AND STILL

THEY COME:-

That Wilson's clear-headedness, courage and progressive tendencies would attract the independent minds of the country to his standard has been confidently expected. Now as the issues between the two presidential candidates, the men and the things they stand for, are being discussed and made clear the lining up begins. Besides the large number of progressive and independent leaders already in the Wilson ranks, in the last two weeks the following significant things have come to pass:

Thomas A. Edison comes out in a strong interview, approving Wilson's courage, wisdom and course of action and announces his support to him.

Robert Babson, Boston's famous statistician and financial expert, a life-long republican, comes over to Wilson. He is won to Wilson by Wilson's high conceptions and course in dealing with great national and international problems.

Luther Burbank, the world's most distinguished scientist in plant life and development, publicly announces adherence to Wilson, as "The greatest president America has ever had."

Miss Ida M. Tarbell, one of the foremost leaders of thought in America, whose history of the Standard Oil company was nothing less than epochal in its effect, announces her active support of Wilson. She said: "He is the first real progressive leader this decade has produced."

Miss Ella Flagg Young, superintendent of Chicago's schools for years, announces her support of Wilson and is actively at work for his re-election.

Mrs. Antionette Funk of Illinois, one of the most distinguished suffragettes in the nation, and a leading progressive, announces that she will support Wilson, "because I am a progressive," and because Wilson's record on the suffrage question is better than Hughes'.

The Springfield (Mass.) Republican, by many believed to be the most influential paper in the United States, a paper that during its existence of nearly a century has held an unwavering course of conscientious devotion to the right as it saw the right, arrays itself in the Wilson ranks.

The rejection by the National American Woman Suffrage convention at Atlantic City of Mrs. Raymond Robin's resolution in favor of Hughes, Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, the venerable pioneer leader, helping in its defeat.

Over two thousand of the working women of Chicago have formed the "Wilson Working Women's League," to work for the re-election of Wilson, because "He places human values above property values, the common people on a par with Big Business."

Be sure to register October 9th. If you don't you cannot vote November 7th. There is to be but one registration day this year and it is most important that you thus prevent yourself from becoming disfranchised.

John A. M. Adair will tour this county one week from Monday, making a number of speeches. The voters of Adams county know this man and know that he can and will make good in any office to which he is elected. You should hear him on the political issues of the day, Monday, October 2nd.

Republican papers are making an effort to make Candidate Hughes' trip over Indiana look like a wonderful success. They exaggerate every crowd, claiming that the enthusiasm is great and that people are wild for the judge. If his trip along eastern Indiana is any criterion, his reception throughout this state has been about as cold as could be imagined.

Have you an idea of what it is costing to operate that big pullman train which is carrying Candidate Hughes and his party over the country? It is the finest train in the country, equipped with every modern convenience, servants to spare and a luxurious outfit. Who do you suppose is paying the bill? Mr. Hughes is said to be a man in very ordinary circumstances and it is not at all likely that he is looking after this little expense. If the average working man had what it costs to operate that train one day he wouldn't need to worry about the rainy day.

Campaigning in the elegance in which Mr. Hughes is traveling ought not to be a very hard job. Few men have the luxurious quarters provided for the candidate and few people have as much care as being given him.
