ABOUT THE SICK.

Veronica, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Anker, was operated upon Saturday for the removal of adenoids, Drs. Beavers and McMillen performing the operation. Mrs. C. J. Weaver being an assistant in caring for the child. The operation was a most successful one.

Miss Mary Bogner was on the sick list and unable to be at work at the Schlickman & Girod restaurant today.

B. W. Sholty, who returned a week or so ago from the Lutheran hospital at Fort Wayne, where he was operated upon, has recovered and is able to be down town.

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Wilson and daughter, Mildred, changed cars here this morning from Ohio City to Fort Wayne, where the little daughter will enter Hope hospital for an operation on her eyes, in the hopes that an affection which produces a crossing of the sight will be remedied.

Marcella, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick K. Kinney, who for several weeks has been quite sick with lung fever and other ailments, remains about the same, and not much change for the better is being noted in her condition.

Charles, nine-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Keller, is improving daily, and it is now thought he will recover without much trouble. He is able to be up and about the house and his parents are much elated over the rapid improvement which he has been showing recently.

Mrs. Anton Krunnemaker, who has been quite sick the past four or five days with stomach trouble, became worse last night and for a while it was thought she could not survive. She is better, however, today.

The Thomas Perkins family today received word from Mr. Perkins, who is with his rather-in-law, Lyman Blossom, at Ann Arbor, where Mr. Blossom underwent an operation for gall stone trouble last Friday, to the effect that Mr. Blossom is not feeling as well as he should, but that his condition is not serious. He is sixty-eight years of age, and formerly lived in Blue Creek township, this county, lately retiring and going to Wilshire to live. He is quite well known here. A gall stone, a little larger than a pea, was removed from the gall duct.

Mrs. Henry Bauman of Monmouth is recovering exceedingly well from her operation of a short while ago.

ROYAL NEIGHBORS' SOCIAL.

The Royal Neighbors are arranging for a very good social next Tuesday evening, April 17th, at their hall. There will be a fine program and a number of amusements, and the band, recently organized, and comprising twenty or more members of the Royal Neighbors, will play on that evening. The public is cordially invited. A fee of ten cents will be charged. 82c

Tantalizin' Days.

Heah come dem tantalizin' days, Wif half-time sun an' half-time haze, De kind dat wraps yo' in a maze Ob Springtime dreams.

Yo' sit outside an' soak up sun An' tell yo'self of Wintah's done—Doggone! Yo' fool thoughts even run To catfish streams.

Yo' go to bed at night an' pray De sun tomor' shine lak today, But, w'en yo' wake—out dah dey lay—Ol' snow an' sleet.

Folks, tain' no use to growl and pout, De good Lawd knows whut He's about Des grab whut sunshine He gibs out, An' call it sweet!

More than one hundred and twenty-five enjoyed the social given Tuesday evening by the Royal Neighbors at their hall, and those who know the hospitality of these who are "Neighbors" in every sense of the word, know that Tuesday evening's entertainment was no exception to the good standard. There was a delightful program of music and recitations and a very appetizing luncheon was served. The lodge cleared a nice sum to add to its growing fund.

Mrs. J. T. Merryman was hostess to the Sewing club Tuesday afternoon, the usual good time being in evidence.

This evening at 6 o'clock at the home of the bride's father, George Dutcher, north of this city, will occur the wedding of Miss Grace Dutcher, to Mr. Delma House, the Rev. J. C. Valentine officiating. A company of relatives will attend the wedding.

The last meeting of the Historical club for the season was held Tuesday evening with Mrs. E. S. Moses, Miss Blackburn having a very good paper on Roosevelt's administration, others contributing with talks on sub-topics. Mrs. Helen Blossom of Fort Wayne, a member of the club, was present, and will also attend the Shakespeare club this afternoon at the Hooper home. The election of officers took place at this meeting, though there was really no change, the same ones continuing in office. They are: President, Mrs. Jane Crabbs; vice president, Mrs. Nannie Miller; secretary, Mrs. Helen Blossom; treasurer, Mrs. Carrie Burns. A committee comprising Mrs. S. D. Beavers, Mrs. J. C. Sutton and Mrs. G. H. Myers, was appointed to arrange the study for next year. The closing meeting of the year was largely attended and the evening very pleasantly and profitably spent.
