Write it 1913. It may go a little strange for a few days, but you will get used to it.

Friday, June 13, 1913, ought to be a lucky day for President Wilson, who believes that thirteen is his luckiest date.

The new year certainly got a good start so far as the weather is concerned and it's all right with us if it just keeps it up for twelve months.

The review of the past year as shown on first page gives an idea of the many important events that occur within a year. Nineteen thirteen is a book of equal interest and none can tell what the volume will include.

Perhaps the most important event in today's record, marking the entrance of the new year, was the inauguration of the parcels post. Just as the clocks were striking the hour of twelve at midnight Postmaster-General Hitchcock sent the first official package. It is a loving cup and was sent to the postmaster at New York, who will return it for preservation in the national museum. The postage was twenty-seven cents.

A New Year Thought.

"You can never tell when you do an act."

Just what the result will be; But with every deed you are sowing a seed.

Though its harvest you many not see.

"For life is the mirror of king or slave—

"Tis just what we are and do, Then give to the world the best you have,

And the best will come back to you."

Never was the advent of a New Year greeted so cordially, and with so great and prolonged demonstration at last night. Whistles sounded for fully fifteen minutes, the boom of guns, the strains of music, the sounds of laughter, as well as of tears and prayers, were mingled. In many of the churches special services and watch meetings were held, and many homes were thrown open for social affairs. Today the greater number of the business houses are closed but the homes are keeping "open house" and friends are given cordial greeting. Many family reunions will mark the day as a particularly happy one.

The Misses Mabel and Georgia Yoush of Monroeville, Ind., and Irma Houck of Decatur and Eva Brokaw of Fort Wayne, who have been visiting Miss Pauline Cole during Christmas week, returned to their homes today. Miss Cole entertained the following Garrett young ladies Saturday afternoon and evening in honor of her house guests: Mary Jack, Mable Steckley, Earl Bass and Edna Van Fleet. An elegant six o'clock dinner was served all, and the guests remained for the evening. Miss Cole accompanied her guests to Fort Wayne today and after a brief visit there, she will proceed to Decatur where she will visit her grandparents during New Year's.—Garrett News.

The Ruth Circle will have an unusually interesting meeting Thursday evening at the home of Miss Margaret Daniels. Each one attending is requested to bring a piece of silk and a thimble with her, for use. Some pleasant surprises will be in store.

The social side of the Historical club was in full swing Tuesday evening when the club met with Mrs. J. N. Fristoe. The house decorations were the real Christmas ideas of holly, Christmas bells and poinsettias, and made a pretty scene with the fancy dress of the ladies, all mingled in beautiful and picturesque loveliness. A short program of papers, readings and impromptu speeches were all in a happy strain, befitting the time of year and the prophecy as given by Mrs. Sutton was a happy stroke, and caused much applause. The solos given by Mesdames Trout and Thomas were greatly appreciated. Then the exchange of gifts and refreshments, with the intermingling of friends in merry chat, rounded out the evening and all felt it was good to set aside the studies of the year and meet in friendship to bid 1912 a kind good-bye and wishing 1913 to deal as gently with us as had the old year just departing.

To greet the new year, and bid it happy advent, Miss Grace Purdy Tuesday evening entertained the Florhulde Purin club, the members being happy in having with them two former members, the Misses Dessie Mann and Hulda Losen of Fort Wayne. The girls sewed and chatted and had luncheon, until the advent of the New Year, when they lay down to sweet slumber and pleasant dreams of a happy year, the guests remaining at the Purdy home over night. Besides those mentioned, there were present Stella Chronister, Cecil Eady, Eula McKinney and Flora Fiederjohann.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Myers and son, Maurice, of Fort Wayne are here to spend New Year's Day with his mother, Mrs. Mary Myers, and sister, Miss Ella, residing south of the city.

D. M. Hensley will give a stag party this evening for Robert Carlisle of Cincinnati, Ohio, who is the guest of his daughter, Mrs. George Flanders. The affair will be a good Scotch party, such as will delight Mr. Carlisle, who is one of Scotia's true men.

The Priscilla club will meet next Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Frank Kern.

Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Moses and son, Ralph, of Fort Wayne, are New Year's guests of Mrs. Julia Moses and daughter, Miss Annette Moses.

Miss Anne Boyd returned to Montpelier after being a guest for a week of Dr. and Mrs. Sterling Hoffman. The Misses Glen and Flo Bierle of Berne and Harry Meshberger of Linn Grove are their guests over the New Year's day.

