"THE MAN ON THE BOX."

Probably the best play of its class, without exception, that has been presented in Belleville, Ill., for years was "The Man on the Box," which was the attraction last night. Belleville people who have read the book (and this probably includes the larger part of the population) fell in love with the story, and were anxious to have it interpreted from the stage. It seems as if most of these people were present last night, as every available inch of seating space was occupied, many people standing throughout the evening, while a few extra seats were provided in the aisles. In many cases the dramatization of a book does not follow the story as told by the author, but this cannot be said of the one under consideration. While it is true that the length of the story precluded the possibility of following out all of the details, nevertheless the most interesting parts were called out of the book and woven into the play in such a manner as to afford an evening of rare pleasure, particularly when interpreted by such a capable company. The piece requires very clever acting throughout, and each member of the company last night discharged his or her obligation in this respect in a manner that stamped them as actors and actresses of the first magnitude. The pleasure of the evening was considerably augmented by the magnificent costumes worn by the participants in the play.—Times-Democrat, Belleville, Ill.

"The Man on the Box," by Harold McGrath and Grace Livingston Furniss, will be presented at the Bosse opera house Thursday, February 2nd. This will be an agreeable surprise to those who have read the book, at it is one of the most delightful stories ever written.

ABOUT YOUR ASHES.

The board of safety, through the city marshal, issued a notice to all people who are in the habit of dumping ashes on the street that they must not do so unless they are spread. You are not allowed to empty ashes on paved streets, nor on mud streets without spreading them.

The social committee of the Ruth Circle of Loyal Daughters of the Christian church met last evening and issued about two hundred fifty invitations for their valentine social and "heart hunt" to be held in the Pen Hur hall Monday evening, February 13th. While an effort was made to extend a personal invitation to all the members of the young people's does not mean that only those are invited. Every one is cordially invited to attend. A great many amusements are planned and there will be refreshments of many kinds will be served for ten cents and there will be refreshment booths, where others can be obtained at pleasure.

The attendance and interest at the Presbyterian Ladies' Missionary meeting at the home of Mrs. S. D. Beavers Tuesday afternoon was very good and the collection unusually large. The program was carried out in full, after which the members lingered for a social hour, during which refreshments were provided. The next meeting will be with Mrs. D. B. Erwin Tuesday, February 28th.

Mrs. P. B. Thomas entertained the Historical club ladies Tuesday evening, the attendance being good. The hostess had a very good and practical paper on "The Unprotected Girl," and the others spoke on sub-topics along this line. Mrs. Congleton will be the hostess next week and Mrs. James Fristoe will be here from Winona at that time and will have the paper.

Lottie, Nellie and Iva Lett entertained at dinner Sunday a few of their Sunday school friends. Those present were Agnes Shafer, Hazel Hobbs, Aleta Shafer and Rollie Brodbeck, all of the Bobo Sunday school. They were joined later in the day by Frances Fuhrman of near Decatur, who took dinner with Perry Hunt and family of near Wren, Ohio; also Charles Henry of Wren. The afternoon was passed with singing and instrumental music, and all report a good time.

Mrs. Jacob J. Meyer entertained at 6 o'clock dinner Tuesday evening for Mrs. George Dorris and Mrs. Noah Mohler of Logan, Ohio, who are visiting with Frank Aurand and other relatives here. Mrs. Meyer was a former resident of Logan and the two ladies are friends of hers of many years' standing, and their visit together was one of mutual pleasure.

On account of the death of a relative of one of the members of the Flohrul de Purin club this week, there will be no meeting until Thursday evening of next week, when Miss Inez Coverdale will entertain.

Miss Marie Patterson is enjoying a delightful week at Howe, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. James Durand. Miss Patterson planned to stay only until Wednesday, but every afternoon and evening of this week were listed with social affairs for her, and she has found her visit so delightful that she will lengthen it, returning home Saturday.

Phillip Schieferstein and family of Root township were entertained at dinner by L. W. Frank and family.

The Priscilla Girls spent a happy evening with Miss Lena Meyer, games and contests, with a delicious lunch later, being very pleasurable features of the entertainment. Prizes were won by the Misses Irene Garard and Grace Purdy. The girls will meet next week with Genevieve Bremerkamp on Tuesday evening. The party included Mamie Harting, Alice Knapp, Irene Garard, Grace Purdy, Edith Miller, Genevieve Bremerkamp and Anna Meyer.

The C. B. L. of I. will give a box social at the hall Monday evening. Every girl is requested to come with a box of luncheon and the boys, of course, are to be on hand to buy them. Every one is invited.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Graham went to Fort Wayne this afternoon and will be guests at dinner of Mr. and Mrs. F. Federspell, after which they will attend the Elks' charity play at the Majestic theater.

The Thimble club will be entertained Thursday afternoon by Mrs. Wesley Hoffman.

Miss Kate Ginley will entertain the G. W. C. girls Friday evening.
