The Indianapolis Star evidently has the political situation in Indiana sized up about as follows: If the democrats lose, it is an insurgent victory; if they win it will cheerfully conceded that it is a republican defeat. The Star is a great newspaper, politically.—Huntington Morning Times (Rep.)

That Uncle Joe Cannon has lost whatever of level-headedness he may once have possessed is evident from his trip to Kansas, and his strenuous speech of two hours' length with the mercury at 105 in the shade, in an effort to justify the iniquitous tariff of last summer and other high-handed proceedings of the standpatters. Prudence would dictate that the less said on those subjects the better, especially to an intelligent, independent electorate like the people of Kansas.—South Bend Times.

"The country owes a debt of gratitude to the insurgents in congress who made the fight against the domination of special interests, and who placed the common good high above party regularity."—James R. Garfield (Insurgent Republican).

But as it was the democratic votes in both house and senate that counted for anything, it seems that the country owes much more to the democratic party. If the insurgents are honest and mean business they will come over into the democratic camp and abandon the pretense that they are still republicans.

The appearance of William Dudley Foulke of Richmond and Lucius B. Swift of Indianapolis as the real leaders of the republican campaign was foreshadowed by their presence at Oyster Bay as a special ambassador at the Roosevelt court of the Hon. A. J. Beveridge. Since then there has been confirmatory evidence of their selection as chief advisers and directors of the republican state organization. Just why these "dyed-in-the-wool" mugwumps—these heroes (and victims) of other fierce revolts from the regularly constituted republican authority—should be put at the helm now, it is hard to say. But it is probably because Senator Beveridge felt it necessary to furnish concrete evidence that he is a Simon-Pure Insurgent. Foulke and Swift, aided by the Hon. John Overmyer of North Vernon—who also has had a varied experience with several parties—should be able to put it over Watson, Hemenway, Durbin and others of that class quite handily.

MEMORIAL TABLET

The Elks Receive a Handsome Bronze Plate From Rome, New York.

MEMORIAL SERVICES

Special Services Will be Held at Their Lodge Room Friday Night.

The Elks lodge of this city has a handsome Memorial Tablet, just received from Rome, New York, from which place it had been ordered by the lodge in this city. The names of the deceased members will be engraved thereon. It has been planned to hold special memorial services at their lodge room of Friday evening, and at this time the memorial tablet will be fittingly dedicated for its future use. A program is being arranged and the memorial services on Friday evening will prove to be the most elaborate ever given by the Decatur lodge. They now have two deceased members, R. J. Holthouse and Anson VanCamp, and at the services on Friday evening the members will especially remember them with these special services. The memorial service is for the members of the lodge and visiting members only, but this fact will not in the least diminish their merit, so every Elk in Decatur should be present at that time.

SOCIETY DOINGS

Moonlight Picnic Given at Maple Grove Park For Miss Simison.

A DINNER PARTY

Given by Mrs. Harmon For Several Visiting Relatives.

Brevity and silence are two great cards, and next to saying nothing, saying a little is the strength of the game.—George F. Butler, A. M. M. D.

Miss Jessie Simison of Berne was the guest of honor at a moonlight picnic given at Maple Grove park Monday evening by the Entre Nous club. The party left on the 7 o'clock car, taking a delicious spread with them and spending the evening hours in the park, the evening being ideal for this occasion. The party included, besides the honored guest, the Misses Lilah Lachot, Pearl Purdy, Electa Glancey, Goldie Gay, Matilda Sellemyer and Messrs. Charles Lose, Frank Bremerkamp, Herbert Ehinger, Fred Fullenkamp and Lawrence Voglewede, and Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Lachot.

Mrs. Belle Phillips Harmon entertained at a 6 o'clock dinner Sunday evening, the following named guests from Fort Wayne: Miss Thresa Dirkes, Mrs. Dirkes and daughters, Mamie and Catherine, Miss Erin Flemming, Mrs. Madge Phillips Brokaw of Root township, Miss Hilda Smith of Decatur, in honor of Misses Gertrude and Jessie Phillips. Dinner consisted of everything in season, including ice cream and cake.

Mr. Calvin Black and Miss Josephine Spaulding of Fort Wayne, Mr. and Mrs. Al Steele were entertained at dinner by Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Laman.

A pleasant day was that of Tuesday spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Linker in Kirkland township. The occasion was a surprise on Mrs. Linker and it was a success in every way. More than sixty guests were present and each and every one of the favored enjoyed the occasion to the limit.

Mrs. Helen Berling entertained at supper Tuesday evening for Mrs. Tony Holthouse of Jonesboro, Ark., other guests being Mesdames Henry Vogelwe, Ed Ehlinger, Minnie Holthouse, Mary Smith, Catherine McLean and Miss Jessie McLean.

William Barger of Kirkland township was shopping in the city today.

APPEALED IN VAIN

Former Senator Hemenway Gave Senator Beveridge the Icy Mit.

IN FINE FETTLE

Democrats Over the State Report Their Prospects Bright.

DEMOCRATIC NEWS BUREAU.

325 Pythian Building, Indianapolis, Ind., July 20—(Special to Daily Democrat)—Those Indiana republicans of the once all-powerful Hemenway-Fairbanks-Watson machine who have remained faithful to the old standard in the day of its partial collapse are not concealing their satisfaction over the fact that former Senator Hemenway has given Beveridge a dose of his own medicine, and appeal, or that if it were not suggested and urged by him that he did not concur in it, thereby admitting the folly of his figures.

The story of Beveridge's visit and appeal to Hemenway in the face of his boast that Indiana will go republican by 50,000 is borne out by the recent announcement that Colonel Roosevelt will, at the request of Beveridge, William Dudley Foulke and Lucius B. Swift, come to Indiana and make at least one big speech for Beveridge. This announcement was made immediately following the boast of 50,000, and while the figures were still echoing through the astounded commonwealth. Even the republican leaders were amazed at his audacity. They caught their breath and looking timidly from one to another, they, too, shouted "50,000," and waited for the laughter. Why did Foulke and Swift go to Oyster Bay? Why did they ask Colonel Roosevelt to come to Indiana? Why did they believe it necessary for him to come? These questions are being asked by those who have given the slightest heed to Beveridge's prediction of 50,000. And some of these questioners are making answer. They cannot believe that Beveridge was in ignorance of the excursion and the republicans will carry Indiana by 50,000 is without foundation—utterly wild. The coming of Roosevelt into Indiana will not do the republicans any good. The big men of the party—two men who do things—will not be dictated to by any one, not even the ex-president. It will be like waving a red flag in their faces. Roosevelt's speech in Indiana will drive away more men than it will gain for the republican party."

Senator Frank Kistler of Logansport, who was recently a caller at the office of Governor Marshall, laughed at Beveridge's prediction that Indiana would go republican by 50,000. "It does," said he, "there will be no part of the 50,000 from Cass county. Everything is in fine shape for a democratic victory there."
