"BARRIERS BURNED AWAY."

"Barriers Burned Away," in play form, is coming to the opera house Monday, October 9th. Many are those who have read this famous novel with interest and many an ounce of midnight oil has been burned by the readers of the country to whom the story proved so interesting, that the book refused to be closed until the story was finished. The play is said to be even more interesting than the novel, though that seems hardly possible.

The theme of the story is founded upon the great Chicago fire which wiped out the barrier of wealth that existed between the love of a poor young man and a wealthy and haughty young woman.

George Middleton, the dramatist, is said to have translated the story to the stage with a care and with the fidelity that shows respect for the novelist's name and the book's fame.

Messrs. Gilson & Bradfield have given the play the usual sumptuous mounting and excellent cast that is characteristic of their productions.

TORE UP THE TRACK.

At 2:30 Friday afternoon extra 44, a fast freight on the Clover Leaf, had a wreck on the reverse curve just east of Peterson. The train had started out of Bluffton to make the run to Decatur and was progressing smoothly until at the curve, a defective flange on one of the cars near the middle of the train climbed the rail and threw the truck at an angle across the track. The speed of the train caused two cars to follow in the path of the truck and over half a mile of track was torn up, and the cars damaged. A message was sent to Delphos and the wreck crew from there came to the scene, while another train picked up all the section men east of Marion and brought them to the scene of the wreck. As soon as the cars were gotten out of the way the section men began fixing up the track, the traffic being delayed about five hours. None of the crew were injured as they were in the caboose.

CUT HICKORY TREES.

Some time Wednesday some persons entered the large woods on the Elias Crist farm four miles southwest of the city, and cut down several second-growth hickory trees to secure the hickory nuts thereon. The destruction of the trees was discovered late Wednesday and the track of the buggy used by the parties was followed some distance, giving a pretty good clue. However, to be sure and to secure further evidence a detective agency was notified and a detective is now working on the case. A vigorous prosecution is promised the guilty parties.

STEP TO PREVENT FIRES.

People to Begin Study and Clean-Up Monday, October 9th.

Indiana will take her first step in a systematic effort to prevent fire by observing "Fire Prevention Day" in every school and city Monday, October 9th. The $5,000,000 property loss by fire in this state each year has finally gained her attention and the proclamation by Governor Thomas R. Marshall setting aside the fortieth anniversary of the great Chicago conflagration as a day to study fire prevention and clean up the business and home premises, resulted.

Next Monday, following instructions given in a pamphlet issued by Charles A. Greathouse, state superintendent of public instruction, the pupils in the public schools of the state will be taught how they can help prevent the death and property loss which is growing larger each year. During 1910 $500 worth of property was destroyed every minute in the United States and more than four people killed every day as a result of carelessness or negligence which caused the fires.

Following the plan of Ohio and a few other states Superintendent Greathouse sent to all the schools of the state, lesson leaves containing instruction in fire prevention.

These leaflets show that most of the fires result from carelessness by individuals. Matches are one of the greatest sources of danger and of the 10,000 used every minute in the United States more than 3,300 of them cause a fire. The lesson is, use safety matches or be more careful. Gasoline is another danger and the resolutions for the school children provide for more care in using fire about the oil. If all the pupils adopt the resolutions it will mean that several thousand hands will hereafter prevent rubbish to accumulate and that they will never start a fire where there is danger of its spread.

Eat at Holty's once and you will always do so. The best and cleanest.
