HOW TO VOTE FOR KERN.

If you desire to vote for John W. Kern for United States senator, vote for Jacob Butcher, the democratic candidate for the legislature, whose name will be found on your county ballot. If elected, he will vote for Mr. Kern in the legislature. Mr. Kern's name will NOT APPEAR ON THE BALLOT.
The existing laws provide that United States senators shall be elected by the legislature. If this body is democratic, it will elect Mr. Kern. You can cast a vote for him only by voting for the legislative candidate in your own county.

VOTE FOR BUTCHER.

IT LOOKS DEMOCRATIC

The New York Herald's forecast of the political situation shows first that the next congress will be safely democratic by a substantial majority; that New York state is apparently landslideing to Dix, who will probably carry the whole democratic ticket through with him. This may insure control of the legislature and the election of a democratic United States senator. The moving causes to effect this great change are fear of Rooseveltism, Caesarism and the high cost of living.

In New Jersey Woodrow Wilson seems assured of election by from 10,000 to 30,000 majority.

Connecticut is debatable ground, with the chances favoring the republicans. Ohio seems safe for Harmon by an increased plurality.

In Massachusetts Foss is making such headway that the state is classed as doubtful.

In Kansas, Iowa, Nebraska, the Herald's correspondents report that the republicans will win and that it is not unlikely that the United States senate will be under democratic-insurgent-republican control.

Roosevelt's tour seems to have missed fire, and the former president's charges against democratic candidates Dix, Foss and Baldwin have acted as boomerangs. In a word, the Herald's reports indicate that the country, except in the radical belt, will follow the example of Maine, and on November 9th the democracy will be in a position to enter the next presidential campaign with an undisputed chance of success.

John W. Kern, democratic nominee for the United States senate, is no stranger to the people of Indiana. Candidate for governor in 1900 and in 1904, and for vice president in 1908, his name is familiar to every intelligent voter throughout the length and breadth of the state.

His opponent for the office to which he now aspires is the present senator, Albert J. Beveridge.

Senator Beveridge is also well known to the voters of Indiana, having been United States senator since 1899.

Senator Beveridge is classed among the so-called "progressive," or "insurgent" republicans.

He voted against the Payne-Aldrich republican tariff bill not because he has ceased to be an adherent of the "beneficent" system of protection, but by reason of the fact that he differed from his party associates on some question of detail in the distribution of the tariff plunder.

John W. Kern has all his life been opposed to that principle of legislation which "lays with one hand the power of the government on the property of the citizen, and with the other bestows it upon favored individuals, to aid private enterprises and build up private fortunes."

Senator Beveridge appeals to the democratic and independent voters on the ground that he has "progressed" (quite recently) to the point where he is inclined to question the wisdom of a schedule here and there in a general system of tariff taxation for the purpose of affording protection to certain industries, and to enable the owners of those industries to make "a reasonable profit" at the expense of the general public.

John W. Kern is opposed to that system altogether, root and branch, lock and key. He believes that the government exceeds its legitimate function when it employs the power of taxation against one class of individuals in favor of another, so as to impoverish the one class and give unlimited wealth and prosperity to the other.—Indianapolis Era.

NOW FOR THE LAST WEEK.

THE CAMPAIGN OF 1910 WILL SOON BE OVER. IT HAS BEEN ONE OF THE PECULIAR ONES IN HISTORY. NEVER HAS MORE INTEREST BEEN MANIFESTED, THOUGH THE ENTHUSIASM HAS NOT BEEN OF THE KIND THAT BUBBLES OVER. RATHER IT HAS BEEN A CAMPAIGN WHERE MEN THOUGHT THE QUESTIONS OVER AND OVER AND HAVE MADE UP THEIR MINDS. IT IS NOW ONLY A QUESTION OF GETTING OUT THE VOTE. THE DEMOCRATS NEVER HAD A BETTER ORGANIZATION IN INDIANA AND IT LOOKS AT THIS TIME LIKE A CLEAN SWEEP. EVERY WORKER IN ADAMS COUNTY SHOULD BE UP ON HIS TOES THIS WEEK. GET OUT THE VOTE SHOULD BE THE CRY. IF WE DO IT WE WILL HAVE THE HANDSOMEST MAJORITY IN HISTORY AND THERE ARE MANY REASONS WHY WE SHOULD. FIRST, WE WANT JOHN W. KERN ELECTED; SECOND, WE HAVE A CANDIDATE FOR STATE OFFICE FROM THIS COUNTY; THIRD, WE NEED JOHN A. M. ADAIR RETURNED TO CONGRESS; FOURTH, WE HAVE A SPLENDID LIST OF COUNTY CANDIDATES; AND SO WE MIGHT GO ON FOR AN HOUR. BUT IT'S ENOUGH. DO YOUR PART TOWARD GETTING OUT THE VOTE.

Bob Tucker, Indiana representative of the Cincinnati Enquirer, a friend of Senator Beveridge and a prominent republican politician of this state, admits in his Sunday letter that the senator is badly beaten, unless he can squeeze through by the aid of the democrats. No chance. Bob. The democrats are wise to the game. Kern looks pretty good to the average democratic voter.

The meeting Saturday afternoon at Geneva and Saturday evening at Berne were enthusiastic and well attended. Hon. L. Ert Slack was the speaker and his speeches were the kind that makes votes. He argued all the questions at issue in a clear, bold and forceful manner. Mr. Butcher presided at the Geneva meeting and Judge Merryman at Berne.

The independent voters, the democrats and many republicans in the New York state campaign, have a new slogan that they are using at this time: "You promised us a full dinner pail, Mr. Roosevelt. We now have an empty market basket." It is doing the work and John Dix will be elected governor by a majority of 100,000.

The democrats will wind up a week of hard campaigning with a smoker at the headquarters here next Monday evening. Every voter invited to be present. Jacob Butcher, candidate for representative, will be the speaker for the occasion.

Senator Slack in his Berne speech Saturday night said that no local issue was big enough or important enough that we could afford to lose the opportunity to send John W. Kern to the United States senate for the next six years.

Samuel M. Ralston will be the speaker at the closing meeting here Friday evening. All who have heard this eloquent man know that they will hear a logical, interesting and convincing argument.

Plans continue for an immense meeting at Fort Wayne Saturday evening when Governor Marshall closes the campaign. Two hundred from this county will join in the rally. Get ready; you are invited to go along.

It is said a man named Warner will make an automobile trip through this county this week some day. It's a shame to waste the gasoline. Johnny Adair is good enough for us.

WITH THE CANDIDATES

CHARLES A. GREATHOUSE, for Supt. Public Instruction.

The educator and the business man are combined in Charles A. Greathouse. He has succeeded in both lines and has pledged himself to follow out the policies of Robert J. Alea, if he is elected to the office now held by Professor Alea. The Indianapolis Star, republican, has endorsed Mr. Greathouse as a capable and efficient man.

LEW G. ELLINGHAM, For Secretary of State.

A man known to every reader of this paper, of which he has been the editor for many years past. Mr. Ellingham is the first man from old Adams county to receive the nomination for a state office from either party and he should receive the vote of men of all parties in this locality. He will appreciate more than we can tell any support given him and will if elected prove his thankfulness by serving faithfully.

EDWARD BARRETT, for Geologist.

For the office of geologist, the democrats of Indiana offer Edward Barrett of Plainfield, who was on the state ticket two years ago. Mr. Barrett possesses peculiar qualifications for the office and would render the best of service to the people of the state. He is a member of the board of trustees for the Eastern Hospital of the Insane.
