HUMOROUS QUIPS.

A Boy's View.

Mrs. McGrew she don't go to card clubs. She's got lots to do, and when ma is away I slip over there and play baseball with Mickey. They live in an alley just over the way.
An' Mrs. McGrew she bakes tea cakes—they're dandy—an' when supper comes at our house I most die.
I got to eat supper so ma she won't know it—that Mickey an' me's full o' doughnuts an' pie.

Mrs. McGrew washes clothes for a livin', an' some time when ma's at a card club you'll see
Two boys with clothes basket instead o' just Mickey, deliverin' clothes. 'Twill be Mickey an' me.
Mrs. McGrew she's the dandiest lady! She ain't got much time like my ma has, you bet.
But if we get hungry she's always got some'n—we do every day, an' she never failed yet.

If ma was like her, always happy an' jolly, an' handin' out apples an' doughnuts all day,
I'd have lots o' fun an' stay home like she says to an' not have to go there to Mickey's to play.
But, shucks, she's got clubs, an' she's always out shoppin' an' leaves me at home, where there's nothin' to do!
I wish she'd do washin' an' bake ginger cookies an' feed us on apples like Mrs. McGrew.

Man Wants but Little.

"Please, mum," said the tramp, "would you be so kind as to let me have a needle and thread?"
"Well, y-e-s," said the housewife at the door, "I can let you have that."
"Thankee, mum. Now, you'd oblige me very much if you'd let me have a bit of cloth for a patch."
"Yes, here is some."

"Thankee very much, mum. It's a little different color from my suit, I see. Perhaps, mum, you could spare me some of your husband's old clothes that this patch will match."
"Well, I declare! You're clever, my man, and I'll give you an old suit. Here is one."

"Thankee greatly, mum. I see it's a little large, mum, but if you'll kindly furnish me with a square meal mebbly I can fill it out."—Exchange.

Embarrassing.

A very pretty but extremely slender girl entered a street car and managed to seat herself in a narrow space between two men. Presently a portly colored mammy entered the car, and the pretty miss, thinking to humiliate the men for their lack of gallantry, arose.
"Auntie," she said, with a wave of her hand toward the place she had just vacated, "take my seat."
"Thank you, missy," replied the colored woman, smiling broadly, "but which gen'man's lap was you sittin' on?"—Magazine of Fun.

Happy Combination.

"Myrtle is in a quandary."
"What's the matter with her?"
"She loves music, but she needs physical culture."
"Yes?"
"But she hasn't time for both."
"I can tell her a way out of the difficulty."
"Indeed?"
"Yes. Just tell her to buy an accordion."—Yonkers Statesman.

Why He Asked It of Her.

"Miss Edith," asked a young man, "may I ask you, please, not to call me Mr. Durand?"
"But," said Miss Edith, with great coyness, "our acquaintance is so short, you know. Why should I not call you that?"
"Well," said the young man, "chiefly because my name is Dupont."—Exchange.

All Right if He Heard.

"Well," said the cheerful wife, who thought she had a soprano voice, "if worse comes to the worst I could keep the wolf from the door by singing."
"I don't doubt that would do it," replied the husband, who had suffered much, "but suppose the wolf should happen to be deaf?"—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Did as He Was Told.

"Why are you late for school, Sam?" asked the displeased teacher.
"Well, I was crossin' the street when a cop said, 'Here, boy, mind the steam roller.' So I stayed and minded it until he came back."—Buffalo Commercial.

So Inconsiderate.

The Cop—Madam, I'm sorry to trouble you, but your daughter has run off with the chauffeur.
Mrs. Flyhigh—How horribly inopportune! And I wanted him to drive the car this afternoon!—Louisville Post.

Judge and Justice.

Her Witness—You know that justice is blind.
Fair Defendant (adding the finishing touches to her toilet)—I know that justice is blind; but, thank goodness, the judge is not.—Exchange.

Man of His Word.

