POTATO FAMINE

Sends Spuds Up Ninety Cents in Two Days—May Go Higher.

THE RAILROAD STRIKE

Would Make Local Conditions Bad—City Dependent on Shipments.

With shortage of local supply, Michigan potatoes not yet ripe, and the town dependent on those shipped in from New Jersey, not only Decatur, but surrounding towns, are facing a potato famine that should be very grave if the railroad strike comes at this time.

None of the local grocers have a supply for more than three or four days, and there were none to be secured in Fort Wayne wholesale houses today.

On the local market potatoes raised yesterday from forty cents a peck to fifty cents, and this will be raised to sixty cents a peck soon. In Fort Wayne and Bluffton potatoes are selling today for sixty cents a peck, or $2.40 a bushel, having made the leap from $1.50 yesterday.

F. V. Mills, who visited in Columbus, Ohio, yesterday, stated that the same shortage of potatoes existed there, growers having a supply of not more than five days.

Local grocers have a supply of twelve bushels, more or less, each hand.

Wilson's signature when he returns from his notification Sunday.

The president went into the office of Chairman Newlands of the senate interstate commerce commission and went over the matter of the "strike prevention" bill which Newlands plans to introduce today. After approving this, he went immediately to his rooms off the senate chamber.

The president remained there less than an hour and conferred with only Senator Kern. Apparently satisfied with the outlook he left at 10:10 for the white house.

COURT HOUSE NEWS.

The Adams County Creamery Company formerly located corner of Jefferson & First streets, has filed suit against the Chicago & Erie R. R. Co., for $600 damages. They alleged that their $450 automobile truck on which $75 worth of cream, driven by Frank J. Distel, was struck by an Erie train at the Winchester crossing last November 30, and damaged. Further loss was occasioned by the expenditure of $15 for auto hire until the damaged one could be replaced. Allegation is made that the trainmen did not sound the alarm, that the watchman was negligent and that box cars obstructed the view of the road, but that Distel was careful and in no way to blame for the collision. Peterson & Moran are the plaintiff's attorneys.

Ethel Fuhrman and Electa Baltzell, assistants in the county auditor's office have completed a big three weeks job of making up the duplicate tax books for next year. The books have been sent to Indianapolis to be bound and on their return here, the job of figuring out the taxes will be in order.
