been made. We believe just as earnestly that in the next six years more progress will be made. It is essential, however, that as a people we realize that there is much room for progress. If we can avoid the Scylla of self-satisfaction and the Charybdis of uniformity we may come finally into the front. The conditions are hopeful. Our resources are unlimited, our forces united."

TO PEARLY GATES

Robison, Jeff Bryson, W. R. Smith and Messrs. Joseph and James B. Rice of this county and Mrs. Diggs of Marion and Fred Rice of Hammond. The deceased was a woman of many good qualities. She was naturally cheerful and ever willing to lend her assistance to the cause of right. Though past eighty years of age, she possessed a wonderful vitality until stricken by paralysis. The acquaintance of Mrs. Rice extended over a vast territory, and to all who knew her she was considered a valuable friend. The funeral services will be held from the M. E. church tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, Rev. Wilcox officiating. The remains can be seen from five o'clock this evening until nine and all of tomorrow morning.

LONG LIFE CLOSED

George Henry Hilgeman Gone to Eternal World

WAS ILL LONG

Old Age Played Important Part in His Demise

Infirmities of old age, together with the infection of a complication of ailments, have brought to a close a life of usefulness in the demise of George Henry Hilgeman, late of Kirkland township, who yesterday afternoon at one o'clock spoke his last farewell of Mr. Hilgeman, grief has come im-to those who had been dear to him.

Although born in Germany, the deceased has long been a resident of Adams county, and while here had established an acquaintance throughout the county exceeded by but few. His life has been one of good deeds of domestic indulgence, and he leaves behind a reputation envied by many, attained by few. Mr. Hilgeman was kind hearted and he was a believer in and a practitioner of philanthropy. He has lived seventy-eight years, three months and twenty-one days during which time he has been upright in principles and true to his every earthly obligation. His departure was signaled yesterday and the call was answered without a murmur as he sank into the sleep of the just. As a consequence of the death measurably to the family and friends of the man who may find consolation in the consciousness that the deceased has lived his life well. The funeral services will be held from the St. Luke Reformed church Wednesday morning at ten o'clock. The deceased is survived by his widow and several children.

GO TO PITTSBURG

Decatur Bowling Team Enters National Tournament

ARE AFTER PRIZE

Eight Men Will Go—A Great Time is Anticipated

The Decatur Elks' bowling team, consisting of eight men, will leave next Sunday morning for Pittsburgh, where Monday night they will play a series of three games in the national tournament which is now on in the Pennsylvania city. The local club will play on alleys seven and eight at seven o'clock Monday evening and they expect to get inside the money, or at least get in on the prize to be given to the Elks' team which scores the highest. There are but three Elks teams to bowl yet, and the high score at the present time can be surpassed by the locals. The Fort Wayne and South Bend teams are yet to play. Several members of the Decatur club will remain at Pittsburgh for several days, while a few will return the day following their contest. The Decatur crowd will be headed by Tom Peterson and William Berling. They expect to have the time of their life.

The Wolf and Desseruer bowling team of Fort Wayne will play the local team at the Palace alleys tonight, and an exciting contest is anticipated. The locals are making them all go some and they expect to win tonight.

The Elks will go to Fort Wayne Thursday night to play a series of games with the Centreville team.

Ask Your Neighbors

So many people scattered all over the American Continent have been cured by Dr. Pierce's Family Medicines that there's scarcely a hamlet where some of these grateful people are not to be easily found—ever ready to say a good word for the medicines which cured them and which very likely may cure you, if similarly afflicted. Look them up. They are walking advertisements for Dr. Pierce's medicines—ever ready to pass the good news along that these medicines cure when many others fail. Little advertised NOW, because their record of 40 years of cures makes great displays of their merits unnecessary. The great American people, pretty generally know of their unequalled record.
