Entered at the postoffice in Decatur, Indiana, as second-class matter.

Col. Theodore Roosevelt has let it become known on what conditions he will support the republican nominee for president in 1916. It appears that he would like to see Theodore Roosevelt the nominee and frankly says he has in no way indicated that he favored any other. It is not likely that the republicans will seek advice from Theodore next year.—Goshen Democrat.

The democratic meeting at Indianapolis Wednesday of next week promises to be the big red letter event of political Indiana this year. Mr. Redfield, of President Wilson's cabinet, and one of the important members of that important body, will deliver the principal address. Business men from every section of Indiana will attend. Later a love feast will be held in each district in the state.

It cannot be found in the arithmetic tables, but a Missouri paper, the Seneca Dispatch, says:

"Three grins make one smile, three smiles make one laugh, three laughs make one happy."

The table proved an inspiration to another Missouri paper, the Wheaton Journal, and this was the result:

"One smile makes a flirtation, one flirtation makes two acquainted, two acquainted make one kiss, one kiss makes several more, several kisses make an engagement, one engagement ment makes two fools, two fools make one marriage, one marriage makes two mothers-in-law, two mothers-in-law make a red-hot time."

It is noticeable that the republican press of Indiana is not devoting any space to the fact that Mr. Shattuck, republican candidate for congress from the Fifth district, which by the way, includes Terre Haute, together with five of his co-conspirators, will be tried next month for election frauds, and before Judge Anderson, too. Surely politics has nothing to do with this great and wonderful house cleaning that is going on, though one might be led to believe so from a perusal of the big city papers of the state.

Colonel Roosevelt's charges against William Barnes, as a result of which the latter is now demanding libel damages in the sum of $50,000 from the ex-president, were made during the heat of a political campaign, and it is said this fact will be pleaded in extenuation for the accusation. There has prevailed in some quarters for a good many years the impression that the exigencies of a political contest lifted all restraint and made permissible statements of almost any character whatever, whether well-founded or with nothing more stable than mere suspicion as basis. The outcome of the trial now in progress at Syracuse should prove enlightening as a test of this mooted question, not only in New York, but in other states as well.—Fort Wayne Sentinel.

Mrs. Lawrence Kleinhenz and Miss Georgia Melbers went to Fort Wayne to attend the wedding of Miss Vera Gocke and Vernon Tannahill, which was solemnized this morning at the St. Paul's cathedral. Miss Gocke has visited in this city on many occasions and is known to many here.

Mrs. Fred Fullenkamp will entertain the Wednesday Afternoon club Thursday evening instead of Wednesday afternoon.

Miss Lucile Vail is going to Decatur Friday, where she will sing before the annual guest day meeting of the Shakespeare club. Mrs. Emil Verweire Williams will accompany her. Next Tuesday Miss Vail will go to Richmond, Ind., to sing at the wedding of a friend.—Fort Wayne Journal-Gazette.

The Euterpean club had a splendid program at the home of Miss Fanny Frisinger last evening, when Mrs. M. E. Bracken was leader. The club will meet Thursday of next week with Mrs. E. B. Adams and Mrs. F. V. Mills will be leader.

Miss Leota Bailey has returned from Berne and is a guest of the J. H. Veglewede family until Friday, when she leaves for Westfield, N. Y., to spend the summer with her aunt, Mrs. Jennie Clever. Miss Bailey has been teaching in the Linn Grove high school this season.

The Ruth Circle of the Christian church entertained the young men last evening at the Minnie Daniels home on Sixth street. There were a number of the old-fashioned games played as well as the more modern contests. One was the making of a nine-patch quilt block. Roy Enos took the honors in finishing his in the shortest time, but E. E. Barnhart's work was adjudged the best. There was music and later, refreshments.

Miss Julia Parrott, missionary from India, who gave an excellent address at the Baptist church last evening on her mission work, was the guest of Mrs. L. C. Miller and family over night. She was the guest of Mrs. Jacob Buhler at dinner today, leaving this afternoon for Cincinnati, Ohio, where she will speak.

ARE "SNAKED" OUT

gether with a number of long breaths, that she promptly heaved out in hissing sighs and gurgling sobs. Lucile, who tried to support the professional name of May Ford, swore on the witness stand that she had averaged taking a man a day to the Guebard resort for the past month. Jones, who said his home was at Huntington, where he engages in the practice of medicine, testified that he came in his machine to Fort Wayne to buy some drugs he had prompt need of and could not secure in the home town. He brought Shepard with him to take a train here for Chicago. They went to the cafe at the Hotel Edwin on West Main street about 4 o'clock, and were eating supper when Lucile and Edith tripped in, gave them a high sign and all went out to the Guebard maison de joie. Then officers George Eisenhaut and Dan Kintz broke up the party and carted the bunch to police headquarters. Mrs. Guebard's place has been under surveillance for some time and Monday the police got it with the goods."