Doctor—Why don't you settle your bill? You said when I was treating you that you could never repay me for my efforts.
Harduppe—I meant it, doctor.—Boston Herald.

Called His Bluff.

"Ferdie is in financial difficulties!"
"How?"
"Offered his creditors 10 cents on the dollar and they accepted it!"—Life.

The Diagnosis.

"Has he a mental affliction?"
"No, a sentimental one."—Judge.

RINGLING CIRCUS AT FT. WAYNE

Great Spectacle of "Joan of Arc" Added to Their Show.

Ringling Brothers' circus and newly added $500,000 spectacle, "Joan of Arc," will exhibit in Fort Wayne July 12. The spectacle in itself is an attraction that should bring thousands of visitors from the surrounding country. It is beyond question the greatest production of its kind ever seen in America.

The world's most skillful scenic artists, costumers, property-makers, chorus directors and stage managers were engaged to mount the production. A stage bigger than a hundred ordinary theaters was built and made portable so that it can be conveyed from town to town and erected each morning in the main tent. Thus the circus proprietors have made it possible for those who live in contributory towns as well as in the large cities to see this magnificent wordless play with its cast of 1,200 characters, a ballet of 300 dancing girls, a grand opera chorus of 400 voices, 600 horses and a train-load of special scenery, costumes, properties and mechanical devices for producing such stage effects as, thunder, lightning, storms, fires, and the sound of battle.

In the old market place of Rouen, France, there now stands a monument to the French of today have sought to redeem their part in the execution of Joan of Arc, who on May 30, 1431, was burned to death on the false charge of heresy after having delivered her country from the English, and having restored the crown to Charles VII. History records but the meager facts of this strange heroine of eighteen years, who led the armies of France victorious through English invasion, and then, deserted by all, even the indolent monarch whom she preserved, died by the cruelest torture known with the name of the master upon her lips. Unsung in poetry the name of this simple peasant girl has come down through the ages to be revered as that of a saint, and whose wonderful powers and whose bravery are verily believed to have been a divine inspiration.

On the triumphant incidents, the victorious engagements, the final defeat of the English armies, and the coronation of Charles VII, all achieved by the frail Maid of Orleans, has been founded the inspiring spectacle which gives Ringling Brothers' circus a new significance and makes an attraction such as the world in searching for amusement has never before found.

The regular circus program is more than ever attractive. Its company of 375 foreign artists, its double menagerie and its new street parade will prove a great surprise to those who attend from this city. The event is one that should not be missed.

ITCHING SCALP.

Easy to Get Rid of by Using Parisian Sage, the Guaranteed Hair Invigorator.

Just as long as you have dandruff your head will itch. It's the little microbes that are gnawing down into the hair roots. It may take a long time for these persistent pests to get down to the vital part, but when they do, they will destroy the life of the hair in a very short time.

If you want to stop itching scalp and drive away dandruff, you must first kill the dandruff germs or microbes.

Parisian Sage will do this. Just get a 50c bottle today; relief will come immediately, and if at the end of two weeks your itching scalp and dandruff have not disappeared, you can have your money back.
Parisian Sage is also a delightful hair tonic, and is used by refined women who desire fascinating, lustrous and luxuriant hair. A large bottle only costs 50 cents at the Holthouse Drug Company at Decatur, and drugists everywhere. The girl with the Auburn hair is on every bottle. 19-24-26

BREAD WITHOUT FLOUR

You would not expect a baker to make bread without flour—would you? And he uses a flour that is especially adapted to his needs. There are many grades of flour to select from—but the successful baker takes the one that fits his needs. How many men who read this are attempting to do business without a Bank account? Isn't it just as foolish to do business without a bank account as it is for a baker to attempt to make bread without flour? And why not seek a Bank that especially meets your needs—serves you—meets your requirements? The First National Bank is a Bank of Personal service. And it gives you individual service, fitted to your needs, also.
