William Allen White, the celebrated Progressive, who became famous years ago by his editorials on "What is the Matter with Kansas," has this bit of interesting comment on Indiana politics published in the July number of the Metropolitan Magazine:

"In Indiana, the Republican Party is in control of the Fairbanks machine. Mr. Fairbanks may conclude to be a presidential candidate. Jim Watson, who was best man at the Taft funeral in Chicago in 1912, has been shunted out of the race for senator by the good old standpat promise of something equally good, the something being the nomination for Vice-President after the boys have gone around the track a few exhibition heats with Mr. Fairbanks. Jim Goodrich, who has been a carburetor in the Fairbanks machine for years, is slated for governor, and Harry New is on the books for senator. The loaves and fishes are neatly but firmly wrapped in air-tight packages in Indiana, and the whole mess is sordid machine politics of the old type—harking back to the good old days of Hanna and McKinley, when Indiana furnished the back-bone of the Cuban postal scandals and Ohio furnished the brains. Today the politics of Ohio, Illinois and Indiana—the Republican politics—is reverting to type; the type being the sort of men who went to Cuba to loot, not the sort that went to Panama to serve. The Republicans of those states are advocating no forward-looking measures, are promising no alleviating program for the cure of unemployment, for the betterment of the environment of the poor; they are clamoring for a high tariff to fill the bellies and stop the mouths of the poor, while the politicians fatten on the jobs that come with Republican ascendancy, and the tariff beneficiaries filch pennies from the millions. It is a game to make the forty thives blush in shame at their moderation."

good bet that the Adams county farmers will do it. They know how.

"Swat the fly"—you see the signs every where you look, but are you doing it. If you don't kill the housefly, it may kill you or some of your loved ones. By spreading the germ of Typhoid fever, tuberculosis, infantile paralysis and other terrible diseases, the little fly has caused more deaths than the European war. Help put them out of this county. David A. Rice, well known Root township farmer, was given a pleasant surprise Saturday evening for his fifty-fourth birth anniversary at his home near Monmouth. The party was arranged by his daughter and the invitation list included Mr. Rice's brothers and sister, children and a very few others. A general good time was spent and refreshments of ice cream and cake were served. Those invited were Mr. and Mrs. John Rice, Mr. and Mrs. Ben P. Rice, Mr. and Mrs. James Rice, Mrs. M. F. Rice of this city, Mr. and Mrs. Jonas Cline, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Magley, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Fuhrman, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Rice and children.

Mrs. John Weber will entertain the Wednesday Five Hundred club Thursday afternoon instead of Wednesday.

Mrs. Reason Shaffer of Rural Route No. 10 entertained at dinner Monday July 5, Mrs. Sephus Melchi and son, Harold; Zelda Melchi and Mrs. Warren Hamerick. A good time was enjoyed by all. They departed late in the evening voting Mrs. Shaffer a royal entertainer.—Contributed by a subscriber.

An old-fashioned picnic dinner, in fact, an all-around good time, was enjoyed Sunday at the beautiful grove of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ellison, one mile west of Magley. Most all went to the Pleasant Valley M. E. church and listened to a very good sermon preached by Mr. August Schlickman. After the services all went to the grove and enjoyed themselves immensely by eating of the many good things brought by all. Those who enjoyed the day were Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Shady and baby, Cloice, of Ft. Wayne; Mr. and Mrs. Clem Yarger and children, of Decatur; Mr. and Mrs. August Schlickman and children, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Yarger, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Ball and daughter, Opal; Mr. and Mrs. Art Shady and children, Mr. and Mrs. Guy McBride and children, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ellison, Mr. and Mrs. Ira McBride and children, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Clowser and children, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Shady and daughter, Edna; Miss Edith Melholt, Miss Florence Melholt and Miss Edith Shady of Elkhart, Ind., who is visiting with her sister, Mrs. Elmer Bryan. Others who came in the afternoon were Grandma Peoples, John Barger and children, Dell Shady and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Noah Frauhiger of Bluffton, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Frauhiger, Mrs. Forest Manley and baby, Harvey Frauhiger, Miss Fanny Frauhiger and others, their names not known. There were sixty in all, and they declared it one of the "best times of their lives."

