PRZEMYSL STRONGHOLD EVACUATED BY RUSSIANS

Russian And German Troops Have Already Begun Fierce Battle In Territory Surrounding Warsaw

SUPPLIES HELD

Food and Clothing for Starving Belgians Still Being Held in England.

AWAITING ASSURANCE

From Germany--Retreating Cossacks Leave Trail of Death and Terror.

The Hague, Oct. 14.—(Special to the Daily Democrat)—The Austrian legation announced this afternoon that it is in receipt of advices from Vienna stating that the Russian forces had evacuated the stronghold of Lemberg following a heavy loss in a battle.

Washington, Oct. 14.—(Special to the Daily Democrat)—Food supplies intended for the relief of famine-stricken Belgians in Brussels are still being held in England today because Germany has made no reply to the United States' request for assurances that the supplies will not be seized. The condition in Belgium is so serious that the Belgian minister again called on the state department today to urge the relief action.

Petrograd, Oct. 14.—(Special to the Daily Democrat)—The loss of the cruiser Pallada was offset by the sinking of two of the German submarines whose torpedoes sunk the vessel, according to an official statement issued by the minister of marines today.

Washington, Oct. 14.—(Special to the Daily Democrat)—"Russian and German troops are fighting already in the country around Warsaw." The Petrograd foreign office cabled this here today. "A battle has begun on a line extending from the country around Warsaw and along the rivers Vistula and San to Przemyśl. The fighting also continues farther south of Przemyśl. In East Prussia the situation remains unchanged."

(By Karl Von Weizsacker)

Königsburg, Oct. 14.—(Special to the Daily Democrat)—"The Czars Cossack hordes left a bruised and bleeding trail of desolation and gore across the fertile fields of East Prussia as they swept back to their own lands smarting under a defeat of German arms. I have just reached this city after a 600-mile trip by rail through this area of desolation following a path of blasted lives, tortured men and women and children and of devastated homes far beyond belief. I carried a special permit from the German general staff. The country side told stories of murder, rapine and inhuman cruelties that were outrageous. Around Neidenburg the Russian horde satisfied their lust by violating scores of defenseless peasant women, some of them 60 and 70 years of age. The country side said that around here near the Russian frontier, where the Czars forces for a time reformed to fight against the overwhelming German pressure, the territory was ravaged. The Russian soldiery taking full revenge for their defeat, on the women. Catholic sisters and young girls bore cruelty worse than the torture of the battle field and were left dying as the horde passed on. The Russians killed every male inhabitant they encountered who was of military age. The country was stripped of all its men between the ages of 14 and 45. Old men who feebly protested were ruthlessly slaughtered."

London, Oct. 14.—(Special to the Daily Democrat)—An unconfirmed news agency despatch from Madrid says that it is reported in Lisbon that Portugal has declared war on Germany. The official press bureau here has permitted this to be published.

Washington, Oct. 14.—(Special to the Daily Democrat)—Following a conference with President Wilson, Secretary Garrison announced today that he was sending to Governor Hunt of Arizona a vigorous request not to send militia to the Mexican border. He pointed out to the Governor that such a movement might precipitate a war with Mexico.

Phoenix, Ariz., Oct. 14.—(Special to the Daily Democrat)—Governor Hunt today refused to modify the instructions he had given the militia to be ready to move to the Mexican border at a moment's notice. "I am a man of peace but I informed the war department that our border must be protected. If the government will not protect it, we must." He admitted that he had addressed telegrams to the war and state departments but refused to discuss them.

BASE BALL HEROES LEAVE.

Boston, Oct. 14.—(Special to the Daily Democrat)—The world's champion Boston Braves met at their club house today and divided their spoils. Speeches were made and the team then disbanded for the year. Hank Gowdy, the batting hero, and Maranville will shoot ducks for a couple of weeks. "Butch" Schmidt will leave for Baltimore immediately where he says his butcher shops need attention. Rudolph is said to have left last night for New York where a new baby daughter awaits him. James will leave for Chicago tonight to join the round-the-world base ball tourists.

