Now is the time to test seed corn. The average ear of corn has 600 to 700 kernels. Each kernel planted should produce at least one ear of corn. One hundred ears to a bushel would mean that each ear of corn should yield six or seven bushels. You lose $3.50 to $4.00 on each ear that will not grow.

A new traffic rule went into effect in Fort Wayne Thursday morning. Traffic officers instead of waving their hand as in the past will use a whistle. One blast means that north and south traffic has the right of way and two blasts that the east and west traffic has the right of way and that others must stop.

Plans for soil survey of one county in Indiana, this coming summer, are being made by the department of agriculture. Dark days are looming up for France. "Cyrus Noble," unbusted broncho of the eastern Oregon plains, has just been sold to the French government at a cavalry charger. For three years, visitors to the Pendleton "roundup" have watched the world's most skillful riders try to conquer Cyrus. Every one was hurled skyward, recovering consciousness with a "never again" vow on his lips.

The Fort Wayne & Northwestern Interurban is offering a reward of $50 for evidence leading to the arrest and conviction of any person or persons who damage or break any of the insulators along the company's right-of-way. It is said that the breaking of these insulators not only grounds the transmission line, but is liable to result in the injury or death of a person who might be walking in the vicinity of the point at which the insulator is broken.

It seems strange to us why a person should shy at Friday. President Wilson was born on Friday, so was George Washington, so was William Shakespeare; America was discovered on Friday; the Declaration of Independence was signed on Friday; Napoleon was knocked out at Waterloo on Friday; Julius Caesar, "got his" on Friday; King Charles got knocked out on Friday; the French bastille was destroyed on Friday; the Mayflower landed at Plymouth Rock on Friday; "the noiseless soup spoon was invented on Friday; the sanitary dish rag was discovered on Friday; the ascension is Good Friday; and after all, Friday isn't such a bad day.—Kendallville News-Sun.

Figures just published by the Pennsylvania show that while no less than nineteen travelers were killed while in its care as passengers during last year not one of them met death as the result of a train accident. Six of the decedents were killed in jumping, falling or slipping from moving trains, two while attempting to board moving trains, two by slipping off station platforms in front of moving trains, two by being struck by engine parts while standing too near the edge of the station platforms, three while crossing tracks at stations in front of moving trains, and one each by jumping from a ferryboat, throwing himself under a train, by being struck by a coach and knocked under a train, and by being assaulted by another passenger and thrown from a train. The number of trespassers killed by Pennsylvania trains during the year was 301, compared with 572 in 1907.

DEFENDANT PLEADS GUILTY

Indianapolis, April 3.—(Special to Daily Democrat)—Fred Morrison one of the 28 defendants in the Terre Haute trial which has continued in federal court for the past four weeks addressed the court when it convened today and changed his plea to guilty. Morrison was an inspector in C of the sixth ward which is in the heart of the red light district. Evidence has shown a huge padded registration in that precinct and witnesses have testified that Morrison worked the lever of the voting machine. This was the Sheriff Shea's precinct. It was concerning this precinct that George Davern was testifying when he was jailed by the court for perjury. Morrison's action was not expected and came as a blow to the defence which has been asserting in final arguments to the jury that evidence against the accused was insufficient.

GRAND JURY TAKES CHARGE.

The Van Wert Daily-Bulletin says: "The preliminary hearing of Lulu Wilson, the slayer of Levi X. Jacobs, was brought to an abrupt close this morning, and the ruling of the court was that the evidence shows that a crime had probably been committed and that the prisoner probably committed the act, therefore, she was held to answer to the grand jury, on a charge of manslaughter, her bond being fixed in the sum of ten thousand dollars. In default of bail the prisoner was returned to the county jail, where she will be detained pending the result of the inquiry of the jury, which will be held the coming week. The grand jury is now the supreme body in the case. It is within the power of the jury to return an indictment for first degree murder, second degree murder, manslaughter, assault, or to ignore the case, and thus free the prisoner."

DEMAND LIVES OF OFFICERS

London, April 3.—(Special to Daily Democrat)—Hang Von Tirpitz and other responsible German officers at the close of the war was the suggestion of London newspapers today in a fresh outburst of indignation against the torpedoing of three English vessels expressly exempted from attack by the Hague convention. The other papers were equally bitter in charging Germany with reverting to barbarous war fare. The 1,495 ton steamer Lockwood was torpedoed off Start Point in the English channel last night. Her crew reported that the ship was attacked without warning and went down within a few minutes. Every member of the crew was rescued.

BAPTISMAL SERVICES.

Twenty-two Baptized at Church Last Evening.

Baptismal services were held at the Christian church last evening at the close of the evangelistic service. There were twenty-two candidates who were immersed. Of this number nineteen were immersed by the Rev. Benjamin Borton of the Christian church for that congregation. Three were immersed by the Rev. D. T. Stephenson of the Methodist church for his congregation.

What Russia's First Big Victory Means

All the thrilling incidents and developments leading up to the siege and fall of Przemyśl (pronounced pshe'mishl, according to the New Standard Dictionary), are presented in THE LITERARY DIGEST for April 3d. All shades of public opinion, as revealed in the American press, on the importance of this Russian victory and its bearing on the outcome of the war, is also submitted.

Some of the other stirring features which will make up this splendid number are:

Naval Losses of the War

This is accompanied by special drawings showing the number and the types of ships that have so far been lost by the Allies and by Germany. At a glance the reader can learn the awful score up to date.

The Post-Office vs. The Railroads

Both sides of the controversy between the Post-Office Department and the Railroads are given fairly and enable the reader to clearly understand the real facts in this important case.

Our Duty in the Chino-Japanese Dispute Philadelphia's Verdict on Billy Sunday France's Pet Gun

This last feature is illustrated by special drawings which show the construction and appearance of the famous gun that has had such a deadly effect against the Germans, and which was a jealously guarded secret until the war made concealment no longer possible.

In citing the above-mentioned features, the contents of this week's number of THE LITERARY DIGEST are by no means exhausted, because all the other fields of interest and importance are represented at satisfactory length and with full impartiality by text and picture—Science, Politics, Invention, Sport, Art, Literature, Religion, Education, Industry, Music and the Drama.
