WANTED—To clean your wall paper, carpets, and stoves, white wash out houses, cellars, etc.—J. C. Coverdale, Phone 210. 145ft.

How to Regulate High Blood Pressure.

Take San Yak. It prevents a boney like hardening of the arteries at ages past 50 years. Dr. Burnham's San Yak is the sure way to prevent Paralysis and Apoplexy. In its use you have prevented or cured bladder and kidney trouble. It is the greatest in use to prevent the clumsy stiff joints and muscles and for Neuritis or Rheumatism and Constipation. It has no parallel for quality and results.

HIRAM SHOWALTER

of Angola, Ind.
I suffered greatly for several years with bladder weakness and I am willing for the public good to let any one know that eight bottles of San Yak cured me. I find that a dose at times keeps my muscles from getting stiff and clumsy, and I surely feel fine.

J. B. WARDEN

of Angola, Ind.
Has this to say of San Yak: I have been troubled several years with bad heart and stomach trouble. San Yak has squared me away and I believe it would do the same for others if they would try it. I surely feel fine.

GEO. SLACK

of Angola, Ind.
Says this for San Yak: I have had kidney trouble and rheumatism for six years. San Yak squared me away, and I can work without fatigue or the all in symptoms. I surely can boost for San Yak.

E. L. THOMAS

of Angola, Ind.
Says of San Yak: I was surely bad off for several years with bladder and kidney weakness. I had tried doctors and medicines so much I had no faith in anybody. I was persuaded to try San Yak and let me tell you it is the right stuff for kidney and bladder trouble.

JOHN BAKER AND WIFE

of Laketon, Ind.
Say. We are very old people and have been badly afflicted, and in trying out the San Yak we have found it to be a fine tonic and a wonderful regulator for the bowels and stomach.

F. H. LAMB

Proprietor Lamb Hotel,
Antwerp, Ohio.
I suffered the tortures from tuberculosis of the bowels eleven years with shattered nerves and no health. Three bottles of San Yak cured me two years ago, and you are free to use this letter for the benefit it may be to others.

DORY KING,

of North Manchester, Ind.
Says of San Yak: I wish I had the time to go and recommend San Yak to all who have stomach trouble. San Yak is a world beater for the stomach. We can tell you of more cures in Decatur. Sold by SMITH, YAGER & FALK

ELKS WILL MEET

THE FOURTH ESTATE

News—not in its concrete form, but in all its many phases—is the keynote of "The Fourth Estate," a William Fox photoplay starring Samuel J. Ryan, Reth Blair and Clifford Bruce. The play reeks of news, and "reels" is used intentionally in defiance of any existing law of fiction. No lesser word would do. The production does not savor of news, nor teem with news, nor hinge on news. It reeks with news—news and the multiple agencies employed in its collection, publication and distribution.

Few newspaper photoplays have met success because of their glaring infidelity to actual conditions. "The Fourth Estate" however has been purged of inconsistencies. Its scenes were made in the offices and the mechanical departments of the Chicago Herald, and the atmosphere of newspaperdom—that mysterious 1916—known realm in which thousands labor that millions may know the daily entries in the world's diary—has been faithfully recorded.

No other profession or industry—call it which you will—has so many diversified types as newspaper making. No other vocation so completely humanizes its workers, those super-emergent men and women whose sole purpose in life is to emancipate from chaos the news of the day. All of these types are portrayed in "The Fourth Estate."

It brings one face to face with conscienceless copy readers, adjective-oozing sob sisters, murderous-hearted city editors, haughty copy boys, stoop-shouldered make-up men, facile-penned rewrite men, and alert reporters, besides the many other types found in the news and the mechanical ends of the huge, present-day paper. In five spectacular reels at the Crystal tonight; five and ten cents.

We Want a Business Man

A business man who has selling ability. The man we want may be in the automobile business now; he may be in some other business; he may be a farmer; he may be retired.

Whoever he is or whatever may be his occupation, we want him if he can fulfill the conditions of our proposal.

We are in search of a real, live, wide-awake man, who has had business training, who has some capital, who can sell Maxwell Motor Cars.

We are represented in almost 3000 of the leading cities and towns of the United States, and our dealers are prosperous and happy.

They should be, and will continue to be, for the Maxwell Car is the unquestioned leader of its class.

It is a car for which there is a nation-wide and growing demand—because it represents more real value, dollar for dollar, than any other car in the world.

We have no dealer in this locality. We want one immediately. Our representative will call and explain the details of a very attractive proposition.

Anyone interested should inquire at once.