CONTEMPT OF COURT.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 14.—(Special to the Daily Democrat)—Thomas Knotts, former mayor of Gary, was slated for contempt of court today by Judge Marky. Sheriff Piltzeus was directed to bring Knotts to court Saturday, sure. Knotts has failed to obey the subpoena to appear before the grand jury investigating the juggling of bills before the recent legislature.

UNUSUAL FEATURE AT THE CRYSTAL TONIGHT.

During the afternoon and night the Crystal has arranged for an unusual feature, "Life in Joliet Penitentiary." These pictures are in four reels and were obtained by official sanction of Warden Edmund M. Allen. The pictures are the first and only actual moving views of real prison life. Seventeen hundred criminals are seen as they serve their terms behind the cold gray walls of Joliet. This is a feature that should be seen by every boy, girl, man and woman. It is an object lesson, a subject that will make you think, a picture that thrills with a moral lesson. Today only. Other pictures also.

AT THE CAPITOL

Paul Wooten, Former Resident Here, Writes Us from Washington.

IS A STAFF MAN

For New Orleans Picayune --Has Had an Exciting and Successful Career.

Paul Wooten, a former Decatur resident, and later engaged in newspaper work and mining in Mexico, writes us from Washington where he is now located as staff correspondent for the New Orleans Picayune, concluding his letter with the following interesting report of his own busy career:

"Since talking to you the last time circumstances caused me to change my plans very decidedly. At the time of our last conversation, Oaxaca, Mexico, was booming and the outlook was very promising. The panic of 1907 put a big crimp in foreign investments. This was followed by the failure of the United States bank, the only American bank in the state. The American community there suffered very heavily. Then came the revolution.

"At the time of the bank failure I was forced to abandon the publication of the Oaxaca Herald. I returned to Mexico City and was made night editor of the Mexican Herald. I also was the Mexico City correspondent of the New York Times. After Madero won in his opposition to Diaz and his government, I decided it would be time wasted to stay in Mexico. As a consequence my wife and I decided upon New Orleans as the place where we had the best opportunity of devoting our energies. Events since have demonstrated the wisdom of that selection.

"With best regards to all the boys, I beg to remain

"Your friend,

"PAUL WOOTEN."

NOTES OF THE SICK

Mrs. Fred Kolter of Magley Will Return from Hospital Next Monday.

Dr. C. C. Rayl, who has been ill five weeks at the home of his father, Tom Rayl, near Monroe, is better and is able to be up again. Mr. Rayl was preparing to open an office for practice at Kokomo and had his rooms ready and supplies bought when he became ill. He went to a specialist at Indianapolis, who stated that he was suffering from leakage of the heart and advised him to go home at once and go to bed for a month or so if he hoped to get better. He did so and is getting along nicely now. Dr. Rayl was formerly located at Monroe in practice with Dr. Parrish, and had recently returned from Europe where he took a special course in Berlin.

Miss Anna Kolter went to Fort Wayne today noon to visit her sister, Mrs. Fred Kolter of Magley, who was operated upon three weeks ago at the Lutheran hospital. She is recovering and will be able to come home next Monday.

Mrs. Mary Steele was called to Fort Wayne today noon by word that her mother, Mrs. John Tucker, aged seventy-five years, is at the point of death from obstruction of the bowels.

IS VERY UNLUCKY

A Year Ago George Gay Had Leg Broken When Kicked by Horse.

HAD GOTTEN BETTER

When Sunday Horse Kicked Knee of Same Leg and Fractured Bone.

Lightning may not strike twice in the same place, but unfortunately horses do. George Gay, aged seventy-six, a prominent farmer living a mile north of Rivar, uncle of J. L. Gay of this city, realizes this.

It will be remembered that about a year ago, Mr. Gay had his right leg broken by a kick from a horse while caring for the animals in his stable. He had gotten better and Sunday was able to go to the barn with the aid of crutches to care for the horses. In some way a horse again kicked him, striking the knee of the same leg that had been broken before. A part of the knee cap was broken, also the socket in which the bone rests. The first time, he was able only to crawl outside to call members of the family, but this time he had his crutches near and was able to make his way to the house alone.

