The electoral vote for Wilson and Marshall is the largest ever given any ticket. The victory is complete. Win with Wilson! Wow!!!

Something near five hundred voters in Adams county failed to cast their ballots on Tuesday. The same is true in other counties, due no doubt to some extent to the registration laws, to the fact that the result was known before the day came, and that it was therefore impossible to create as much interest as usual. It's perhaps just as well though, for the victory is sufficiently complete to please and satisfy the most exacting democrat.

The vote given Lew Ellingham in this county is the source of greatest pleasure to us. He was given a plurality of more than two thousand votes and in every precinct in the county his vote was such as to prove the loyalty of his friends. He will continue to serve as secretary of state, having been elected by a plurality in the state of about 160,000. We know he appreciates the approval of his two years' service, and especially that in old Adams county.

Richard K. Erwin was elected as judge of the supreme court and the fact that he ran ahead of the ticket in Allen and Adams counties is no doubt the one thing that makes the honor greater. We congratulate him on the high honor, knowing that he will serve his state in such manner that will bring credit to himself and to this county, his old home. He is clean and honest and capable and will make a record worth while on the bench in the highest court in the state.

Well, it's all over, and the "we told you so's" are plentiful. Wilson and Marshall will serve as president and vice president of the United States for four years. The congress is overwhelmingly democratic and the senate will probably give a slight majority, enough to permit the democrats to put into effect laws that will govern the vicious business combinations. Every effort will be made to do this without affecting the business of the nation and we have no doubt it can be done. Of course there are those who will be disappointed if hard times do not come, and if the yellow press can make it, we will have it. On the other hand the great majority of people in this country right now believe in progressive policies and will assist in securing them. The outlook is very bright indeed and we predict that the next four years will be the most prosperous ever known in this or any other nation. If the democrats do what they have promised, they will continue to have the confidence of the people and to remain in control. If they don't they will be removed with as little sympathy as was Mr. Taft and the others who promised a revision of the tariff downward and did just the opposite.

The Euterpean Club Postpones This Week's Meet Indefinitely.

WEEK'S SOCIAL CALENDAR.

U. B. Aid--Mrs. John Foughty.

Friday.

Christian Aid--Mrs. Burt Mangold.

"It would be a monstrous world if all thought alike. Yet how often we set others down as peculiar simply because their ideas do not agree with our own."

The Euterpean club meeting scheduled for this evening at the home of Mrs. J. C. Patterson has been indefinitely postponed.

The delightfully informal time with their needlework and luncheon, which characterizes the fortnightly meetings of the Orient club, was in order Wednesday afternoon when Mrs. Otto Kirsch entertained, there being no other guests than the club members.

The German Reformed Ladies' Aid has announced its next meeting for next Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Herman Sellemeyer. Their dollar social will be held at that time.

The Port Wayne Journal-Gazette this morning announces the issuance of a marriage license to Rell L. Archbold and Miss Geneva Rogers. Mr. Archbold is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. M. V. Archbold, formerly of this city.

The Shakespeare club reached an interesting stage in its study of Spain Wednesday afternoon, when the study of the kings was taken up. The paper on "The Three Philips of Spain" was given by Mrs. John H. Heller, and each member answered to the roll call with items from Spain's Religious Repressions, there also being readings and quotations bearing upon the general subject.

Miss Clara Bultemeier will go to New Haven Sunday to attend the wedding of Miss Lena Nahrwald, daughter of Mrs. Mary Nahrwald of the place, to Mr. Carl Kieselring, of Ft. Wayne, which will be solemnized at the Goeglein Lutheran church near New Haven. Two hundred guests have been invited to the wedding reception at the home of the bride's mother, later. The bride is a sister of Ernst Nahrwald, well known here.

The Afternoon club had its usual delightful meet with Mrs. Clem Voegele, where the afternoon was devoted to "five hundred." Mrs. J. H. Meibers will be hostess at the next meeting which has been deferred until Thursday, November 21st.

The ladies of the Zion's Lutheran Aid society left at noon today for Fort Wayne, where they will be guests of the Emmanuel Lutheran Ladies' Aid of that city. Those who went from here were Mrs. H. Wehmeyer and children George and Martha; Mrs. William Schamehloh, Mrs. William Welland, Mrs. Sophia Hobrock, Mrs. C. D. Biberich.

When Rev. and Mrs. G. C. Owen of the Christian church, returned home from prayer meeting Wednesday evening, they found that about fifty of the members of their congregation had preceded them there to give them a surprise. They had taken with them baskets of good things, from which a feast had been spread on a long table. After supper there was music and a general good time that will be remembered long by both the pastor and his people.

SUPERINTENDENTS MEET.

The North Central Indiana City Superintendents' association convened in this city this afternoon for their annual meeting. There are about twenty-five cities with membership in the association, and it is expected that a large per cent of them will visit this city during their meeting. The plans for the meeting included a visit to the Bluffton public schools this afternoon, and tonight at 7:30 a meeting will be held at the Bliss hotel for the purpose of discussion concerning the Bluffton schools. There will be another meeting on Thursday morning for discussion of subjects relating to the schools, and at noon Thursday all of the assembled superintendents will depart for Indianapolis, where they will attend the state superintendents' meeting. The North Central association is composed of about twenty-five cities and superintendents who had registered at noon today were: E. E. Rice, Decatur; E. J. Lewellen, Mt. Vernon; L. N. Hines, Crawfordsville; O. C. Pratt, Wabash; P. C. Clauser, Elwood; A. L. Trester, Alexandria; J. C. Sanders, Columbia City; E. E. Roby, West Lafayette, and O. M. Pittner of Frankfort. There will be a number of others register tonight or tomorrow. --Bluffton News.

Caucasian and Ural Lamb

The new fur fabrics for fall

so perfect in texture that only an expert can distinguish them from the real fur.

So different from the fur coat of "grandmother's time," which was worn season after season regardless of style or lines, are the fur coats now. They are designed with the same lines--the same new features as the tailored styles. And it requires very skillful designing to give these heavy fur fabrics the fashionable slender lines.

Elaborate braid fastenings

The only suggestion of trimming on these exquisite coats is the fastenings. These are made of beautiful braid (frogs) with long silk tassels. The large buttons are also covered with braid.

These coats are lined throughout with guaranteed satin, in colors ranging from a lustrous gold to a dark rich purple--very much the same colors as prevail in the tailored coats and suits.

Large collars--deep cuffs

Large collars, with a shawl effect, are used. These collars are made so that they can be buttoned up high around the throat, thus making the bothersome scarf unnecessary.

Deep turn-back cuffs, in many instances of a different fur entirely, are used on sleeves.

Our line of fur fabric coats includes models in Caucasian and Ural lamb. Your shrewdness will win you the best in the theatre and evening parties. You will be surprised at the excellent values. Come in and make your selection before the assortment is broken.
