IT'S TO BE

A HARD ONE

These untimely frosty mornings indicate that the agricultural year down in New Jersey is not without wisdom in his prophecies of a cold fall, and what he terms "a riproaring winter," by which he means "intensely cold." He reports that the corn this season grew long "whiskers," and in this respect the New Jersey seer notes that the corn patterns after the wise farmer, who "raises" a good crop of hirsute appendages as the frost approaches. Then, too, the sunflower blossomed early. Because of this he predicts a blizzard of the 1888 kind about the middle of November. Then the apple crop was short; a poor crop, such as noticeable this fall, showing that the trees are storing up their sap and energy against a long winter and a "hard spell of weather." Yet more, the cabbage head is no mean indicator. This year, on this New Jersey farm, it is growing thick, tough leaves so that they may have warm covering for the cold weather which is coming. There are weather prophets in Indiana—acres of them—who tell by the bark on a tree, the migration of birds in early fall, the industry of the squirrel, etc., what to expect, but it seems as if none of them has yet based predictions on the growth of the corn "whisker," the early bloom of the sunflower, or the thick leaves of the cabbage. They should get busy. It should not be left for a

New Jersey seer to warn us against arctic conditions when there is such a wealth of atmospheric talent in the Hoosier state.—Indianapolis News.

President Taft has made a lot of trouble for the Republicans of Indiana. He has put it up to them whether they shall be loyal to him or to Senator Beveridge. Indeed, he goes even further than that, for by declaring that the Republican senators who voted against the new tariff bill took themselves out of the party, he puts the Republicans of Indiana in a position where, if they endorse Beveridge's course, they take themselves out of the party. And if they fail to endorse Beveridge they leave him entirely without a political home.

A BARN PARTY

Mrs. B. W. Sholty Celebrates Her Birthday—The Shakespeare Club

At the home of Mrs. Mary Reinking an old fashioned barn party which was given on last Saturday night in honor of the Miss Bertha Fox of Fort Wayne and Mr. Paul Reinking, of South Bend, was a very pleasant affair and enjoyed by all that were present, the evening being spent in playing games and a few recitations given by the Mr. Paul Reinking and Otto Holle, which everyone seemed to appreciate to the fullest extent. Those present were the Misses Bertha Krueckeberg, Tillie, Della, Lucy and Lona Holle, Clara, Louise and Lydia Bleke, Charlotte and Marie Reinking, Blandina Reinking, Marie and Ruth Marbach, Luetta and Frieda Koldewey, Sim Thieme, Lizzy and Hannah Baker, Laura Bleke, Bettie and Hedwig Reinking, Minnie Eiling, of Monroeville; Minne Bruechner, of Convoy, and Messrs. Edwin Steele, Otto Holle, John and Christ Bleke, Wille and Richard Bleke, Willie Beltz, Rudolph Weiland, Hugo and Walter Thieme, Robert Marbach, Roll and Grote, Reinhard Reinking, Ferdinand and Arnold Biezen, Edwin Schermer, Joseph Bleke, Simon Bleke, Ferd Reinking, Edwin and Gust Krueckeberg, Martin Krueckeberg, Carl Eiling of Monroeville, and Carl and Paul Hertz, Dick Etzler and Arthur Buechner of Convoy. A four-course luncheon being served during the evening.

Theater goers of Decatur should appreciate the fact that tomorrow evening they will have the opportunity of seeing "Saul of Tarsus" one of the greatest shows on the road with Eugene Moore, one of the greatest actors of America in the leading role. For four years this man was the leading man with Thomas Keene, the famous tragedian and he has served in a similar capacity under Frederick Ward, Mme. Helena Modjeska and Fanny Davenport. You are seldom offered such a production and by such actors in Decatur and every one who likes this kind of entertainment should take advantage of this chance and secure your tickets at once. "Saul of Tarsus" is a Biblical play and one that should be seen by everyone in this locality. Mr. Bosse has landed this splendid attraction after a hard tussle and he deserves a packed house that evening. The company carries its own special scenery and the electrical effects will far excel anything in this line ever witnessed in this action. If you miss this one you will regret it.

IT SHOWS PROSPERITY

Reports of the State Banks Shows an Increase in Resources.

Indianapolis, Sept. 28.—Reports from 263 state banks received by L. A. Wiles, state bank examiner under the auditor of state, and tabulated yesterday show a condition of prosperity, according to Wiles. The total resources and liabilities, loans, deposits, and reserve, all show substantial increases over the showing made June 23, the date of the last call. Of course crop returns account for a great deal of the increase, but it cannot account for all, according to Wiles, who states that the only conclusion to be drawn is that business activity has increased and the people are in a hopeful frame of mind regarding the future. "It is the best showing that has been made in my experience," said Wiles. The statement for the 263 banks, which does not include private banks, shows total resources and liabilities of $69,266,000. This is an increase over the last call of $3,200,000. An increase in loans of $1,300,000 is shown. The cash increase over the last call is $2,100,000. Deposits have increased $3,280,000. The deposits Sept. 1, were $54,263,000; loans $50,000,000 and available cash $16,620,000. The cash reserve is 30 per cent of capitalization, which is an increase in the reserve of 13 per cent over the last call. The remarkable part of the showing is that while deposits and loans have increased, the reserve has also increased. Usually increased loans disturb the reserve, lowering it to an appreciable extent.

NEWS FROM GENEVA

The cold weather has made every one brace up and wonder what they did with their last winter's supply of coal. The hardware merchants are selling stoves while the Economy store is busy chasing carpet beaters across the counter.

The display of gas stoves and the demonstrating at the Indiana Lighting company's office in the Niblick business block is attracting quite a little attention. About fifty contracts have been signed up and the men are busy setting the meters.