The Ruth Circle girls of the Christian church, with their teacher, Mrs. A. D. Artman, had a very fine meeting with Miss Stella David at her home on Seventh street last evening, twenty-two being in attendance. Miss Weldy, president, conducted the business meeting and several plans were discussed. The watermelon social for this week was postponed until after chautauqua on account of the cold weather. Plans for giving the annual Ruth Circle cantata or play were discussed and favor was expressed for the play instead of the cantata. This will be given under the direction of Miss Weldy. A circle picnic will be given Sunday afternoon after the chautauqua closes, and a grove near this city was selected. The Misses Eula McKinney, Dorothy Schultz, Josie Mumma, Fauchon Magley and Mrs. Olen Baker were named on the menu committee. The girls brought their sewing or crocheting with them and after the business, there was a social. The hostess was assisted by her mother, Mrs. Sol David, and her sisters, the Misses Hazel and Bertha David, in serving very tempting refreshments of ice cream and cake. The Misses Dorothy, Bertha and Emma Schultz will entertain in two weeks on Wednesday evening.

The Misses Stella Howard, Geraine Coffee, Marguerite and Irene Gerard and Messrs. Frank Braun, Leigh Chronister and Francis Schmidt motored to Bluffton where they had a six o'clock dinner Monday evening.

The Fleder-Duke camp at the interurban gravel pit was the scene of the happy entertainment of a company of visitors for the Fourth, Monday, Regular members of the camp were the W. H. Flederjohann family, Arnold Duke, Helen Stephenson, Fay Stuitts, C. W. B. M.—Mrs. William Weldy, Evangelical Aid—At Mrs. Howard Burdg.

The Zion's Lutheran Ladies' Aid society will meet Friday afternoon at the parochial school house on Eleventh street.

The Concord Leaders' class will meet Thursday evening with Raymond King.

The Evangelical Ladies' Aid society will meet with Mrs. Howard Burdg Thursday afternoon at her home on Mercer avenue.

Mrs. Fred Linn's Sunday school class of the Evangelical church will be entertained Thursday evening by Mrs. Fred Avery.

The Christian Woman's Board of Missions will meet Thursday afternoon at 2:30 with Mrs. William Weldy on First street.

Mrs. Sol David of Seventh street will entertain section two of the Christian Ladies' Aid society Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock by Mrs. Burt Mangold.

Section number one of the Christian Ladies' Aid society will be entertained Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock by Mrs. Burt Mangold.

The Sunday school class of the United Brethren church taught by Mrs. Chester Imler will meet Friday evening with Miss Rose Johnson south of the city.

With all the children of the Joe Rice family home for a reunion, the first in several years, a series of delightful entertainments have been in order. Mrs. Horace Callow entertained at dinner and supper yesterday for them. The dining room table was set for the following: Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rice, Mr. and Mrs. Lawis Rice, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rice, Canton, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rice, Marion. In the screened porch covers were laid at the small tables for the children, Mary and Stanley Callow, Eulalie and Frances Rice, Lucile and Joseph Rice. Pictures of the children were taken in the afternoon. These guests were entertained Monday by Mrs. Joe Rice and Thursday will be guests of Mrs. Lewis Rice.

RUM MUST GO

Atlantic City, July 7.—(Special to Daily Democrat)—"Rum will go out of the United States when votes for women come in" declared Mrs. Florence D. Richards, president of the Ohio W. C. T. U. at today's session of the national anti-saloon league. "The brewers see an avalanche coming and are getting out from under."

POLICE COURT

The trial of Harry Straub, arrested in the raid Saturday night on the Alfred Moser home by Night policeman Reynolds and Deputy Sheriff Jacobs, on the charge of gambling, which was to have been held last evening before Squire Kintz, was postponed until Thursday evening, the defendant giving as the reason that he could not get his witnesses before that time.

