Voters of Adams county should register next Monday. If you don't you can't vote. Every one must register either by affidavit or in person and there is no backing up. In other counties this is not necessary, but here you must register whether you have done so before or not. Don't overlook it or you lose your vote.

Register Monday and see that your neighbor does.

Young voters are urged to attend the meeting at headquarters, Wednesday night when a Young Voters' club is to be organized by Fred Schurger, the county chairman.

Are you for peace and prosperity? Are you for an administration that has given the people the greatest amount of good legislation ever given them? Then be a four-square man and vote for Wilson and Marshall.

Roosevelt thinks this government ought to be more firm with the various nations of the world. Do you realize what this means? Do you realize that the republican spell binds.

ers are advocating a change of the present foreign policy and that a change is dangerous?

The most important duty of every voter just now is to register and to have his neighbor register. Unless you do you cannot vote in November. Don't put off this duty, and it is a duty that you owe to yourself, your neighbor, your county, your state and your nation. Be sure to register.

Every young voter in Adams county is invited and urged to attend the organization meeting of the Young Voters' club of Adams county, to be held at the Democratic Headquarters in this city tomorrow evening. The young voters can be a force in this campaign and they ought to be. Come to this meeting and help elect the officers and complete the plans.

All other questions sink into insignificance when one thinks that a change of the present foreign policy may bring war. Would you sacrifice your son to satisfy the whim of some multi-millionaire who has invested in Mexico, and now wants his property protected by the young men of this country?

As Mr. Adair says no one knows what information Mr. Wilson had that caused him to act on the various questions, but we know that what he did resulted in peace. Would you turn out of power the party that has given you peace and prosperity? We believe that Mr. Wilson will be re-elected by the largest popular vote ever given any candidate for president of the United States.

Congressman Adair is the same old campaigner and he will win as easily in the state as he did in the Eighth district for five consecutive campaigns. He gets to the voters in a way that wins their confidence and tells the truth. He spoke yesterday to several thousand voters over Adams county and his message made many votes. He has spoken in 227 towns and cities in the past six weeks and he brings the message that democracy will win in the battle of ballots.

"What do you want a change of administration for?" is the question asked by John A. M. Adair and it is one that every voter may well consider. "Do you want peace changed to war? Do you want the price of wheat and corn and oats and hogs changed to what they were four years ago? Do you want the banking law changed so that Wall street will again control and can create a panic that will bring ruin to you and millions of others any time they wish it? What do you want that the democrats haven't given you? I want some one to tell me."

Wifdom is oft times nearer when we stoop than when we soar.—Wordsworth.

Miss Gladys Jones has returned to Monroeville after a several day's visit here with Miss Esther Enos.

The Concord Lutheran Ladies' Aid society will meet Thursday afternoon instead of the regular time, Wednesday, with Mrs. C. C. Wilder at Monmouth.

The Woman's Home Missionary society of the Methodist church will meet Thursday afternoon at 2:30 p.m. with Mrs. M. F. Rice, corner of Fourth and Jackson streets. Mrs. R. D. Myers will be leader of the lesson study. A special invitation is extended to the Queen Esthers.

Miss Eva Aughenbaugh entertained the Sororit bunch last evening at a dinner party. The affair was to have been a farewell for Miss Grace Garrard, but the guest of honor was obliged to leave yesterday noon for Fort Wayne, her future home, hence she was not present. Guests were Vera Eady, Doris DeVoss, Vivian Burk, Mary Moses, Mary Fuhrman, Leone Peterson and Anita Swarengen.

Miss Agnes Gillig was hostess last evening to the Ruth Circle, Miss Mildred Strode also being a guest. Miss Florence Lichtensteiger presided at the business session, which was preceded by a song and prayer in the devotional. Arrangements were made for a penny social to be given in the old laundry building on Hallowe'en. It was decided henceforth to meet on Monday evenings, as Wednesday, the former night, has been adopted by the church again as the prayer service night. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess. The circle will meet in two weeks with Fanion and Jessie Magley.

Miss Mary Wiseley of Agra, Oklahoma, will arrive the latter part of the week for a visit with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Andrews. She will spend the winter here. This is Miss Wiseley's trip east, she having been born in Oklahoma.

Miss Frances Baker who will be married Saturday to Joe Hunter, is a much feted bride of this week, many showers having been planned for her in the short time intervening between her announcement and wedding. This evening, Miss Grace Bennett of Fort Wayne will give a theater party for her. Those from here who will also go are Mrs. Charles Brodbeck, Misses Kittie Fought and Mildred LaDelle. A number of Fort Wayne friends will also be included in the party. Wednesday evening the telephone girls and Good Times Club will give a joint shower at the home of Miss Goldie Gay: Thursday evening, Mrs. Ralph Miller and Mrs. Leland Frank will give a grocery shower for her at the home of Mrs. Miller.

The Zion Lutheran Ladies' Aid society will hold an all day quilting at the schoolhouse Friday. Mrs. L. Bultemeier will serve the dinner.

The excellent program as announced was given at the home of Mrs. Jessie Deam yesterday afternoon by the Presbyterian Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary society with eighteen in attendance. It was decided to form a mission study class.

The initial study meeting of the Research club after its long vacation was an excellent one at the home of Mrs. C. D. Lewton yesterday. Mrs. D. B. Erwin had a fine paper in "Historic American Homes." Mrs. O. L. Vance will be hostess next week and Mrs. Fred Heuer will be leader.