TRAMP INJURED

Attempted to Alight from Erie Express Train and Was Thrown

WITH GREAT FORCE

Three Ribs Were Cracked and Hip Dislocated-- Taken to Infirmary.

A tramp giving his name as C. L. Hall, aged 58, and hailing from Cincinnati, was badly injured about 9:45 last evening when he attempted to alight from the fast eastbound Wells-Fargo express train on the Erie railroad.

Hall was riding the bumpers of the express coaches and attempted to leave the train at the Winchester street crossing. Undoubtedly misjudging the speed at which the train was going, he leaped to the ground and was hurled with great force to the brick pavement of the street, also striking the curb of the platform walk, resulting in three cracked ribs and the dislocation of the left hip bone, with numerous severe bruises over the face and body. Witness of the accident sent in a hurry-up call for Marshal Melchi and Dr. Smith the Erie physician. The unfortunate man was carried to the depot where his injuries were attended to, and he was then removed to the county infirmary by Trustee Butler. Hall gave his occupation as a traveling painter and had expected to get off here to secure work.

IS ARBOR DAY

Plant Your Trees October 23--The State Forestry Board Calls

PUBLIC'S ATTENTION

To Same--More Woods Are Needed--Urges Planting of Trees.

October 23, 1914, will be Arbor and Bird Day. The state board of forestry wishes to assist in every way those who intend to keep the day by setting out a tree on that day, and to assist those who unsuccessfully set out trees last year.

Accordingly, the state board sent out the following:

"The state board of forestry is anxious to assist in every way those who are interested in forestry, no matter whether you are going to plant one tree for shade to beautify your home or you are going to plant several thousand for profit that you or your children will receive in the future.

Every person conversant with the facts knows that there are few farms that contain more than eighty acres of land that do not have some portion that should be devoted to trees of some kind. The kind that should be planted depends largely on the drainage, location, soil and many other local conditions. These should be well considered by the owner before planting, and if not familiar with the conditions, should seek the advice of the board of forestry, or some other competent authority before planting and thus save himself from the disappointment that usually follows when trees are planted in soil not adapted to them.

"The thing to do is to select the right kind of a tree, plant in accordance to the instructions sent out, and then take proper care of it. Then you will not fail to realize on your time and labor.

"If you cannot plant one this fall, decide now to do so next spring, by selecting the kind of tree or trees that you are going to plant and select the place, make thorough preparations for all the details in every way by studying the trees and soil of your community, find out what kind of trees were native, those that have best withstood the ravages of insects and drouths, then plant a tree that will grow.

"The board is prepared to furnish publications on the various phases of forestry and suggestive Arbor Day program for schools, civic organizations and individuals, free to any one. Write the secretary."

"DADDY" ROBINSON IS STRAIGHT

Thomas B. Robinson, the world's best democrat or one of them at least gave us a present this morning that we appreciate. It is a great big handsome yam that "Daddy" raised in his own garden. Along with it he said he wanted it understood that he is a straight democrat, one who has never scratched his ticket though he has voted seventy-one elections in his life and that's going some.

GAY HALLOWE'EN

Will be Festive Occasion in Decatur--Big Municipal Masquerade.

HAS BEEN PLANNED

By Woman's City Improvement League--Prizes Offered for Best Masked.

Decatur will have a gala time of Halloween, when we will be taken in fancy and set down in gay old Venice very realistic except that the canals streets will be lacking.

For everybody is invited to masquerade and come to the Municipal Halloween party. The date was first set for Friday evening, but it has been changed to Saturday evening, October 31--the real Halloween date. This will accommodate the country people who will come to town on Saturday evening for business and remain for the social good time. The extra police hired for Halloween will also be available for the party, doing away with the appointment of more for the preceding night should that have been chosen.

The party will be given at the corner of Madison and Third streets. For half block north, south and west the streets will be set aside in the form of a "T." These will be lighted with electric lights and pumpkin faces and other Jack-o-lanterns. There will be booths for the refreshment and big bon fires on Third street south will be built where marshmallows can be roasted, as well as wieners, chestnuts and other good things. At the booths will be sold refreshments suitable for Halloween, including pie, candies, hot hamburger sandwiches, beverages, etc. Mrs. C. V. Connell, chairman of the committee and has numerous others assisting her. Ever hour come telephone calls from the people in general who are donating to the refreshments and more will be gladly received.

