J. H. HELLER, Manager.

The Fort Wayne Journal-Gazette now names Hon. E. G. Hoffman for chairman of the democratic state committee, and as he is a democratic blood worth talking about, the mention of his name is worthy consideration by the leaders of the party.

The democratic state committee meets next week to issue the call for organization. At that time the apportionment will be handed out and the date for the district meetings will be named, and following that comes the meeting of the new committee and the election of a chairman who will have in charge the affairs of the campaign next year. The democrats all over the state seem eager and are ready on their toes, all of which indicates activity and good fellowship in the ranks of democracy.

In all probability Madison county will present to the next democratic district meeting the name of Mr. George T. Beebe, one of their favorite sons, as a candidate for district chairman and a member of the state committee for this congressional district. As Mr. Beebe is one of those fighting democrats that never has to be wound up, and is a born leader of men and an organizer of skill and ability, he will doubtless win an easy victory in the preliminary skirmish in the committee organization. The woods of Madison county are full of democratic thoroughbreds, but none of them surpass Mr. Beebe in the many excellent qualities of consistency and constancy to the noble cause of democracy. He is a yard wide and all wool, and the Democrat is glad to bear testimony to that fact.

WILL VISIT WASHINGTON.
Ottawa, Ont., Dec. 8.—The Hon. William Pugsley, minister of public works, is to visit Washington on behalf of the government in connection with the tariff. It is understood that with congress in session the minister will seize the opportunity of quietly and unofficially sounding the official representatives of the United States as to their views on the tariff relations between the two countries.

JUST IN RATIO

As Santa's Pack Increases, Do Those of the Mail Carriers.

THE HOLIDAY RUSH
At Postoffice Will Begin Next Week—Continue Till New Years.

Just in ratio as the pack of old Santa Claus increases do those of the mail carriers increase, and about Christmas time employees of Uncle Sam are about the busiest people on earth. The local postoffice clerks state that the holiday rush has not yet made itself felt here, but predict that with the beginning of next week they will have just about all the two hands of each clerk and carrier can well handle. The rush grows gradually heavier until two days before Christmas time when the volume of mail is three or four times the normal amount. This congestion continues until after the New Year, as old Santa carries about as many New Year presents as Christmas presents. Never in the history of the local office has it been found necessary to increase the postoffice force at holiday time, though the force is kept busy working over time. The holiday season is not exactly a picnic for the postoffice boys, and the government has given suggestions for the patrons that if they wish a sure and speedy delivery of their parcels, to send them out several weeks ahead of the Yule tide, marking them "Do not open until Christmas time."

In addition Happy Jack Zierath, a black-faced comedian, will appear in monologues and parodies, making a wonderful show for ten cents.
