Entered at the postoffice in Decatur, Indiana, as second-class mail.

The Boehme and Ralston press committees are working overtime these days, boasting their favorite for the governorship candidacy. Both men are strong and the race promises to be an exciting one. The convention will probably be held during the first week in March.

The Haug land north of the city is being surveyed by representatives of the Larrode Construction company, who will build the big factory. They state it is a perfect factory site, which will work out nicely, and within a week or ten days the buildings will probably be staked off.

A society has been organized in St. Louis to investigate what becomes of all the discarded chewing gum, it being claimed that a thousand tons are chewed and thrown away each day. It may be the home of some important germ. Oh, well, it's something for some one to do, and if they get any pleasure out of the search, let 'em go.

Attention is called to the fact that it is not necessary to register to vote at the coming democratic primary. Any person who voted the democratic ticket in 1910, or any first voter, who will be entitled to vote at the next November election, may vote at the primary. The registration will occur next summer, the first meeting being in May.

Under the statute of Indiana, it is the duty of the board of commissioners, township trustees, road superintendents and road supervisors to keep in repair and in passable condition, all highways in their respective jurisdictions, along or on which rural free delivery mail routes are established. The penalty for not doing so is two dollars per day and the supreme court has held the law good. It is, therefore, important at this season of the year that each officer does his duties. It is foolish to expect a county to spend enormous sums of money to build excellent roads and then allow them to be cut to pieces.

Today is November 15th—the month half gone. Just fifteen more days till Thanksgiving, and forty-six more days till January 1, 1911.

Quite a number of people are in the city these days, the early setting in of inclement weather making it bad for them to get around at their farm work, and thus enjoy a little freedom.

Dr. J. S. Coverdale left last night over the Clover Leaf for Marion, Ark., where he will spend the winter. He expects to return here about the first of June next. During his absence his son, Dr. E. G. Coverdale, will look after the practice of the firm. Mr. Coverdale makes these trips each winter, the climate of that country being very beneficial to him.

Mr. Krimmell, the piano tuner of Ft. Wayne, is here for a few days. Persons wishing piano tuned, leave orders at the Murray hotel, phone 57, at their earliest convenience.

On a man's wedding day he may be heard to quote, "I came, I saw, I conquered." On his first anniversary it is generally, "How the mighty have fallen."—John Emery White.

The Needlecraft club, which was to have met this week with Miss Mamie Kitson, has postponed its meeting until Thursday of next week on account of the quarterly services at the Methodist church.

Mrs. Jesse Sutton entertained the Historical club Tuesday evening. Mrs. R. S. Peterson, who was to have had the paper on "Social Features of Africa," could not be present, so the paper was read by Mrs. Sutton. Mrs. Jane Crabbs will have the club next week.

The ladies of the Sewing club spent

Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. A. R.

Bell, laying aside their needlework at 5 o'clock for a delicious luncheon. Mrs. P. G. Hooper will entertain the club in two weeks.

Mrs. John Green very pleasantly entertained at 12 o'clock dinner Tuesday in honor of several of her friends, and a most happy occasion is the report of those invited. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kintz, and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Dolch of Flint, Mich.

The Bachelor Maids will be entertained tomorrow evening by Miss Adelaide Deining. The evening of pleasure which was to have been held on Tuesday evening, was postponed until Thursday, owing to the wedding of the hostess' brother, Frederick, to Miss Ocie Cowan this morning.

Mrs. H. Berling was hostess Tuesday at 12 o'clock dinner, given in honor of Mrs. Helen Burns of Covington, Ky., and Mrs. Margaret Toley of Cincinnati, Ohio. Mrs. J. H. Vogelweide and Mrs. E. H. Kilbourne of Fort Wayne were also numbered among the guests.

Miss Bertha Kinney entertained the Y. L. E. club Tuesday evening, sewing, luncheon and games being entertainment features. Miss Lillian Meyers will be hostess at the meeting next Wednesday.

Fully thirty-five attended the business and social meeting of the Young People's Alliance at the home of Miss Vernie Smith last evening. After the business was disposed of, a very good musical program, with songs by the Evangelical Junior choir and an instrumental duet by the Misses Zelda Snitz and Crystal Kern were enjoyed. Among the entertainment features also was a menagerie contest. Imitation cages held various articles, suggesting the names of animals, and the guessing of these proved very interesting. The December meeting, which will be the second Tuesday in the month at the church, will mark the semi-annual election of officers.

Miss Vivian Closs of Fort Wayne and Miss Marie Gass were guests of Miss Marguerite Gerard at supper.

O. P. Mills, the city mail carrier, was thirty-four years young yesterday, and last evening invited his fellow associates from the postoffice to spend the evening with him, which they did in a pleasant way. Games were in order, and after this, there were most delicious refreshments, consisting of "the best hickory-nut cake I ever ate" (said one who was there), ice cream, sandwiches, pickles, olives, coffee and other good things. Mr. Mills was presented with one of Gene Stratton Porter's books. Guests were W. A. Lower, W. R. Dorwin, H. D. Rice, C. M. Rice, S. E. Hite, George Everett, C. E. Hocker and Jesse Helm.

The United Brethren Ladies' Aid society is planning for its dollar social to be held at the parsonage Thursday evening of next week, November 23, the program for which will be announced later. Each member is earning a dollar and at this social will report and give her experience in earning the money.

Mrs. Emma Daniel went to Fort Wayne this morning and this evening will give an address before the Woman's Home Missionary society of the Trinity M. E. church. Mrs. Daniel is vice president of the conference association and is often called upon to give addresses and to take part in the work of the various auxiliaries.

There will be a called meeting of the Ruth Circle tomorrow evening at the Rev. Dawson home and all members of the society are requested to be present.

The Tri-Kappas met with Mrs. Dale Moses Tuesday evening, where their regular business session was in order, followed by a social period.

SUGAR BEET ORGANIZATION.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 15.—A meeting of beet sugar growers and refiners that may result in the formation of a permanent organization to represent the industry will begin tomorrow. Representatives from Michigan, Wisconsin, Ohio and several western states are in the city. An annual production of 500,000 tons of beet sugar is represented.

BEGAN THIS MORNING.

Bernardine Heidemann this morning began work as clerk at the Winnes shoe store and from now on will be associated at this place of business. In addition to this she will also have charge of the Adams Express company's collecting and is already associated with her new line of work.

Third rank work at the K. of P. hall Thursday night. All members requested to be present. Other important business to also be transacted. Please be there.—Fred Ashbaumer.
