The merchant who thinks he can get along without advertising at this time of the year is badly and sadly mistaken. He needs it now worse than in season. This is the time of year when the live merchant turns his stock over, converts it into cash and gets ready for a new and bright spring stock. The public watches these things while taking advantage of the bargains you offer. If you want to sell your goods, try advertising in the Daily Democrat.

Albert J. Veneman of Evansville, who was chosen as speaker of the house of representatives, is a man of many good qualities. He won his place easily over a field of good men and was backed by many of the high class men of southern and central Indiana. His victory is the greatest because he has never served in the legislative halls and had no side-partners on whom to rely for assistance. He has served as city attorney of Evansville and looks like a man able to hold down the very responsible position to which his colleagues in the house have elected him. The organization of the house throughout and the senate, as well, shows that the democrats intend to keep their promises. They have selected men especially well qualified and will undoubtedly make a record that can be pointed to with pride.

We congratulate the democratic party on the excellent beginning that has been made in the choice of speaker. The lower house of the legislature, as it will be organized, will, in our opinion, honestly represent the people. Mr. Veneman has no connections that will in any way embarrass him. He is free of boss control, free of control by the interests. We do not believe that he will be a party to any scheme to betray the people. There is another thing from which the democratic party and the people may derive much encouragement, and that is the excellent character of the men who were seriously considered for the speakership. This means that there will be a sound and honest leadership in the house, a leadership that will be re-

OBITUARY.

Gordon Sherman, infant child of Wilber H. and Edith C. Alexander, was born January 7, 1909, and departed this life December 29, 1910, aged 11 months and 22 days. Just as the flower of infancy began to unfold its growing beauty and when the promise of the future, with all its glorious possibilities seemed sure, the frost of death blighted the flower and it is gone. The child had come to the stage of life when the infancy had merged into the filial, but Providence has removed it from the embrace of its loving parents, and a glory and gladness has gone out of the home reminding us that life is:

"Like poppies spread, we seize the flower, the bloom is shed, or like the snow fall in the river, a moment white, then melts forever."

The babe leaves to mourn its early departure a father and mother, one brother, Orlan and four grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Cowan of Garrett, Ind., and Mr. and Mrs. George Alexander of Van Wert count, Willshire township, Ohio, and many other near relatives. The funeral was held in the M. E. church, Sunday morning, January 1st, conducted by the Rev. E. R. Rop of Willshire, Ohio. Burial in Mt. Tabor cemetery.

A very enjoyable social was held Thursday evening by the Queen Esther Circle at the J. T. Vall home, when Miss Hulda Loser entertained. A very good program was rendered as follows: Piano duet, Neva Brandyberry and Lillian Rice; reading, Rosena Shoaf; piano solo, Jean Lutz; talk on mission work, Pansy Bell, Mrs. Dan Sprang and Miss Dossie Mann. The circle held its annual election of officers, the new list including: President, Hulda Loser; vice president, Pansy Bell; secretary, Bessie Jeffries; assistant secretary, Nellie Nichols; treasurer, Ruth Gay; mite box secretary, Dossie Mann; assistant mite box secretary, Agnes Eady. The next meeting will be with Miss Pansy Bell. A delicious luncheon was served by the hostess during the social period. There were many guests besides the regular members of the circle.

A large attendance characterized the meeting of the Woman's Home Missionary society at the home of Mrs. J. M. Dawson Thursday afternoon and a correspondingly interesting meeting. The subjects discussed were pertaining to the evangelization of the states and a very instructive program was carried out. The society has decided to do away with the serving of refreshments at every session, and instead, to have a missionary tea every quarter, making a special effort for the entertainment and attendance at these special teas.

Mrs. Phil Summers of Eleventh street hospitably entertained a company of ladies Thursday. The ladies were guests all day and a general social time, with good music, and with a sumptuous dinner at noon, will be long remembered by all. The party included Miss Maggie Hower, Mrs. Alex Hower, Mrs. Ed Ashbaucher and daughter, Margaret; Mrs. Jesse Schwartz and daughter, Lola; Mrs. Sam Wyatt and son, Vernon; Mrs. Sue Winters and daughter, Mary; Mrs. Stella Kern, Miss Jennie Archbold, Mrs. James Archbold and Mrs. Henry Meyers.

