Register Monday, October 9th if you want to vote November 7th.

Be sure to hear John A. M. Adair in one of his speeches in this county next Monday.

The important thing to do right now if you are interested in this campaign is to register Monday, October 9th.

If Indiana is safe for Hughes why send the candidate here for five days, which is double the time being devoted to any other state? The democrats have the state if they "ginger" up and hold it.

Register Monday, October 9th. It is necessary if you want to vote on November 7th. Every citizen should qualify and the way to do it is to register on October 9th. Every boy must register and there is but one day this year. Don't forget it. If you can't be in your precinct that day arrange to register by affidavit.

Hear John Adair next Monday. He will make a half dozen speeches in this county, closing with a night meeting in this city. He brings to you a truthful message of the big questions of this campaign. If you want to be posted in the important issues, you should hear this man who has represented you in congress for ten years past.

The republicans from stump and press are trying to convince themselves and the public that the republicans and progressives are together this year, but they somehow are not getting very far with their arguments. At the big democratic rally at Huntington Monday night, Mr. Abbott, an Erie engineer, presided and said in his speech that he would vote the democratic ticket this year for the first time in his life. On the same day Senator LaFollette of Wisconsin defended the Adamson law, a democratic measure, and praised President Wilson for his attitude towards labor, while Senator Cummins of Iowa upheld the child labor bill recently enacted, and Harry Garfield protested against the efforts of the republicans to inject the "North and South" question into this campaign. Add to these, Ford, Edison, and the hundreds of other great men who have taken a stand with the democrats and one is forced to wonder how the republicans can feel so enthusiastic as they claim and whether or not they really do.

MOST BEAUTIFUL FACE

Genevieve Hamper, long associated with Robert B. Mantell as leading woman, is seen in his support in the William Fox offering, "The Unfaithful Wife."

Miss Hamper is credited with having the most beautiful face of any actress. The lustre of her eyes, the radiance of her smile, the bloom of her cheek, the luxuriance of her hair—these are a few of the attributes that have brought her to the forefront as the possessor of the most beautiful face extant. And yet these are not the sole reasons for her recognition as one of the most popular of actresses.

Miss Hamper, be it known, is the possessor of talent as well as beauty, and she has many dramatic triumphs to her credit. Among her most successful roles have been "Juliet," "Prince Arthur," "Cordelia," "Ophelia," "Desdemona," and "Julie de Mortimer." At the Crystal tonight, 5 and 10 cents.
