Wilson wants your vote.

Don't be woozy—win with Wilson.

If you are with us vote with us. Win with Wilson.

Wilson will win. Contribute your vote to the result.

Wilson seeks to serve, not to dictate. Put your trust in him.

It's in the air. We are going to win. Share in the great victory.

Write it in letters of living light across the sky election night—Wilson has won.

Stand up and be counted. Your ballot is a certificate of faith and confidence that Wilson will appreciate.

The slogan has been sounded throughout the land—"Win with Wilson," and the people will answer "We did."

Wilson is free-handed, unhampered and unbound. If he is elected, as surely he will be, he will belong to the people.

Hang the banner on the outer wall—"Wilson and Victory." It's coming and it's coming to us. Swell the glad tidings by your vote.

Wilson says turn the government back into the hands of the people. It is for the people to respond, and take possession of their own.

You will regret it if you are not in on a good thing. Satisfy your conscience that you have a right to rejoice in the fact that you voted for the victor, and the greater will be your enthusiasm as you participate in the celebration of Wilson's election.

Read the message of William J. Bryan to the American people, on the eve of this great election. You will find it on the first page of today's issue and it contains much that will convince you of the earnestness of the battle this great commoner has been making.

Get in line tonight. Join in spreading the doctrine of democracy. It means so much to you and your family and your community. Hear the speeches at the court house. It will do you good and no difference what your position you should listen to the argument of men who have studied the questions.

Mr. Rondthaler, the bull mooser billed to appear here last evening failed to materialize and local enthusiasts took the opportunity to talk to those who gathered. If the crowd of last night is a fair test, the progressives are not as strong here as they have been heralded. By actual count the crowd was forty-two men, women and children.

A. J. Beveridge, progressive candidate for governor, although running on a platform which has a county option plank in it, did not defend county option four years ago, and is held responsible for its omission from his party platform two years ago, therefore cannot be acceptable to temperance people.—Berne Witness.

Shoes which sell for four dollars in this country sell for $2.56 in London. Shoes which sell here for five dollars sell for $4.05 there. Ladies' serge dresses which sell here for $5.00 sell in London for $2.84. Men's suits retailing for $12.00 in this country are sold in London for $5.82. The same thing is true of goods in practically every line of goods used by the common people. The statements can be verified in many ways. There are in Decatur several people who recently lived in London and who will verify the statements.

The g. o. p. is divided. Of that there seems to be no doubt. Just which side, the regulars or the progressives have the best of it, no one seems real certain, though bets are being offered in this city that Taft will have two hundred more votes in the county than Roosevelt. Some claim the regulars are succeeding in their efforts to line up the stray ones and thus save the organization for the future, while others declare that the third party movement is stronger than a week ago. What's the difference? The democrats are stronger than ever, better organized and ready for the battle of next Tuesday. With the enemy hopelessly divided there can be but one result, a glorious democratic victory.

DOINGS IN SOCIETY

Miss Marie Patterson a Hostess—A Hallowe'en Party at

THE HAMMELL HOME

Mrs. Nettie Schrock Will Have Missionary Meeting Tuesday.

Let us all resolve, first to attain the grace of silence; second, to deem all fault-finding that does no good, a sin; third, to practice the grace and virtues of praise.

—Stowe.

One of the most jolly of the Thursday Hallowe'en parties was that of the Misses Ruth and Faye Hammell. A 'witching' maze of pumpkin heads, jack-o-lanterns, autumn leaves and harvest-home products, beautified the home and provided the true setting. A den was made into a witch's abode, and here Mrs. Jennie Smith of Portland presided as fortune teller. The Misses Ruth and Faye Hammell masked precisely alike, taxed the guessing powers of the guests, and the correct guesses determined the forming of "sides" for a contest in biting swinging apples. Bob Meibers was the lucky prize-winner in this contest. With a marshmallow in each cheek the guests told stories or sang as long as the marshmallows remained in their mouths, and much merriment was created by this. There was music and dancing, and tempting refreshments, all thoroughly enjoyed by the following: Juanita Boch, Mary Frisinger, Grace Butler, Ruth and Alma Bowers, Ruth and Faye Hammell; Bob Meibers, Sam Miller, Walter Corbett, Clyde Hendricks, Sherman Beery, Dwight Lachot, Merle Teeple and Forest Vail.

The Presbyterian Woman's Missionary society will hold its November meeting Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Nettie Schrock. All those who desire to contribute to the missionary box to be sent to Gary should bring the contribution at this time. The program will be announced later.

Miss Okla Clear, former chief telephone operator of Bluffton, and Mr. Irvin Burnett of Fort Wayne were married at Garrett Thursday noon, at the home of the bride's sister. The groom is manager of a sale barn in Bloomingdale, Fort Wayne.