SIX MEN PLEAD GUILTY

Indianapolis, July 7.—(Special to Daily Democrat)—Six men jointly indicted with National Committeeman Taggart, Mayor Bell and more than one hundred other politicians pleaded guilty today to the charge of conspiracy to corrupt the 1914 Marion county registration, primary and election. A seventh man, Bernard Rickelman, of Terre Haute pleaded guilty to the charge of conspiracy in this county to corrupt the Terre Haute election, supplying the first definite link between the alleged Indianapolis conspiracy and the proved Terre Haute conspiracy. Those pleading guilty today, were: Nelson Hyde, Earl Clifford, John W. Lee, Robert Ford, Charles Gibbs and Edward O'Leary. Ford and Gibbs are negroes. Attorneys for Taggart and other prominent indicted men then filed a motion for a change of venue from Judge J. A. Collins. Judge Collins granted the motion. Within five days he will present five names from which opposing attorneys will choose a special judge. Collins was elected on the republican ticket in the election concerning which the leading democratic politicians were indicted.

INTERURBAN KILLS THREE.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 7.—(Special to Daily Democrat)—When the Winona Flyer on the interurban struck an automobile at Broad Ripple this afternoon, J. H. Lambert, the driver, was killed. Two others, believed to be Lambert's mother and sister, were also killed. The bodies were taken to the city morgue at Indianapolis, where an attempt was made to identify them positively. The body of the woman was cut into three pieces by the impact of the limited car. The body of the girl, said to be about nineteen years old, was thrown about 100 feet. The automobile was thrown about fifty feet. Nothing is known as to how the accident occurred. The interurban was entering the city, southbound and the auto was going east. Identification of Lambert was secured by the auto license number.

SUICIDE PACT SUSPECTED

Rushville, Ind., June 7.—(Special to Daily Democrat)—Orville Andrews, 23, and Mandy McElfresh, 20, were found dead early today in a shed on the outskirts of the city. They had bullet wounds in their heads and left breasts. The wounds were very similar. A suicide pact was suspected. It was believed Andrews shot the girl and then shot himself.

METHODIST PRAYER MEETING

The prayer meeting at the Methodist church this evening at 7:30 o'clock will be led by Mr. James Stults. A cordial welcome for all.

From My Narrow Little Window

By

THE HOOSIER OBSERVER
"IT'S ONLY A LITTLE BROOK"

Did you ever stop to think how much of life is influenced by childhood impressions? How many things that people fear in later life are due to false impressions made in childhood? Wordsworth says: What are fears but voices airy? Whispering harm where harm is not. And deluding the unwary. Till the fatal bolt is shot! Then, too, Butler says: There needs no other charm, nor conjurer, To raise infernal spirits up, but fear. That makes men pull their horns in. That's both a prisoner to itself and like a small, jail; Draws more fantastic shapes than in the grains Of knotted wood in some men's crazy brains. When all the cocks they see, and bulls, Are only in the insides of their skulls."

Since fears exist only in men's brains, how well it would be to start the little folks out in life with pleasant pictures in their minds instead of fear-breeding ones. I have seen people go through life, bowed down in fear and agony, cringing and cowering, just because they had never been able to get their minds free from the germs of fear implanted there in childhood by the thoughtless or ignorant. I am a sort of "faith-cure" when it comes to this. Fill your minds with pleasant things and you can't be afraid. Haven't you all tried the whistling and loud-singing stunt to drown out the brief stretches of fear that crowded upon you when you run upstairs in the dark after having turned out the lights—that fear that something, you didn't know what—was ready to grab you about the ankles? It worked pretty well, too, didn't it?

As far as death in itself, for me, personally, is concerned, I have never been afraid of it, and think I never shall—though of course that does not extend to my fear of losing dear friends by death. But for myself, I do not fear death. I think that this is the reason. My father was a teacher and of course tried to beautify his school room as much as possible. Among the ways he did so, was the purchasing of pictures from his private funds. These pictures he
