THE REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION

The republican state committee, after fixing the date of their state convention at April 5, then determined to make it a one-day affair instead of two as has been the custom. Furthermore, there will be no speeches except such as have been carefully investigated in advance. The men now in charge of the republican state organization are fearful of speeches and of resolutions and are inclined to shy even at their own shadows. It is impossible to guess what may happen if the Hon. James E. Watson and the Hon. James A. Hemenway should ask the humble privilege of defending the tariff bill which Senator Beveridge voted against. And one stands appalled at the possible results that may ensue if the Hon. J. Frank Hanly and the Rev. E. S. Shumaker should ask leave to say a few words. The able Charles B. Landis, with his ship subsidy contract in his pocket, will hardly venture to repeat his celebrated effort about "All sorts of jobs for all sorts of men." It should be a notable convention—notable for straddling every important question now before the people—notable for smothering resolutions—notable for choking off speeches—notable for the absence of about everything which the honest and earnest rank and file of the republican party would like to see. But then it is a difficult task that confronts the organization just now in control—the task of riding horses going in opposite directions—of praising Beveridge for opposing a thing which it must praise Taft for doing.

GILPINS DRAW FULL HOUSE.

The largest audience of the week greeted the Gilpins at the Bosse theater last night and were kept in an uproar of laughter for two hours. The performance seems to get better each night. Many new and interesting features were presented last night. The country circus was funny in the extreme. Their tests in mental telepathy are realistic and prove without a doubt the transmission of thought from one to another. The Gilpins have proven to the public that mental telepathy and hypnotism is a science worthy of the attention of the educated class. Those who have not seen the Gilpins have missed a highly instructive, as well as an enjoyable entertainment. Entire change of program tonight.

FREIGHT WRECK AT PREBLE.

Scatters Four Cars of Coal Along the Railroad.

W. H. Sowards of Tocsin passed through the city this morning on his way to Fort Wayne. He stated that he had spent the entire night at Preble, assisting in clearing away the wreck of four freight cars on the west bound freight, wrecked there about 5:30 Thursday evening. The wreck was caused by the breaking of an axle and the sudden stopping piled up four of the cars, badly wrecking them. They were filled with coal and this was scattered along the way. Ten lengths of rails were torn up and one of the cars was so badly wrecked that it was necessary to burn the remains. Men were busy all night clearing it away. No trains were delayed, however, because the accident happened on the main track at the side of the switch for passing.

KICKED IN THE BACK

By Horse as He Was Passing—No Bones Broken—Injuries Are Bad.

Henry Baumann, a prominent farmer of northeast of Decatur, living on the Judge Heller farm, which he purchased some time ago, was seriously injured Thursday afternoon about 3 o'clock by a kick from a horse. Mr. Baumann was passing in the farmyard when the horses were frisking about, when the hoof of the family driving horse happened to strike him in the back over the kidneys, as he passed. Drs. Clark were called at once from this city and an examination revealed no broken bones, nor internal injuries, but very bad bruises, which are considered quite serious. Mr. Baumann passed a very bad night, and this morning was no better.
