L. F. MAILAND

Is the nifty dresser's friend
If you'd look well your old clothes send
To this house for clothes ill
Where they all orders quickly fill.
Send to Mailand, have them made new
And at a very low figure, too.
Have clothes cleaned and pressed
Keep them clean and be well dressed.
"Tis not so much what you wear
As how you keep it in repair.
Here ladies' clothes get special care;
If you're need pressing, take them
there.

each side being allowed a half hour each for arguments. The court instructed the jury at 8:30 this morning, and the jury was out about two hours, returning a verdict which read: "We, the jury, find for the defendant, that he be relieved from said bill in full, without recourse for damages."

Judge Merriman went to Bluffton at noon where he will hear the blind tiger cases against Manson Reiff. The latter was indicted by the grand jury last spring for maintaining a blind tiger. He was also pinched by a Pinkerton detective in August, these cases being upon the grand jury in-dictments.

SOCIETY COLUMN

Mrs. Alexander. A cordial invitation is extended to all to be present.

The entertainment given by the Lady Maccabees was exceptionally good, and was greatly enjoyed by those who were there to hear. A large number of people who had intended to come stayed away on account of the weather, but there was a large company there who greatly enjoyed the evening. Mrs. Andrew Artman opened the program by giving a history of the Maccabees lodge and a history of the ancient Jews whom the order imitates in virtue.

Following an instrumental solo by the high school quartet, composed of Messrs. Sherman, Beery, Howard Wisehaupt, Bruce Patterson and Don Burk. Mrs. Quincy Neptune gave an instrumental solo. Mrs. Kalver gave a reading. The program in order was as follows: Instrumental solo, Irene Eady; whistling solo; violin solo, Don Burke; instrumental duet, Mrs. Yoder and Miss Gayle Nelson; vocal solo, Glen Neptune; instrumental duet, Misses Ruby Miller and Electa Glancey; piano solo, Florence Sprunger. Every number was splendid and heartily encored and the Lady Maccabees extend thanks to those who took part.