SEATS TO BE SUPPLIED.

All those who hold tickets for the senior class play, "Bachelor Hall," to be given Thursday night at the opera house, and who failed to get them reserved this morning, should call Ellis Christen or Kenyon Walters by telephone and they will be supplied. When the reservation was made this morning it was found that more tickets had been sold than there were seats. It was first thought that the play would be repeated Friday evening. The seniors, however, gave up their seats in the main hall, and will take places in the gallery, thus giving enough room for those who did not get their seats reserved.

Dennis Striker was granted letters of administration on the estate of Elmer J. Ray. His bond is $2,500.

REBATE IS SURE

Buyers of Ford Cars Will Receive Fifty Dollars—Says Henry Ford

ONE MONTH AHEAD

Mark of 300,000 Will be Reached Month Ahead of Date Fixed, August 1.

The several score of buyers of Ford automobiles in Adams county will be glad to learn that Mr. Henry Ford, the head of the great concern which manufactures that popular car, has announced that barring the unforeseen, the company will pay back to each buyer the sum of fifty dollars. It will be remembered that last year the company made the announcement of price which was a decided reduction over the previous year and also announced that in case they sold 300,000 cars this year, the sum of fifty dollars would be returned to each purchaser. Recently one of the agents visited Mr. Ford and asked him concerning the promised rebate, to which the great manufacturer replied in a quiet way: "We shall sell the 300,000 cars in eleven months instead of twelve, a full month ahead of August 1, barring the totally unexpected, as we are now, from 50,000 to 75,000 behind orders and are sending out 1,800 cars a day. You may say that we shall pay back the sum of fifty dollars to each customer, barring the unforeseen, and you may say I authorized the statement." This means that fifteen million dollars will be returned to purchasers of Fords over the country, the deal being the most wonderful in modern business methods and accomplishments.

BRISK BIDDING

The purchasing committee was instructed upon motion to enter into contract with the Lorain Coal & Dock company for the city's supply of coal.

Among the different coal companies represented were: The Martin-Howe Coal Co., The Chesapeake & Ohio Coal & Coke Co., The Lorain Coal & Dock Co., The Commercial Coal Co., R. C. Tday Coal Co., Edmund A. Cole Coal Co., George Krudop Coal Co., Norfolk & Chesapeake Coal Co., Terre Haute Oil and Coal Co., Smokeless Fuel Co., W. F. Smith Co., Ohio & Michigan Coal Co., W. H. Warner Coal Co., Producers' Coal Co., W. J. Myers, The Carbon Fuel Co., Castner, Curran & Bullitt, M. A. Hanna Co., Houston Coal Co. and the New York Coal Co. The city will use approximately 5,000 tons a year.

The contract for hauling coal was awarded to John Coffee at the price of thirty cents per ton. Mr. Coffee was the only person having a bid on file.

The oil bids were then gone over and the contract awarded to the Standard Oil company. Among the different oil companies represented were the Wisconsin Oil Co., Erie Oil Co., Standard Oil Co., Vacuum Oil Co., and the Terre Haute Oil & Coal Co.

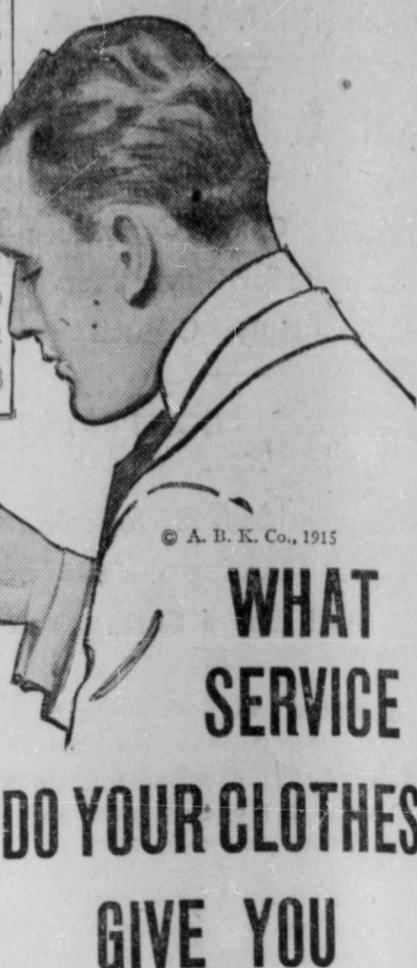

IS GIVEN PARDON.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 21—(Special to Daily Democrat)—Lizzie Storms, aged 73, was handed a handsome present today by Governor Ralston in the shape of a pardon for the crime of murder committed in Randolph county in 1893. Officials said she had not petitioned for pardon but that it was given that she might end her days without even a shadow of a parole over her. She was paroled in 1909 by Governor Marshall and has regularly reported each year since then. She and a man named Price killed Captain Brown, a servant of General Brown.
