Quit looking for trouble. Let's boost a while. It's so much more pleasant and profitable. Anybody can find something to grunt about, and usually the fellow who has time to knock, hasn't time for anything else. Let's get busy on the real things. Do something for somebody. It always makes one feel better and it gives you pleasure to make the other fellow happy.

The hottest "wet and dry" election ever held in the north part of Indiana was the one held in Huntington today after a month's campaign that has stirred that city from center to circumference. Columns of newspaper space was used, and the liquor question was the chief subject of conversation in home, lodge, church, store, on the street and every place that two or more people met. The result will be watched for with interest.

Jesse L. Carmichael, of Muncie, for years a Washington correspondent, and one of Indiana's best known young newspaper men, died Saturday after a short illness from pneumonia. His body was brought back to Indiana today, accompanied by a number of the greatest newspaper and magazine writers of the day. President Wilson, who held the young writer in high esteem, sent a floral emblem. At the National Press club rooms in Washington, James Hay, Jr., posted a poem to the deceased, the first paragraph of which read: "Closer now than ever before to the perfumed gardens that the angels keep, he has upon his bier flowers that are the pale reflection of the lovelier blooms he planted in our hearts—hearts he taught to smile."

THE ACROBAT'S DAUGHTER.

The four-reel show at the Star theater this evening will prove an interesting one to those who attend. The circus scene is the best ever produced in moving pictures and the show closes with a moral that brings to mind a lesson worth learning. The price of admission is ten cents for adults and five cents for children. The scenes are wonderful and the very acme of moving pictures. It's a four-reel show and cheap at the price. Don't miss it.

DOWNEY APPOINTED.

Washington, D. C., April 28—(Special to Daily Democrat)—President Wilson this afternoon appointed Geo. Downey of Aurora, Ind., to be comptroller of the treasury.

AN EPIC OF THE FLOOD.

While the waves were swishing around the presses of the New Harmony Times, the editor occupied his enforced leisure moments by inditing the following gem descriptive of the flood. A careful reading will disclose a faint resemblance in rhyme and meter to the state song:

"Round my Indiana home the waves are creeping
And the waters rising to the second floor;
Through the orchard grove the rampant flood is sweeping.
Father's cursing southward on the kitchen floor,
And the schoolhouse where I learned to dictate fiction
Floated by an hour ago upon the tide.
Would I had the Tarkington command of diction
To depict the raging Wabash, ocean wide.

CHORUS.

Oh, the flood is high tonight along the Wabash,
And the water's killed the corn and wheat and hay;
Through the sycamore the cattle flock are floating,
On the banks of the Wabash, far away.

HAIR TURNING GRAY OR FALLING—JUST MIX SAGE TEA AND SULPHUR.

It's Grandmother's Recipe for Dandruff and Restoring Color to Hair.

Almost every one knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also cures dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays skilled chemists do this better than ourselves. By asking at any drug store for the read-to-use product—called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy"—you will get a large bottle for about 50 cents. Some druggists make their own but it's usually too sticky, so insist upon getting "Wyeth's" which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is the best remedy for dandruff, dry, feverish, itchy scalp and to stop falling hair.

Folks like "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur" because no one can positively tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly, says a well known down-town druggist. You dampen a sponge or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This requires but a few moments, by morning the gray hair disappears and after another application or two is restored to its natural color and looks even more beautiful and glossy than ever. All bread isn't good bread as you have no doubt discovered, but some is far and away superior. That's the kind we make—the superior sort. The difference lies in the quality of the materials and the method of kneading and baking. That's where our loaves taste better and are better—they have the desired quality.
