If you love good coffee but do not do the buying in your home you too should read this ad. through.

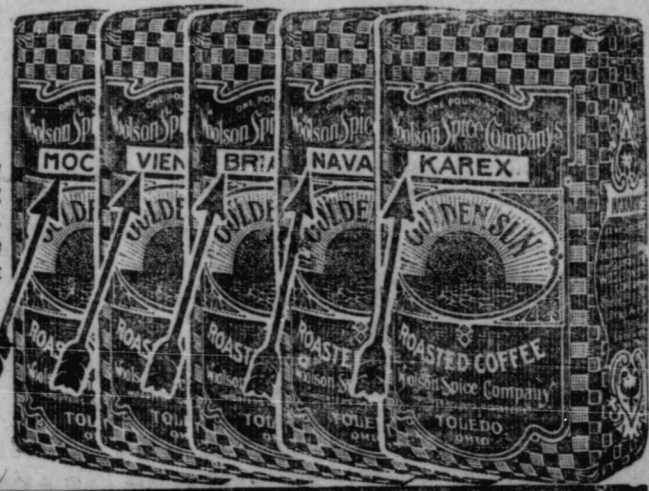

Very, very few people know how to buy coffee, for coffee is a matter of Taste—Flavor—Aroma, something you can't exactly take hold of and say, "this is it." Good coffee and poor coffee is good or poor, largely according to the taste of the people drinking it. Of course there is a great deal of genuinely poor coffee—coffee kept in open bins or sold by irresponsible peddlers—coffee with a flat, stale flavor because the natural oil of the coffee berry has escaped. Yet thousands have to drink that kind of coffee because the one who buys doesn't know better or doesn't stop to think—or expects to save. In reality it is the poorest economy for it takes much more of that kind of coffee to make a good cup than the right kind properly packed and sealed.

Golden Sun Coffee is grown, ripened, roasted, blended and packed by the oldest and largest house of coffee experts in the world. It is put up in pound packets, hermetically sealed at the critical moment after roasting to save for your table all the rich, natural volatile oil which is the life of the coffee berry. Golden Sun Coffee is put up in five different blends to suit the five distinct tastes of all coffee drinkers. Kares is coffee of a keen, tangy, sparkling character. Navarre for those who want a piquant, high-flavored coffee. Briardale produces the soft, mellow, velvety cup. Vienna is rich, savory, and aromatic in flavor and bouquet. Mocha & Java gives that distinct brew produced only by the most expert blending of these famous grades.

Golden Sun Coffee

Choose the flavor that is delicious to your taste. Then ask the one who buys the coffee for your table to buy that particular blend of Golden Sun Coffee and see if you don't at last get your ideal cup of coffee.

All grocers have Golden Sun Coffee and the Golden Sun Table of Tastes and will assist their customers to select the right blend. Every experienced grocer is enthusiastic over this sensible way of giving to each customer the coffee that is most satisfactory to each particular taste, and settling for all time the constant old coffee difficulties.

but have received no apparent benefit until I tried Parisian Sage. My hair is soft and silky, and while before I commenced using the remedy my hair was falling fast, was dry and harsh, faded, and altogether unlovely, now just within the past few weeks several have remarked how lovely my hair was. It is also fine just for a dressing, leaving the hair soft and fluffy. It removes dandruff, and cures itching scalp. I certainly take pleasure in recommending Parisian Sage."

home which was recently erected on the site of the old homestead which was destroyed by fire. His son-in-law, Ed Bultemeyer, and family reside with him and all the children of the aged man, and their families, with other relatives and friends, are at home today, joining in the celebration. Will Zwick and family and Henry Koene-mann and family and Mrs. Lisette Bultemeyer and daughter, Luella, of this city were among the party.

The life and works of James Russell Lowell, the poet, under the leadership of Mrs. J. R. Parrish, made the Europeans' meeting last evening at the home of Mrs. F. V. Mills an unusually interesting one. A solo by Mrs. Harry Starr of Bluffton was a pleasing feature of the evening and Mrs. Mills' aunt, Miss Eva Hill of Washington, D. C. was an out of town guest. The club will be entertained next Thursday evening by Mrs. Starr at the home of her mother, Mrs. Eli Sprunger, Mrs. Fruchte and Miss Schrock having the program on opera in America.

Mrs. Charles Elzey was a pleasing hostess to the members of the Orient club Thursday afternoon. After a time spent with their needlework and chatting, an hour of progressive peanuts was in order. The first prize was won by Mrs. Emerson Beavers and the booby by Mrs. C. D. Lewton. At 5 o'clock a tempting luncheon was provided. Two new members were present with the club at this meeting for the first time, they being Mrs. C. D. Lewton and Mrs. D. B. Erwin. Guests besides the club members were Mrs. Emerson Beavers and Mrs. E. A. Mann, and the regular club members were Mrs. John Stewart, Mrs. Harry Helm, Mrs. I. Kalver, Mrs. Wid Dorwin, Mrs. Charles Murray, Mrs. Charles Hower, Mrs. H. S. Lachot. Mrs. Lachot will be hostess next Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Emma Schafer of South Bend is here for an extended visit with Mrs. C. C. Schafer.

Mrs. Noah Mangold entertained the ladies of the Christian Aid society this afternoon.

Mahlon Harmon and Charles Woodward returned home from Columbia City, where they have been looking after business affairs for the Horse Sale company.

Management and Policy

A bank's success depends chiefly upon the character of the men back of it, and to the conservative policies to which they adhere.

Realizing their responsibilities to the public, the stockholders of this bank have placed its management in the hands of directors who actually map out its policies, and they in turn have selected to carry out these policies a group of officers who have the confidence of the banking world, and who have been for many years intimately associated with the financial upbuilding of the city. HAS CONSUMPTION

Miss Laura Callow of Wren, Ohio, a sister of Mrs. John Adam Smith of this city, is lying at the point of death with consumption, with which she has been afflicted for some time past. Mrs. Smith returned home this morning from her bedside and stated that she could survive but a very short while and the end is being looked for by the many relatives and those in charge.

For the past month she has been sinking rapidly, and it could be plainly seen that the end was fast approaching. She has been living with her brothers, for whom she has been keeping house since the death of their father, which occurred a short time back. She is well known to many here, having often visited with her sister and also with her brother, Horace Callow, who recently moved to West Plains, Mo. All hopes for her recovery have been abandoned and Mrs. Smith stated that she was scarcely alive. Her many friends here and at Wren patiently await the outcome.

Ground was broken today for an addition to the Hotel Murray. It is to be located on the north of the present building and will be built to conform with the present building, both as to appearance and convenience. It is probable that the new addition will be used for a bar.

Mrs. Herman Tettman went to Ft. Wayne to spend the afternoon with her niece, Miss Blanche Hart, at the St. Joseph hospital, where a week ago today she underwent a slight operation. She is getting along very well.

P. B. Dykeman, Union township, 2½ miles northeast of Decatur, has ten bred Glits for sale. Prices right. Phone 13-G. If you need one you better get in on this deal—quick for they are going to be sold. 5313*

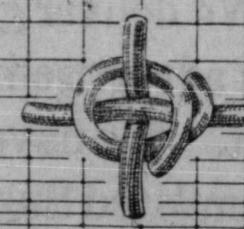

We have ten or twelve loads of dirt which can be had for the hauling. Apply at once to the Decatur Lumber Company. 5312