The party will begin at 4:30 o'clock and as soon as dusk falls the revelry will begin. Tin horns will be sold to enliven the air and the band has been asked to play. Everybody is asked to come masked and some twenty or twenty-five prizes will be given for the best masked.

Many hostesses who will give parties on this evening are planning to take their guests to the municipal party for the evening.

The party is given by the Woman's City Improvement society. The funds will be used for current expenses and also to help the organization through the coming winter and to begin the spring work. The society has done a good work this summer, but feels that it has only made a small beginning. Next year it hopes to make more progress in the beautifying of the city and one of the movements which they expect to take up is the matter of the city park, resulting from the suggestion made last August that the old county fair grounds be converted into a city park.

Everybody come to the party, have a good time and boost for the Woman's City Improvement society.

WAS A FAIR BRIDE

Nuptials of Esther Corbett and Fred Fullenkamp Very Beautiful.

THE WEDDING TODAY

Left on Eastern Trip--Will Reside on North Third Street.

More than ordinary interest is attached to the nuptials of Miss Esther Corbett and Mr. Fred Fullenkamp, which were solemnized this morning at 8 o'clock at the St. Mary's Catholic church, not only because of the personal admiration which their friends feel for them, but because of the prominence of the families, which are two of the best in the city.

The church was thronged with friends and relatives. The sanctuary was filled with plants and blossoms, making a pretty background for the bridal party which presented a charming picture as it came down the long aisle of the church, led by the ushers, Herbert Ehinger and Mr. Raymond Gass, nephew of the groom. Sister Aloisia played the wedding march, and the tones of the organ were particularly joyful.

Preceding the bride and groom were their attendants, their sister, Miss Mabel Corbett, and brother, Mr. Herbert Fullenkamp.

The bride, fair and slender, seemed a flower of liveliness clad in virgin white. The bridal gown was exceedingly girlish in effect, yet characterized by all the dignity of the occasion. Fashioned of white crepe de chine, the skirt fell soft and full in accordion folds, while the over drape was of reple de chine, with fluting edge. A little white velvet bolero jacket with pearl trimmings was worn with the waist. Like a silver mist her long hair, caught to her hair with swanonia, enveloped her, and her arm bouquet of white bride's roses, was tied with a bow of tulle. White lippers completed the handsome costume. Miss Mabel Corbett was pretty in a pale pink crepe de chine, with dotted tunic over accordion plaits. The flowers she carried were pink roses tied with a tulle bow, and her lippers of pink matched the frock.

The ring ceremony was solemnized by Father Seimetz. At 11:30 the bridal party was tendered a reception at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Corbett, on North Fifth street, guests being the nearest relatives of the couple, with a very limited number of intimate friends. The reception was followed by a wedding breakfast.

The bridal colors of pink and white were carried out in the decorations of the home and the breakfast. There were two large tables in the dining room, each accommodating twelve. Tutted streamers from the chandeliers were caught at the corners of the table, and a tracery of smilax outlined the edge of the white table cover. The enterpieces were bowls of pink and white roses and pink hooded candles were used in lighting the tables. Fifty guests attended the reception and breakfast. Assisting in the serving were the niece and three intimate friends of the groom and bride--the Misses Marie Gass, Agnes Kohne, Ruby Parrish and Agnes Meibers.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Myers and family of Celina, Ohio, and Lucile and Harry Curran of Lima, Ohio.

This afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Fullenkamp left on their wedding trip of a week or ten days and will visit in Detroit, Cleveland, Mansfield and other eastern cities. On their return they will be at home in the Otto Kirsch residence on North Third street.

For her journey the bride wore a smart Redingote suit of navy blue, with a becoming little colonial hat to match.

Both bride and groom were born here and have spent all their lives in Decatur. Mr. Fullenkamp is the son of Mrs. Mary Fullenkamp and is one of the managers of his mother's store, being a business man of ability and a young man of excellent character. Miss Corbett is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Corbett, and until her resignation several months ago was stenographer for the Erwin law