Mrs. Otto Holle and son, Truman, of Union township are here for a visit over New Year's with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Schamerloh of West Monroe street.

The M. E. Mite society will meet Friday afternoon with Mrs. John Stewart on Mercer avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Walters will entertain tomorrow evening for all who took part in the recent Christmas cantata, given by the Methodist Sunday school.

The annual New Year's Day reunion of the family of the late Pendleton Rice, will be held today at the Perry Robinson home in this city. Among out-of-town relatives who will be present are: Mr. and Mrs. George Diggs and daughter, Elizabeth, of Marion; Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Bryson and Mrs. Harry Detamore, Portland; Mrs. Albert Lachni and daughter, Carolyn, of Indianapolis.

The circle of the Young Matrons' club opened to include Mesdames Sherman Kunkel, Dale Moses, Cal Peterson, C. D. Lewton, C. R. Dunn and Jesse Helm, and the Misses Anne and Elizabeth Carlisle, of Cincinnati, O., in their midst Tuesday afternoon when Mrs. J. S. Peterson entertained. The usual needle work was indulged in, until the hostess announced that the writing of resolutions for the new year would be most appropriate. They were read and created a pleasant diversion, some of them being in a humorous vein. The home still retained the pretty Christmas decorations, and added to the beauty of the home.

Notable among the New Year's festivals was the 6 o'clock dinner and watch party given Tuesday evening by Miss Irene Smith at her home on the interurban north of the city. Covers were laid for the following at the delicious dinner: Reba Quinn, Naomi Dugan, Gretel Shoemaecker, Winifred Burk, Lulu Atz, Irene Erwin, Eda Butler, Lillian Rice, Ruth Gay, Florence Myers. Later the party was joined by their boy friends and a theater party formed. They then returned to the Smith home, where the good time was continued until the new year made its appearance. A midnight lunch was also enjoyed.

The Entre Nous club girls sewed and talked, made resolutions for the new year, for which they watched Tuesday night at the home of Miss Electa Glancy, and had a most delightful time in anticipation of the New Year and its many promises. Flash light pictures of the crowd were taken and will be reminders in days to come of a happy evening. A guessing contest was also in order, Miss Ruby Miller winning the prize.

Thirteen may be an unlucky number but the thirteen young ladies of the Evangelical Sunday school taught by Mrs. J. H. Rilling, though they were very lucky to be entertained by their teacher at the parsonage Tuesday evening. A few others also joined them and had a good time. There were contests and a two-course luncheon, and the good time continued to the last minute of the old year and ran over into the new.

The First Parcel

meats, groceries, medicines, pastes, salves, seeds of fruit nursery stock, candies, confectionery, yeast cakes, soap, flour, meal, millinery, toys, musical instruments; sated, dried and smoked meats; ink, powders, pepper, snuff and paper.

Of instructions in wrapping packages the postoffice department puts particular stress on the shipment of eggs. Each egg must be wrapped separately and surrounded with excelsior, cotton, or other suitable material, and packed in a container made of double corrugated pasteboard, metal or wood in such manner as to place each egg on its end and to prevent them from striking together or against the side or top of the container. They must be so closely wrapped that even in case one should break there would be no leakage out in the other mail.

Parcels post packages are stamped and mailed just as other mail matter, the only difference being that special stamps must be used. Packages prepaid with ordinary stamps will be carried at regular mail rates, any difference being collected from the addressee. The parcels post stamps are all green and measure one by one and one-half inches—a new size in government stamps. They are obtainable in nearly all denominations up to $1—the subjects of the engravings being:

- 1c, "postoffice clerk."
- 2c, "city carrier."
- 3c, "railway postal clerk."
- 4c, "rural carrier."
- 5c, "mail train."
- 10c, "steamship and mail tender."
- 15c, "automobile service."
- 20c, "aeroplane carrying mail."
- 20c, "manufacturing."
- 50c, "dairying."
- 75c, "harvesting."
- $1, "fruit growing."

In order that the postmaster in every city and his patrons may see exactly what the charges are for packages, every postoffice has been furnished with special "zone" and "unit" maps—showing the exact scale of charges for packages sent to any destination from that particular office. Preparation of these maps has kept the department busy for months.

YOUR FALL INCOME

DURING the fall and winter months, many people receive a considerable amount of money from the sale of produce. This money represents the income for the greater part of the year. It is necessary therefore, to exercise prudence in its use. The money should be deposited in a bank where it will be safe and secure. Payments can then be made for supplies, by drawing out a portion of the deposit. This plan assures not only positive safety for your money, but will help you to economize in its use.
