"Senator Beveridge is 'certain that we shall carry the state this fall by a very heavy majority, a majority which indeed, will be found to be historic.' The democrats profess to be quite as confident of victory. They, too, think that they are going to 'win overwhelmingly.' We have no desire to judge as between prophets. The campaign has not yet begun. The polls are yet to be taken. The situation is exceedingly complicated, and there are suspicions of cross-currents beneath the surface, the force of which no man can estimate. What we question is the existence at this time of any information sufficiently accurate to warrant one in basing a judgment on it. No doubt Senator Beveridge's prophecy is based on facts that seem to him undisputable. And yet would even he, were he a 'chevalier d'industrie,' risk even money on winning 'overwhelmingly?' Would he advise a gentleman eager to 'place his money,' to give odds of two to one on any republican plurality at all? We warn the senator against confusing confidence and overconfidence. The former is an admirable trait. The latter has often brought disaster.—Indianapolis News.

The session of congress just closed passed appropriation bills disposing of one billion and fifty-four million dollars. This is more than double the highest sum spent in any year under Cleveland's administration, when there was a democratic congress. So reckless has been the increase in the cost of the national government that many republicans are protesting against the action of their party. Even Senator Aldrich has declared that his party has been spending $300,000,000 a year more than is necessary. And now ex-Governor Herrick of Ohio, who is now president of a big financial institution, has this to say with reference to the waste of public money: "If this reckless pace continues the pressure of taxation soon will become intolerable and municipal credit will be exhausted. If a remedy is not soon applied, not only will new issues of municipal, state and government bonds sell for much less than heretofore, but the bonds already in the hands of the public will depreciate in value."

Is there a republican leader in Indiana who cries out against government extravagance? Did anyone ever hear Senator Beveridge denounce it? Not a bit of it?

During the wedding the couple were attended by the groom's sister, Miss Kate Miller.

and his brother, Mr. Ed Miller, who accompanied them here. The newly wedded couple will be at home in the Newton Anderson residence on North Fifth street, which they had ready for their home-coming. The bride was formerly Miss Bertha Lettich of New Haven.

Mrs. Henry Peters of Fourth street who leaves soon for her new home at Fort Wayne, will on Thursday entertain the Ladies' Aid society of the German Reformed church. The ladies will conduct a pastry sale in addition to holding the regular session, which however, promises to be an unusually interesting one. A program of music and recitations will be given, the older ladies being prevailed upon to take a part of this.

Mr. and Mrs. James Archbold of east of the city entertained a company of friends and relatives at dinner Sunday. The party included Mr. and Mrs. Milo Sprang and children, Kenneth and William, of Fort Wayne; Mr. and Mrs. Gert Summers and son, Charles, of Poe, who came down by automobile; Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Schwartz and Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Kern and families.

The opening dance of the season at Maple Grove park was held last evening by the members of the Phi Delta Kappa order, and a large number were in attendance. Quite a number from out of the city responded to invitations sent them and a very good time was had. Music for the evening was furnished by Vane Weaver and Ralph Moser, and was much appreciated.

Miss Hilda Kern, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Kern, of east of the city, was given a pleasant surprise by the members of her Sunday school class of the Salem church. Games and music, with a supper, completed a happy day heartily enjoyed by all. The class includes, besides the honored one, Essie Koos, Clara Tricker, Frances and Nellie Helm.

The hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Steigmeyer, five and one-half miles northeast of the city, was thrown open Sunday to a number of friends, who were royally entertained at dinner. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Dan Niblick and children, Miss Mary Niblick, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Moran and daughter, Margaret.

Miss Eva Metzler left Saturday morning for Chicago, where she attended the wedding of Linnie Case and Mr. Chris Jenssen, which took place Saturday evening. Miss Case is known to many here, where she formerly lived.

Catherine Matthys, Frances Hoffman, Nancy Crouch, Nell and Hazel Hale have returned to their homes at Bluffton and Van Wert, Ohio, after attending the house party given by Miss Margaret Clark.

Mrs. Bridget Haefling entertained Monday at 12 o'clock dinner in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Haefling of Flint, Mich., and Mr. Gerald Dailey of Bluffton.

Miss Fanny Hite will entertain the Thimble club Thursday evening.

TO A SANITARIUM

Mrs. A. P. Beatty is Taking Treatment at Lafayette, Indiana.

PECULIAR AILMENT

Which Has Baffled the Physicians—Friends Hope For Her Recovery.

Mrs. A. P. Beatty, wife of the well-known attorney, who has been in failing health for a number of months past, was Sunday taken to the Lafayette, Indiana, where her ailment will be thoroughly diagnosed and where she will be treated for some time. Her illness is a rather peculiar one and has puzzled the physicians who have examined her. The Lafayette sanitarium is a branch of the famous Battle Creek sanitarium and is one of the forty-seven under the same management. Mr. Beatty, who accompanied his wife, was informed that it would require a week to ascertain the exact state of his wife's health and he will return to that place next Sunday to receive their report. Mrs. Beatty is one of the best known ladies in Decatur and her many friends hope she will recover rapidly under the care to be given her at the sanitarium.

NOT SO STRONG

Is Report From Bedside of Mrs. Jonas Tritch This Morning.

IS IN THE HOSPITAL

Decatur Friends Left Bloomington Much Encouraged—Steady Gain.

Mrs. John Vail and Mrs. John Stalter, mother of Mrs. J. C. Tritch, who were called to Bloomington by the serious illness of Mrs. Tritch, returned home Sunday. They stated that they left with much encouragement as the invalid had seemed to make a steady and noticeable gain while they were there. She is in the hospital at that place and is being given every care known to science. This morning a telegram was received from Mr. Tritch as follows: "Not so strong. Discharge increases. Recovery depends on strength. Little discouraged." The telegram, however, is not necessarily alarming, as her improvement from day to day has been steady.

MORE CHANGES MADE.

Former Assistants of St. Mary's This City Now Made Rectors.

Among the many changes made in the Fort Wayne diocese by Bishop Alerding recently were that of Father George Angermaier, assistant rector of St. Patrick's church, Kokomo, and formerly assistant pastor at St. Mary's church, this city. He has been appointed to the pastorate of the Immaculate Conception church of Albion and also the missions of Albion and Summit. Just two months ago he was transferred from here to Kokomo and his many friends here will be glad to hear of his advance. Another change was that of Rev. John B. Steger, assistant pastor at Garrett, to the rectorship of St. Joseph's parish at Covington and mission at Veedsburg. Father Steger was also assistant here previous to that of Father George, who is well known by the many people here.