Miss Ethel Smith entertained a company of friends at supper Thursday evening at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Beik, on Third street, in compliment to Miss Vera Hower. The party included besides the guest of honor, the Misses Margaret Mills, Ruth Parrish, Edith Butler and Ruth Gay. Miss Hower, who is a student in the conservatory of music at Muncie, returned there this morning after a holiday vacation at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dal Hower.

The Helping Hand society of the German Reformed church met Thursday afternoon with Mrs. John Spuler and the annual election of officers was held with the following result: President, Mrs. Otto Repert; vice president, Mrs. Fred Repert; secretary, Mrs. John Spuler; treasurer, Lucy Fruchte. The session was a very interesting one, and the attendance quite good. A very enjoyable social hour followed the business period. The ladies are meeting today at the Sunday school room for the making of comforts for their sale.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Evangelical Lutheran Zion's church held an all-day session at the parochial school house today, where they busied themselves with quilting. At noon Mrs. Hobrock served a very appetizing dinner.

The members of the Needlecraft club enjoyed an unusually pleasant evening with Miss Agnes Gillig at her home on First street Thursday evening. On arriving, a slip of paper on which was written the name of an animal, was pinned on the back of each one, each member being in ignorance of the kind of animal she represented. The party then in mingling, endeavored to find out, from questioning, or by the action of the others, the name of the animal she bore upon her.

This mingling created a jolly air of good fellowship at once, and opened the way to still more pleasures, and very little sewing was done by followers of the Needlecraft. Another pleasant contest was a visit to the menagerie. Little box cages, very realistic in makeup, were set on the tables in true menagerie style, and in these cages were representative animals, suggested by various objects. For instance a kid glove in a cage represented a kid; a ten-cent pin, marked $1.85, suggested "deer," and so on. Each guest was given a little booklet bearing a hand-painted animal, and the answers guessed were written in these and kept as souvenirs. A marshmallow toast over the live cheerful fire in the open grate, with light from tapers shedding a cheerful glow over the scene was much enjoyed, and later the members of the club enjoyed a delicious supper.

The Loyal Men's class of the Christian church, taught by the pastor, the Rev. J. M. Dawson, held the first one of their regular monthly social and business sessions Thursday evening at the home of G. C. Steele. The evening was a very delightful one and gave promise of exceedingly fruitful and profitable times to come. Each member was asked to bring a friend as a guest, which they did. During the evening a delicious oyster supper was in order. Music, piano and violin, was furnished by Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Steele. The class will henceforth meet monthly.

FIRE AT GAS CITY.

(United Press Service.)

MARION, Ind., Jan. 6.—(Special to Daily Democrat)—A fire which destroyed the central plant of the Gas City electric light system at an early hour this morning has left the city without light and water. The blaze started in a barrel of waste and had gained such headway before the firemen arrived that a loss of $40,000 was entailed. Owing to the low water pressure the firemen could do nothing but watch the building burn.

FINE APPOINTMENT

Miss Amelia Tonnerre appointed One of Legislature Stenographers.

WILL BEGIN MONDAY

For Sixty-one Days' Session

--- Is Stenographer For Beatty Office.

Attorney A. P. Beatty this morning received a letter bringing with it the notice of appointment of Miss Amelia Tonnerre as one of the stenographers for the state legislature during its sixty-one days' session in Indianapolis. The appointment comes through the influence of Jacob Butcher, representative from Adams county, and is a fine recognition of the merit of Miss Tonnerre, who is one of the most efficient stenographers of the city—or state for that matter. The position carries with it a very fine salary. Miss Tonnerre will begin duty next Monday and she will return shortly after the close of the session, as her services will probably be required there for a week or so after the close to finish up the great amount of work that will necessarily extend over. Miss Tonnerre has served for some time as stenographer for the A. P. Beatty law office and is one of the most efficient in this line.
