Nearly 60,000 people have registered for a chance in the Coeur d'Alene land lottery, operated by Uncle Sam. But Uncle Sam's postmaster general will not permit a merchant to advertise a little give-away enterprise. Consistency is not always found at headquarters.—Columbia City Post.

The appointment of the Hon. W. P. Breen as a representative of the National Bar association in the movement inaugurated by the National Civic Federation for uniform legislation by the states is a tribute to that gentleman's ability and at the same time a compliment to the legal profession of Fort Wayne. The committee is composed of the very ablest and most distinguished jurists of the United States, and Mr. Breen takes high rank among them. Everyone in Fort Wayne, in or out of the legal profession, likes to see these honors come to Mr. Breen. To a brilliant mind he adds graces of person which have made him the subject of universal liking and admiration among all who know him.—Fort Wayne Journal-Gazette.

The conferees have agreed to provide in the tariff bill for the issue of $397,000,000 bonds to pay for the Panama canal. The correspondent of the Cincinnati Enquirer reminds us that "these figures bear a striking resemblance to the estimates of the ultimate outlay which were ventured by men who were opposed to the undertaking in the beginning, but who were laughed down as being wildly extravagant in their prophecies." The engineers originally estimated that the lock canal would cost $140,000,000 and that a sea level canal would cost $272,000,000. So now we see that the lock canal in process of construction is to cost $125,000,000 more than the estimated cost of a sea level canal. The estimates of the cost of the work have steadily risen, as we have accumulated experience. Changes have been made in the plan involving considerable added expense, until now we have congress preparing to borrow $397,000,000 to pay for the work. We do not suppose that any one who has studied the course of events will believe that we shall get through for $397,000,000.

Writing in the paper of which he is editor, Senator LaFollette of Wisconsin has the following to say about the new tariff bill:

The editorial says in part: "The Aldrich tariff bill has passed the senate in all substantial particulars just as the senator from Rhode Island dictated it. I substantially the same form it will become a law. It will stand as the crowning infamy of its sponsor and it will hang as the old man of the sea upon the neck of the political party responsible for its enactment.

"It was framed in secret conference with the representatives of special interests. It was framed in the dark and in willful ignorance of facts which by the platform pledges of the Republican party were bound to control in the framing of legislation.

"All efforts to harmonize its schedules with any recognized principle of tariff legislation are hopeless, for it is not based upon principle, but upon greed and graft and pull. Its passage in the senate was promoted by cheap trickery, robbery, chicanery and manipulation.

"There is hardly a powerful special interest or great trust combination in the country that is not made its special beneficiary. It is a slap in the face of overwhelming demand for tariff revision downward."

It must be remembered that Senator LaFollette is a Republican and he is in a position to know just how the new tariff bill was made. Besides, he is the sort of man who makes it his business to find out.

A BIG RACE MEET

Begins at Fort Wayne Wednesday and Last Balance of Week

OFFER LARGE STAKES

On Saturday Automobile Races Will Be the Program

What is heralded as the greatest racing event held in Fort Wayne since the days of the famous blue ribbon circuit will open in Fort Wayne Wednesday and continue through the remainder of the week, closing on Saturday with automobile races in which Smith and Brown, two of the world's greatest drivers, will participate. The races will be known as the Red Ribbon meeting and the promoters hope to make such a success of the affair, both from the standpoint of sport and attendance, that Fort Wayne will be able next year to break into one of the big circuits of the country and thus insure good racing every summer. Because of the fact that the Red Ribbon officials were able to secure dates between meetings of the big circuits, some of the best horses of the country have been secured for the various events and some notable records are looked for. The mile track at the Fort Wayne driving park is reported to be in lightning fast condition. Three great races, including a $1,000 stake race, will be run each day. Sixty horses have been entered in the stake races and every other event will have a big field of starters.

WAS BORN HERE

And Has Numerous Relatives Over the County

—Funeral at Albion

Mrs. Theodore Kennedy this morning received the sad news of the death of her nephew J. M. Harless of Chicago, who was drowned Friday afternoon, in the Chicago river near Hammond. Mr. Harless was born in this county, and has many relatives here who knew him well. He has lived in Chicago for a number of years operating a photograph gallery there. A week or so ago he and his family went to a beautiful spot near Hammond, where they were enjoying an outing living in a tent. Friday afternoon, Mr. Harless went in bathing and was seized with cramps, drowning before aid could reach him. The body was taken to Hammond and prepared for burial, and afterward was taken to Albion, Indiana, where other members of the family were buried. He leaves a wife and four children. He was a cousin of James Harkless formerly of the First National bank and who now lives at Paulding and also had a number of other cousins and relatives here who are greatly shocked over his untimely death.

Hamilton had a part of the money on deposit in another bank.

SILK FLAG FOR CARRIER

Brownstown, Ind., July 24.—William Cartwright, carrier on rural route No. 2, is gratifying the eyes of the patrons of Uncle Sam along his route by waving a silk flag in their faces. The first of each month Benton awards the silk flag to the one of his rural carriers who has sold the most stamps, postal cards and government stationery along his route. The patrons of the route watch for the flag as eagerly as do the carriers on the day of the awarding.

SHE MAY RECOVER

Mrs. Harry Fowler is Surviving a Serious Siege of Typhoid

IS AT HOSPITAL

In East St. Louis—Her Fever is Gradually Receding Now

Mesdames J. B. Stoneburner, Joseph Andrews and Misses Ada Barnett and Lula Stoneburner, returned this morning from East St. Louis, where they were at the bedside of Mrs. Harry Fowler, formerly Delota Beery, who for several weeks has hovered between life and death as a result of a serious siege of typhoid fever. Mrs. Fowler it will be remembered, was the victim of violent hemorrhages and the physician at one time gave up all hope for her recovery. She passed the crisis, however, and has since gained slightly although she is not out of danger. Last Friday her neck became so swollen that it was feared blood poisoning had set in, but a close diagnosis proved this not to be the case. With the very best of care and nothing unforeseen occurring the hospital physician states that there are chances for her recovery, and this is good news to the many friends of the afflicted woman. The fever is gradually receding and indications point to a gradual recovery.
