WHERE ROOSEVELT HAS ALWAYS STOOD

The LaFollette delegation to the republican national convention of 1904 was thrown out of the convention. The patronage and countenance of the national administration were given without stint to Spooner and the stalwarts in their fight to kill off LaFollette. Every sympathy of Roosevelt was manifestly with the anti-LaFollette wing.

In Iowa, likewise, during the long, heart-breaking struggle which Cummins led for the destruction of the railroad political oligarchy, Roosevelt was always counted against Cummins and for the oligarchy.

In Illinois, when the bitter elements were making a determined fight to unhorse Senator Hopkins, Roosevelt made Hopkins chairman of the committee on resolutions of the 1908 national convention, giving him an endorsement that resulted in Hopkins carrying the primaries—and the unspeakable Lorimer becoming senator!

In Kansas, when Long was fighting for a senatorial nomination, Roosevelt's influence was thrown to his side as against Bristow.

In Oklahoma Roosevelt was the leader of opposition to a state constitution which intelligent publicists have widely accepted as the latest and most emphatic word for progress in constitution making.

In Pennsylvania the exposure of the state capitol graft having endangered the republican control of the state, Roosevelt spoke in favor of party regularity at a time when every other leader of reform sincerely believed a republican defeat would be a magnificent achievement for the cause of progress.

In Massachusetts Roosevelt has always and uniformly been the friend and supporter of Henry Cabot Lodge, who is an absolutely dependable Tory. To such men as Joseph G. Cannon, James E. Watson and other leaders of Toryism in congress, Roosevelt wrote letters which, published at the height of crucial political campaigns, served as indorsements of the reactionaries to whom they were addressed.

At Cleveland Roosevelt practically commanded Theodore E. Burton to accept the republican candidacy for mayor against Tom L. Johnson, leader of the remarkable reform and humanitarian movement in that city. Burton had the support of the municipal monopolies, the "regular" republicans and Roosevelt! And Johnson received nearly 10,000 majority of the vote. —Hampton's Magazine.

Mr. Beveridge's special organ, the Indianapolis Sun, gives notice that "this year the progressive (insurgent) republicans do not intend to be fooled. They intend to be represented (dictate the candidates) or they intend to punish the powers that are." The Sun is a fool to print that kind of threats if it really has any interest in Mr. Beveridge's success.—Huntington Morning Times, Rep.

The Washington (D. C.) Herald says: "One thing is certain: Governor Marshall has made one of the best governors that Indiana has had, and from Oliver P. Morton down the list is a strong one." Coming from a republican paper this is a notable admission. But the statement is true, as everyone knows. Both Governor Marshall and his administration will be powerful factors making for democratic success in Indiana this fall.

LIFE.

So let the way wind up the hill or down,
O'er rough or smooth, the journey will be joy.
Still seeking what I sought when but a boy,
New friendship, high adventure, and a crown,
My heart will keep the courage of the quest,
And hope the road's last turn will be the best.

—Henry Van Dyke.

CLUB CALENDAR FOR WEEK.

Thursday.
Baptist Ladies' Aid—Mrs. Sam Hite.
Evangelical Aid Society—Parsonage.

Friday.

Christian Aid Society—Mrs. Arthur Fisher.

Mrs. F. V. Mills, president of the Euterpean club, has received from Mrs. Edwin A. Knapp, president, and Mrs. Jonathan Ridgeon, secretary, of the Winona Women's club, an invitation to the members of the club of this city to attend the annual Federation Day celebration at Westminster Chapel at Winona Lake, Wednesday, August 10th, at 2 p. m. Mrs. M. E. Johnson of Richmond will speak on "A Democratic Movement in Art." Mrs. Grace Julian Clarke of Indianapolis, president of the Indiana State Federation of Clubs, will speak on "School Suffrage for Women," and Mrs. Olaf N. Guldin, chairman of the household economics department of the General Federation, will also speak. The meeting will be followed by a reception. Arrangements have been made for a 6 o'clock dinner at the Westminster for fifty cents a plate. Winona's great Venetian carnival occurs the same evening and will surpass any previous production.

