KELLASTONE STUCCO

Kellastone Stucco is the only genuine imported stucco that has stood the test for more than 100 years in the old countries, who by their many years of experience, learned the quality of each material, and the proper amount of each to use, just as experience has taught the American people the proper proportions of cement and gravel to make good concrete.

Then why buy Stucco that may not be properly proportioned, or properly mixed, and has not stood the test of many years, when you can buy the genuine article and run no chance, and one which is backed up by the people that have a reputation that is beyond question and financially responsible.

The KELLASTONE people are the original importers who have been distributing it in this country for many years, and WE can carry it in stock with finish in many different colors.

Kellastone is not affected by heat, cold, or moisture, can be used on brick or stone, or any kind of lath and can be used in zero weather as it is not affected by frost.

We will be pleased to ship you samples, and quote you prices on your requirements, or will name you a price on your job complete and furnish everything.
