The prospect of any considerable lowering of tariff rates is anything but bright. The bill now before the house seems to have been constructed with little or no regard for the welfare of the people who are so unfortunate as to be mere consumers. As we showed Monday, the wool schedule is about the same as that under which the country at present groans. Apparently there was no thought of freeing the people from any of the burdens which they now carry. Nor is there any hint that the bill will be improved. On the contrary, it is said that the senate, while retaining the present high duties, will insist on restoring those that have been cut down or abolished, to the old figure. The gloomier of our prophets are on record as saying that when the bill is completed it will be found to be worse than the present bill. Our people have favored tariff reform, as they favor it today, not because the present tariff fails to yield sufficient revenue, not because it is not sufficiently protective, but because it enhances the cost of living. This defect, which is vital and fundamental, is not cured. We shall not, of course, judge the completed measure in advance, for it is possible that a miracle may happen. But it does look as though the same old interests were about to win another victory, and to win it, as usual, at the expense of the people.—Indianapolis News.

CITY LIBRARY MONTHLY REPORT
Shows That Popular Institution in Thriving Condition.

Miss Annette Moses, librarian, has issued her report for the month ending the twenty-third of March. The patrons of the library are enjoying the books and the circulation has been splendid. Last month was a record breaker; this month the circulation is not quite so high. M. S. Smith has donated the "Red Book" to the library. This periodical is filled with the best reading matter, contributed by some of the leading authors of the country. The April magazines are coming in each day. The report is as follows: Number of books on the shelves, 3,625; borrowers, 1,567; number of books in circulation 1,844; gifts 2; highest daily circulation, 93; lowest, 51; average 71.

The bowlers were busy last night battling for supremacy in the league contest which has been on here for several weeks, and as a result the Berling's Five took two out of three games from the Postoffice boys. The games were all interesting and the scores were creditable. Dyke Frisinger made the only 200 score, but the boys all rolled very fair games, making each contest a spirited one. The results:

Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Hensley Entertain at Six O'Clock Dinner

THE SEWING CLUBS

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Lower Entertain Ladies' Aid of Union Chapel

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Union Chapel United Brethren church met today at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Lower, east of the city, where sewing and quilting were indulged in and an enjoyable and delightful time had. Among those present were Pastor L. Imler and wife of the United Brethren church of this city.

A very pleasant feature in Decatur social life are the clubs for the girls who are neither young ladies or little girls. Most of these girls are too old to play with dolls, and not yet big enough to enjoy themselves like a young lady would prefer. So the sewing club fills in very nicely. The girls enjoy the meetings very much, and employ their time profitably. Instead of having nothing to do, that is enjoyable, they go to the club. A number of Decatur women have expressed themselves pleased with the plan. A new club is being organized of girls. Among the pupils at one of the school buildings. Two clubs of this kind meet every week, the G. L. C. and Sewing Club. The former will meet with Miss Veda Hensley, Friday after school.

The W. R. C. are meeting this afternoon with Mrs. Rinearson on Tenth street. Very important business will be transacted.

Miss Ruth Ernst will be hostess at a meeting of the Entre Nous Club this evening at her home on Monroe street.

Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Hensley entertained Mr. and Mrs. Dick Miller of Indianapolis, and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Heller and children, Fanny and Dick, at six o'clock dinner last evening. To those who have enjoyed the hospitality of this delightful home, it is needless to say that the dinner was par excellence and the hours which followed were happily spent.

The Rebekah lodge initiated nine into their order last night. Five of the children of Phillip Baker, living west of town, were initiated. Ice cream was served to the large assembly.

Mrs. D. E. Studabaker will have as her guests at a six o'clock dinner this evening, about a dozen of her lady friends, the event which is to be an informal affair, being in honor of Mrs. Dick Miller of Indianapolis, and Mrs. Sarah Miller of Winchester.

The Historical Club was entertained last evening by Mrs. P. B. Thomas at her home on Third street. Mrs. S. D. Beavers read an excellent paper. Master Brice Thomas favored the guests with a vocal solo. Mrs. Otto Hanbold of Evanston, Ill., rendered an instrumental solo which was greatly appreciated.

GREATEST OF WESTERN PLAYS

Henry D. Carey's romantic play of the western plains, "Montana," will be the attraction at the opera house on Friday, March 26. This is the fourth successful season of "Montana," and a record of three and four return dates by popular demand in each city played, attests to the popularity of Mr. Carey's play. The question is often asked, what to can the success of "Montana" be attributed, the answer is, it is sane, human, consistent, plausible, clean and has the heart interest. Mr. Care, the author, knew his subject and his characters as they are in real life, having spent several years in "Montana," and a great many of the characters and incidents of the play are taken from life. There are no impossible situations, no missing papers, no will, no gambling house or saloon scenes, but a clean natural story of the west as it really is. The play is given a fine scenic production and the cast has been carefully selected and is well balanced.

The signal for the final struggle in the local option contest sounded at 6 o'clock that morning when every church bell in Benton county was rung for thirty minutes.

The spring rains have started and the annual flood stories should be due within a few days. The high water marks are broken every year and from the start today this spring should be no exception.

EASTER BONNETS

Our Social Editor Takes a Walk Among the Hat Displays

STYLES FOR SPRING

Include Many Shapes and Many Colors at Various Prices

The millinery stores of Decatur are filled with ladies hats for the spring openings. The windows of these places are quite gay with hats of various colors. Pass by every day and there is always a crowd of women and girls admiring the headgear displayed. The favorite colors this year are wisteria and old rose. Other colors are quite popular, as the customers generally select what is considered most becoming. The large hat is very stylish. However, the smaller hats are worn and liked, and the medium-sized hat is very desirable. There are all kinds of shapes this year; the mushroom style is very pretty and is generally becoming. "There are hats to suit all faces this year," as one milliner expressed it. The trimmings are of chiffon, satin drapery and jet. There is a large choice to select from and if milady cannot find one to suit she can select a frame and have one made to order.

KIDNAPPERS IDENTIFIED

(Continued from page 1) they have no criminal record. They planned and executed the steal possibly being aided at times by an ally or two. Willie Whitla has also identified the place where he was confined, it being an apartment house, known as the Granger and located about a mile and a half from Cleveland.

A special session of the grand jury has been called and convened here this afternoon. They will indict Boyle and his wife, who will then be taken to Sharon, Pa., for trial under the laws of that state. Great excitement has prevailed here all day and Billy Whitla as he is known is the lion of the hour.

Cleveland, O., March 23.—In the arrest here tonight of a man and a woman having $9,790 in their possession the police believe they have captured the kidnappers of Willie Whitla. In fact the woman in the case, who is greatly excited, admitted that she had been responsible for the kidnapping. When placed in custody at the central police station, she said to Captain Shattuck: "I am the one who planned the whole thing. There will be trouble for me and hell in Sharon tomorrow." Beneath the woman's skirts was found $9,790. All of it but $40 was bound in packages, with the original slips placed on the money when Mr. Whitla took it from the bank. Captain Norman Shattuck and Detective Frank Wood made the arrest in the east end of the city. When near the police station the man broke away from Detective Wood and ran toward an alley. The policeman fired two shots from his revolver into