The club will welcome all visitors on that day.

There was an unusually large attendance of the members of the St. Vincent de Paul society at the home of Mrs. P. J. Hyland Wednesday afternoon, fully twenty-five being present. Among the business matters given attention was the election of Mrs. Henry Schulte as president of the society, succeeding Mrs. J. W. Bosse, who has faithfully served, but who, on account of serious sickness felt that she could no longer give attention to the duties.

The dance given by the Psi Deltas at Maple Grove park Wednesday evening is said to have been the best of the season, as everyone of the twenty-five members testify. Weaver and Moser did the music stunt to perfection and everything passed off to perfection. Many out-of-town guests were in attendance, including the Misses Bauman, Siefert, Margaret Todd of Bluffton; Will Hill of Sanford, Fla., and others.

The entire membership of the Black Rag club was in evidence at the regular fortnightly meeting at the home of Miss Fay Smith Wednesday afternoon, where the hours passed delightfully as the guests chatted over their needlework and enjoyed the delicious refreshments served by the hostess. Mrs. J. D. Dailey will entertain the club in two weeks.

Miss Bess Tonneller has returned from a three weeks' visit at Rome City and Fort Wayne. She was the guest of honor at a motorcycle party here by friends during her stay there.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin E. Rundel, Mrs. Charles Rundel of Fort Wayne, Mrs. Louis Finnan and daughter, Mary Jane of Chicago, arrived today from Fort Wayne for a visit with Mrs. M. J. Lutz.

Miss Ruth Hull of Connersville arrived today to be the guest of Miss Frances Merryman.

Mrs. J. C. Evans and daughters, Helen and Irene, and her sister, Miss Maud McLaughlin, of Wichita, Kans., were entertained at dinner yesterday by Mrs. C. C. Wilder, at her home at Monmouth.

IN THE ELEVENTH

A Republican Postoffice Row That is Giving the Powers a Headache.

AT HARTFORD CITY

Elam Neal Charged With Trading in P. O. Appointments.

DEMOCRATIC NEWS BUREAU.

325 Pythian Building.
Indianapolis, Ind., July 28—(Special to Daily Democrat)—A republican postoffice row, which is thundering through the Eleventh district—the reverberations of which have undoubtedly already reached the hills of New Hampshire, where Senator Beveridge is endeavoring to rest—has developed from the appointment of L. C. Johnson as postmaster at Hartford City. The defeated candidate is Henry Geisler, publisher of the Hartford City Times-Gazette, the big republican newspaper of that district, who says Elam Neal, revenue collector at Indianapolis, and Beveridge's dispenser of patronage in the Eleventh district, traded off this patronage in return for a congressional nomination for John L. Thompson of Gas City who is the father-in-law of Neal's daughter. Geisler has been postmaster and says Elam Neal had promised to reappoint him. High above the turmoil which is raging between the friends of Johnson, the new postmaster, and Geisler, is Geisler's scathing denunciation of Neal as the "prince of double-dealing politicians." He charges that Neal procured his re-election as republican district chairman by buying a vote for $25 and makes charges also against republican candidates for joint senator and joint representative, J. W. Sale of Bluffton and Jacob J. Maddox. Geisler charges that Sale's candidacy is in the interests of the "gigantic Bell Telephone trust." Mr. Geisler uses the Times-Gazette to publish to the world the duplicity of Neal who, he says, "is recognized at Beveridge's dispenser of patronage in that district. Neal was assisted by Maddox and Sale, says Geisler, "in the greatest game of double-cross ever perpetrated in the district." L. C. Johnson is county chairman of Blackford county and this office was supposed to have curbed his appetite for the postoffice. After promising that he would keep "hands off" in the Hartford City postoffice controversy, Neal, according to Geisler, promised (Continue on page 4.)