A party of thirty-five women from the Ladies' Aid society and from the Young Women's Bible class of the South Side Baptist church gathered at the home of the Rev. and Mrs. C. E. Ehle yesterday afternoon in celebration of the anniversary of the latter's wedding. The event was a complete surprise to Mrs. Ehle. A pleasant afternoon was spent and before their departure the guests presented Mrs. Ehle with a handsome set of silver spoons.—Fort Wayne Sentinel. Rev. Ehle was pastor of the Decatur Baptist church before going to the Fort Wayne church.

A few guests joined the Needlecraft club at the home of Jessie Magley Friday evening. A Hallowe'en party was given and the appropriate atmosphere was provided by giving it in the basement. The wierd light from candles hooded with yellow pumpkin faces fell on the rough beams overhead, festooned with gourds, flowering dried shrubs, and bitter-sweet berries, while corn fodder and sun flower stalks were also used in decorating. The guests came masked and while they were waiting to be identified the wierd effect was heightened by long-meter music from a grind-organ procured for the occasion. One section of the basement was given over to a burlesque art gallery, and another to the witch and her kettle hanging from the tripod. From the kettle were drawn fortunes by each guest. Another amusement was an impromptu program by the guests, each one being given a rhyme which designated what her contribution, whether story, song or riddle, was to the program. The refreshments were given buffet style from a buffet table, converted from the long carpenter's table. The cover was orange-colored paper, the doilies, paper napkins, with Hallowe'en emblems. Festoons of yellow and black paper were drawn from the table lengths and caught in the center overhead with jack-o-lanterns. In the doughnuts were a ring, thimble and coin, signifying marriage, spinsterhood and wealth for each of the three recipients, Helen Sheets, Etta Mallonee and Agnes Gillig, whose lot it was to secure them. A flash-light picture was taken. Miss Etta Mallonee will entertain in two weeks.

Miss Vera Meyers was received as a new member of the Alba Theta club Friday evening at the home of Miss Edna Miller. The circle was opened also to include Miss Clara Lang as a guest for this evening. Decorations of the home were bowls of autumn flowers and foliage, and after sewing, the girls found a burlesque art gallery an interesting contest taxing their ingenuity. Music and refreshments completed the pleasing entertainment.

The regular fortnightly meeting of the Thimble club ladies with Miss Marie Patterson Friday brought the delightful round of sewing, conversation and refreshments that make the gatherings of this little circle so pleasing to its members. Its circle was enlarged Friday with two guests—Mrs. Oscar Lankenau and Mrs. Don Quinn of Chicago. Mrs. Fred Patterson has invited the club to be with her in two weeks.

The Misses Florence Meyers and Neva Brandyberry assisted Miss Lillian Rice in entertaining the Queen Esther Circle Friday evening at the Rice home. An interesting study of "Orientals in America" was carried out under the leadership of Mrs. Dan Sprang, and music was a pleasant feature of the program. A piano duet by Irene Eady and Celia Andrews, and a vocal solo by Cecil Andrews were enjoyed. Plans for furnishing supper for the Eastern Stars in the near future were consummated.

A Hallowe'en 6 o'clock dinner party was the form of the delightful entertainment accorded friends by Miss Lillian Rice. The centerpiece of the table was a pumpkin, whose generous hollow was filled with apples with their pretty contrasting colors. Hallowe'en jack-o-lanterns shaded the lights and the season was also suggested in the place cards that designated the covers for the following guests: Reba Quinn, Florence Meyers, Neva Brandyberry, Gretel Shoemaker, Winifred Burk, Mary Frisinger, Irene Smith and Eda Butler.

PUBLIC SALE OF DAIRY COWS.

The undersigned will offer at public auction on the David Gerber farm, three miles west of Decatur and one mile east of Preble, beginning at 10 a. m., on Monday, November 11, 1912, the following live stock: Twenty-five extra good dairy cows, about half of these with calves by their side, balance will be fresh from day of sale to March 1. Among these are a number of extra good Holstein heifers. A few good Holstein heifers. These cows were not bought for sale purposes but are our own dairy cows we have been milking the last several years. Owing to other business interests requiring our attention we are going to quit the dairy business and the stock will be disposed of on this date. These cows weigh from 1200 to 1400 pounds and are in extra good shape. This is your opportunity to secure the right kind of milch cows or feeding stock. A few good stock bulls, some good feeding steers, some food feeding heifers. One full blooded Holstein bull, coming 3 years old; 1 team good work horses, will weigh about 1300; 1 brown mare, colt by side, weighs about 1300; 1 bay mare, weight about 300; 4 registered Shropshire rams, 1 year old; 25 extra good breeding ewes. Also farming implements and 750 shocks extra good corn. This sale will be held rain or shine, under cover.

Terms—On all cattle and sheep a credit of 3, 6 and 9 months with 5 per cent interest will be given. Horses and corn will be sold on 9 months' time, without interest. Approved security is necessary in all cases and no property is to be removed until settled for.
