PROVES FATAL

Ex-commissioner J. E. Mann
Passes Away at His Home
Last Evening

3 WEEKS ILLNESS

From Cancer of the Liver
Results in Death—Was Pioneer of Adams County

Although it is indeed not leave its in any community, and no sad pang of sorrow and than that of a friend death from this life, yet the death of Joseph E. Mann when he died informed this morning of the death of that highly respected pioneer of Adams county. Although he has been known for some time that Mr. Mann was in ill health, the enormity of the loss to this community by his death was not appreciated until this morning. Mr. Mann was one of the best known and popular men of this county and as a tribute to his integrity and honor, he was elected by his fellow citizens twelve years ago to sit as a county commissioner. For a full term of six years he occupied this office and in return for the confidence placed in him, he gave the people of the county in every way possible, and devoting his entire time to the betterment and advancement of the conditions existing at that time. Among the long list of men who have served their county in this position, Mr. Mann is excelled by none as having a better and more faithful record.

Joseph E. Mann was born in Preble township, Adams county, December 13, 1845 and was the son of Joseph and Sarah Mann. He spent his entire life in this county and was one of the principle factors in its development. In 1870 he was united in marriage to Miss Louise Kiess, also of Adams county. To this union were born five children, all of whom with the mother, are surviving, they being Mrs. William Archbold, Mrs. Luella Vance, Mrs. J. C. Grandstaff of Preble, Mrs. Nettie Singleton and Verna John Edward, Harlan W., Robert J. and Frank C., now at Rochester, Minn. Besides the immediate family Mr. Mann is survived by three sisters Mrs. Albert Butler and Mrs. Susan Jarhwal of Fort Wayne and Mrs. Rachael Strieb of Mansfield, Ohio, also one aunt, Mrs. Slena Seymour of Cleveland, Ohio. Although Mr. Mann was not enjoyed the best of health for the past several years, he was not seriously ill until about three weeks ago. The case was diagnosed as cancer of the liver and kidneys, and his condition grew gradually worse until death relieved him at 6 o'clock last evening.

The funeral cortege will leave the home at 1 o'clock Thursday afternoon and the services will be held at the Methodist church in this city at 2 o'clock. Interment will be made in Maplewood cemetery.

MAYORS ASKED

To Co-operate in Universal
Observance of Disease
Prevention Day

FRIDAY OCTOBER 2nd

Movement Is Indiana Idea
But Is Already Nation Wide.

The mayor of every Indiana city has been asked by the executive committee a charge of the state wide observance of Disease Prevention Day, Friday October 2nd, to take the lead in arranging for the demonstration in his city. In a letter to the nearly 100 chief executives of Hoosier cities, Walter D. Thurber, secretary of the committee, points out that Indiana is accustomed to decorate, and parade, and make a big noise generally about street fairs, fall carnivals, conventions and the like and suggests that the public health is of sufficient importance to warrant the giving up of one day to picturing in a new and interesting way, the necessity for considering it. The text of the letter is as follows: Dear Mr. Mayor:

Probably you have noticed in the press of this state, that all of Indiana will be called upon by proclamation of Governor Ralston to observe Disease Prevention Day Friday October 2nd.

Let me call your attention to personnel of our executive committee. It represents many of the most powerful forces in this commonwealth. This is merely an indication of the strength of its movement.

This is an Indiana idea conceived in the interest of every man, woman and child in this state. Already it has attracted nation wide attention. The purpose, as indicated by the name, is put in a state wide demonstration against preventable disease on the day in question. This may be done through a parade or pageant in your city. Floats portraying in an interesting way, the fight against the cost of such preventable diseases as typhoid, tuberculosis, diphtheria, etc., are of the greatest importance to your fellow citizens.

Enclosed, I am sending you copies of letters sent to their co-workers over the state by Miss Vida Newson, president of the Indiana Federation of Clubs, Dr. J. N. Hurty, state health commissioner and Charles Greathouse, Supt. of Public Instruction. Similar posting letters will go out to commercial organizations, anti-tuberculosis societies, doctors, dentists and nurses.

You will find herewith, a preliminary tentative outline of the work to be done by local committees. May I ask that you in your official capacity, appoint a representative committee in your community to assume charge of the demonstration? And may I further suggest that in naming this committee, you ignore political, denominational, or factional lines? Let your committee represent the local commercial organizations, the women's clubs, the schools of city or county, the medical society, the churches, the anti-tuberculosis organization, and such other sources of public influence as your knowledge may dictate.

This is destined to be one of the most far reaching movements ever undertaken in Indiana. A great many cities already are laying plans for big public rallies against our common disease. Our publicity bureau proposes to keep the world informed concerning this proposition. Let us "say something" about your city. Trusting that you will advise me within the next few days that your committee has been appointed and is getting busy, I am
Yours very cordially,
W. D. THURBER, Secy.

TYPICAL NEWSPAPER COMMENT ON THE REDPATH CHAUTAUQUA OF 1913

The Tri-City Daily, Florence, Ala., says:

"Florence has been captured entirely by the Redpath Chautauqua and it is a safe bet that the chautauqua will not be allowed to pass this city by in the future."

In an editorial in the Albany, Ga., Herald

this statement is made: "Thru this big organization with a string of 110 chautauquas scheduled we were enabled to have attractions that we could not have secured for a single assembly."

The Dyersburg, Tenn., State Gazette said

editorially: "We will all be sorry when it becomes necessary for them to fold their tents, but unlike the Arabs it will not be necessary for them to steal away."

The Clarksville, Tenn., Leaf-Chronicle

"Now that our good people know from actual experience just what are the possibilities of the Chautauqua movement they are unanimously agreed as to its great helpfulness to a community."

The Birmingham, Ala., Age-Herald says:

"The tent which holds over 2000 persons was well filled when the performance began last night and altho the weather was hot every part of the program was received with much enthusiasm. Indications are that from now on large crowds will patronize the chautauqua performances. The Redpath agency which is giving the program is well known as one of the foremost booking agencies of the world."

The Alpena, Mich., Echo: "When Mr. Rheinfrank asked those of the audience who would like a chautauqua in Alpena next year to stand, the entire audience arose. It was necessary to call an imposing vote."

The Battle Creek, Mich., Enquirer: "The Best

Ever Chautauqua grows more popular with each succeeding entertainment."

The Gary, Ind., Post: "It is doubtful if any chautauqua in any city has ever had such overwhelming success during its first year as the Redpath Chautauqua had here during its present engagement."