The six o'clock luncheon given last evening by Mrs. C. V. Connell and daughter, Marie for Mrs. Herman Ehinger a recent bride, was a lovely affair, being a "butterfly luncheon."

The varied colors of butterflies, with their charming poising effects, predominated in the decorations of the rooms and of the tables. Six little tables were set for the luncheon. The table for the guest of honor had a centerpiece of bitter sweet and her chair was designated by a large moline butterfly. Place cards and napkins were decorated prettily with butterflies. After the luncheon a call at the door came for Mrs. Ehinger.

and she was presented a box securely nailed. This was finally opened by her and the contents proved to be a fine collection of jellies and jams, cards thereon explaining that each guest had given her best glass of the confection to begin the stocking of jelly closet for the new home. Guests were the Delta Theta Tau girls with a number of other friends including young matrons. At the five hundred games prizes were won by Mrs. Lawrence Kleinhenz and Miss Matilda Bering.

Twenty-five of the friends of Miss Frances Baker bride-elect were entertained at a shower given for her at the home of Mrs. Elgin King last evening by Mrs. Charles Brodbeck, Mrs. Charles Miller and Mrs. King. Little tables accommodated the players for progressive hearts, in which a box of community silver tea spoons, won by Mrs. Ed Ahr, as first prize and the booby by Miss Kittie Fought, were presented to the guest of honor. A "fruitful romance," a story in which blanks were filled with the names of fruits, was very entertaining. A fine aluminum pan won by Miss Lily Ven is for the first prize and the booby by Miss Ericie Butler were turned over to the bride elect. Clearing the tables after the games, a fine two course luncheon consisting of hot buttered rolls, veal loaf, potato salad, pickles, coffee, ice cream and nabiscoes was provided, pink and white being the colors. Especial mention should be made of the decorations which were charming. The parlors, living rooms and hall of the King home, thrown together, were festooned with strands of pink and white. Banks of golden rod, red sunnac foliage potted plants; and vases filled with the lovely pink and white carnations; lights hooded with caps of pink and white, all added beauty to the scene. In the diningroom, where the shower was given, yellow and white prevailed in the decorations. Candles were in yellow hooded candelabra, and the chandelier over the center of the dining table, hooded in yellow, was the point from which yellow and white streamers were brought down to the sides of the tables and caught with bitter sweet, forming a dome under which the presents were laid. Cut glass, aluminum, silver ware, linens, chafing and many other things attest to Miss Baker's popularity. Miss Miller, of Van Wert, O., who is Mrs. Ralph Miller's guest, was among the number present.

The Historical club will meet with Mrs. John Myers Wednesday afternoon at 2:30.

dollars in the state treasury, and did not raise the tax levy to do it, but reduced it from nine to seven cents. Thinking voters who appreciate the big things in administration affairs will think long over this showing before becoming dissatisfied. A government that can pay nearly a two million debt, and save more than two million dollars, reducing the tax levy from nine to seven cents in the meantime, is a good government; it's a good thing to have.

Speech at Preble.

At Preble, the last leg of the tour of the county, County Chairman Henry B. Heller introduced Mr. Adair. Mr. Adair spoke from the rear of an automobile to a crowd of two hundred voters. Talking to voters in a precinct that two years ago gave him every vote, ninety-nine, Mr. Adair felt right at home. The crowd made him feel at home. They were anxious to show the candidate that they intended to pile up another hundred per cent vote for him next November.

OBITUARY.

William Noah, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Merica, was born in Muncie, Ind., Aug. 8, and died September 20, 1916, aged six weeks. He leaves to mourn their loss, father, mother, two brothers and five sisters, an aged grandmother, several uncles and aunts; one brother having preceded him in death.

We have lost our darling baby, He has bid us all adieu; He has gone to live in heaven, And his form is lost to view. Oh, that dear one, how we loved him Oh, how hard to give him up! But an angel came down for him, And removed him from our flock.

NOTICE, CO-WORKERS.

The regular monthly business meeting of the Co-workers will be held in the church parlors this evening at 8 o'clock. Let every member be there.

CHAPLIN'S NEWEST

COMEDY A SCREAM.

It is well known that Mr. Chaplin is a person of the most extreme sobriety, but "One A. M." leads one to the belief that some time in his life Mr. Chaplin has observed some body who drank. The writer has it on the authority of a number of persons who ought to know, that Mr. Chaplin can delineate with accuracy that rare and exotic state of mind and anybody known to science as "The Stew," and variously otherwise termed "a skate," "spiffed," "hard-boiled," "pickled," "ossified," "oriental," "confused" or "dazed." Those familiar with this glorified condition offer every assurance that Mr. Chaplin is historically correct. The writer while naturally conservative, is inclined to accept the opinion of experts. The story of "One A. M." is exquisitely funny, but when combined with the art of the comedy star it becomes a continuous laugh. See it at the Rex.

FOR BIBLE STUDY

A class for the study of the Bible and for teachers' training was organized at the M. E. church last evening with about forty members. O. L. Vance is the teacher; Mel J. Butler, president; and E. B. Lenhart, secretary and treasurer. The class will meet every Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The study is a four year course and certificates of graduation will be issued.
