Governor Willis of Ohio is beginning to learn that holding a public office is not half so delightful as is imagined by the fellow on the outside. He is to be arrested for violating a civil service law. He has discharged democratic officials in large numbers, assigning as a reason that because of their politics they are not in sympathy with the administration, which might be all right if the republicans had not objected to the same sort of dismissals and made it stick because of an Ohio law. Willis, paying no attention to the law, took the bull by the horns and made a clean sweep. Now, a bull moser has served notice he will test the law. The penalty is a $500 fine and six months in jail.

The committee in charge of the athletic club for the young men and women of this vicinity are having much trouble in locating a suitable location but they will do their best to provide temporary quarters. Of course there can be no satisfactory club house until one is built for there are no buildings in the city suited to the purpose. The high school boys will assist in making the collections and soliciting further pledges and it should be understood that every penny of this money will be duly accounted for by the committee and in case there should be any delay in opening the rooms at this time, the funds will be carefully guarded. Any suggestions will be appreciated, the committee feeling that they are only serving the public and they desire to do the work in the manner most satisfactory to the most people.

times on the train. Green boarded the train without a cent in his pocket and when the conductor threatened to put him off, Hess, one of his companions passed the hat. Two of the men, and Rogers and John Clark, were not here today. Clark is quarantined with small pox. Hess is ill here today having been under the care of a doctor during the night.

SCHOOL CLOSED SATURDAY.

Ray Smith, teacher of school number three of Washington township, closed Saturday and the patrons surprised them by coming in a large number with well filled baskets and served a big dinner. A ball game at noon furnished some excitement and during the afternoon a cipher contest and a spelling bee were indulged in, delighting everybody. The patrons voted for the return of Mr. Smith for next year.

BANQUET TOMORROW NIGHT

The business men of Decatur will participate in a banquet to be given Tuesday evening at six o'clock at the Pythian Home on Third street. It will be a delightful occasion for how could it be otherwise when so good a bunch of fellows as the members of the Retail Merchants' association meet to enjoy a feast prepared by the Pythian Sisters. The tickets are free to the members and a large attendance is expected and invited.

NOT FIVE YEARS

In the account of the death of Miss Edith Thatcher which occurred Friday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chronover in St. Mary's township it was stated that the young lady had made her home with them for the past five years which was an error as the young lady had only made her home with the Chronovers since last September. Mr. and Mrs. Chronover have only lived in this county two years.

Covert cloth makes ideal spring coats

Like the suit coat, the separate coat is inclined to simplicity, and nothing adapts itself better to this style than covert.

A pretty model that elicited much admiration from youthful observers—and older ones, too—is extremely full in front, back and sides. The fullness in the front is confined by a wide belt, which buttons onto a tab, a part of the flaring back.

Another is extremely simple, with rounding belt in the back, with flap pockets and odd cuffs to give it distinction.

These coats of covert seem the ideal spring coat—light, cool-looking. They give excellent service.

We have some charming designs in covert, and in serges, poplin, worsteds, too. These are really "double duty" coats—smart enough for dress-up occasions; simple enough for general wear.

The prices will surprise you—they are so very reasonable.
