The chances are that Miles Furman of Winchester, who will be a candidate for the Republican nomination for congress in the Eighth district, will have opposition when the race is called, for it is expected that Senator Nathan B. Hawkins of Portland will again enter the race. Hawkins was the Republican nominee in the Eighth district during the last campaign, but was defeated by Congressman Adair. The Republicans of the Eighth, according to the word which comes to Indianapolis, are already setting up their pins for a determined battle in the next campaign. The district promises to be in better shape than it has been before.—Telegraphic Dispatch.

There are a few things you see in print that you have to take with a grain of salt, and one of them is the expected race of Senator Hawkins for congress. Uncle Nate may be a little dull, but he knows to a certainty when he has had enough, and the boys who are looking for a good thing during the heat of campaign, do not expect to find Uncle Nate on the firing line.
